Occupation of R of Gene

Occupation of R of Gene
Strike of Motor Drivers is Still on and Threatens to Spread
IS NO IMPROVEMENT
Strikers Infringe Upon Defense of Realm Act by Their Course
JOSEPH CHOATE DEAD
By Courier Local Staff.
London, May 15.—Only about 30 motor buses were running in the whole of the Metropolitan area Monday, and the situation last night showed no signs of growing better. The union of licensed vehicle workers, which called the strike, says the managers of the tramways and subways, which are part of the committee controlling the bulk of London's traffic, yesterday put tram cars into service for the purpose of checking the strikers.
Action was taken at a late hour last night by the chief commissioner of police. After the union secretary's statement had been issued, the commissioner issued a public warning that it was an offense under the Defense of the Realm Act for any body employed in the public conveyance service to cause the cessation or curtailment of the tramway or omnibus services used by munition workers. As these services are the chief means of conveyance for the workers in the whole of the Metropolitan, and the workers yesterday were the chief sufferers as a result of the strike, it is considered possible that the police may have resorted to a trump card in the situation.
New York, May 15.—The sudden death last night of Joseph Hodges Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain, and lawyer of international fame, was due to heart disease, he complained yesterday morning of feeling depressed, and his physician ordered him to remain in bed. About 10:30 o'clock last night, he called his wife and daughter, Miss Mabel Choate, to his bedside. According to Miss Choate, he said: "I am feeling very ill. I think this is the end." He died a few moments later.
Notwithstanding his advanced years, Mr. Choate took an active part in the French and British war commissions in New York. He was chairman of the reception committee that met both the British and the French on Friday for Mr. Balfour and the British commission. Mayor Mitchell referred to Mr. Choate as "the foremost citizen of New York" at the banquet on Friday night for the British and French commissions. Mr. Choate was one of the speakers, and on Saturday evening he entertained with a small dinner at his home for Mr. Balfour. Mr. Choate was a personal friend of the British foreign secretary, and they saw much of each other during the stay of the British commission in New York.
Mr. Choate was born in Salem, Mass., January 24, 1852. He was graduated from Harvard in 1872, and two years later from the law school of that institution. In his long and distinguished career he received honorary degrees from many seats of learning, notably his alma mater, Amherst, Oxford, Cambridge, and Edinburgh, Yale and St. Andrews and McGill Universities.
