

Veterinarians and Stockmen

May differ on some things, but they are agreed that Carnefac Stock Food is the best and cheapest tonic on the market. Dr. Bonsteele, V.S., of Frankford, writes us that he has been using it with good success on his farm for HORSES and CALVES.

Thousands are now preparing their animals for exhibition with Carnefac. They will be the winners.

FIRE PROOF BUILDINGS

are rented far more quickly than others. Besides the insurance premium is brought down to the lowest possible figure.

Metal ceilings and wall decorations render the interior of your building fire-proof. They also add a beauty and attractiveness which wood and plaster fail to give.

The expense and annoyance of constant repairing is done away with. Our catalogue will interest you. It's yours for the asking.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

KEEPING ENSILAGE.

I have about 25 tons of corn ensilage that I did not feed last winter. Now, I wish to know if I can, after cleaning off top perfectly clean, put my new ensilage on top of the old, and have them both open up in good shape to feed next winter? F. C. C.

Ans.—Yes, but if the pasture becomes dry and short, feed as much ensilage as the stock will eat this summer.

REMOVAL OF FARM CHATTELS.

1. A sold his farm to B last spring. Can B forbid A taking away lumber that had been used in an old barn and taken out over one year ago?

2. Can B forbid A taking away cedar posts that he had cut and drawn out of bush before farm was sold?

Nothing was said about these things in the agreement.

Ont. OLD SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—1 and 2. No.

MOVING APPLE TREES.

Would it be possible to move apple trees that were set out three years ago, and when would be the proper time to do it? Would be willing to lose 50 per cent. D. W. M.

Ans.—Yes; do it in the spring before growth starts. Raise considerable earth with the root; carry on a stone boat, handle carefully, so as not to start the bark; set in good soil, and there should be very little interruption of work.

WINDMILLS—TARES.

1. Would a barn, fifty feet long and thirty feet wide, be strong enough to support one of these windmills I see advertised in the "Farmer's Advocate," also if any of those companies have men in Quebec to erect them?

2. When is the best time to sow tares, and how much to the acre?

Ans.—1. Yes, assuming that it is a well-constructed building. Write some of the companies whose advertisement you see in this paper.

2. If you want them for feed, sow in early spring with peas and oats—about one-half bushel of tares, one of peas, and one and a half of oats. If for a cover crop in an orchard, sow about a half bushel of tares with a bushel of peas, and from eight to twelve pounds of mammoth or crimson clover.

BOOKS FOR BEGINNER.

Would you inform me what books on agriculture generally you consider it would be best for a beginner to study, together with price of such? I believe you publish, or at least sell books of this description. J. P.

Ans.—For one who wants to become acquainted with practical work in all branches of Canadian farming, we would suggest "Successful Farming," Rennie ($1.50). Then there are books on different subjects. On dairying, "Canadian Dairying," Dean ($1.00); on fruit-growing, "The Principles of Fruit-growing," Bailey ($1.25); on stock, "The Study of Breeds," Shaw ($1.50); on poultry, "Poultry Craft," Robinson ($2.00). At first we would recommend you to read Rennie, then with experience in work on a farm you would know which of the books mentioned above would treat of subjects most to your taste.

AN UNSATISFACTORY RAM.

On Nov. 1st, last, I bought a Shropshire ram lamb, registered. I paid, when bought, a high price. I did not bring the ram home until Nov. 15th. He was put in the barn the first night, and in the morning turned loose with the sheep. I found he did not act like other rams, and by watching him for a day or two found he was no good. I allowed him to run with the sheep all winter to see if any lambs would come. During this time, he was well fed on grain. I let him run until June, but there were no lambs. I then examined him, and found him to be no good. Kindly let me know through your paper if I can collect damages: 1st, For ram being spoiled before I got him; 2nd, for the sheep because this caused them to have no lambs? J. F. G.

Ans.—We cannot see that you are in a position to successfully bring and maintain an action for damages.

Are You in the Rush and Bustle?

While we join in the rush and bustle of this busy world, overtaking our energies and racking our systems, many of us are morally culpable of reckless disregard of bodily strength and fitness. Then perhaps the health breaks down, and we seem doomed to long periods of pain and depression. Our whole life is darkened.
