THE PAPER MOON.

The moon like a paper lantern Is lifted over the hill, And below in the silent valley

Wondrous and frail it rises Over the painted firs, While down in the piney stillness Only the river stirs;

Lulling its peaceful orchards -Murmurs the meadowy/stream, Threading the purple landscape Like a silver road in a dream.

And I fancy the great Allmother Is wandering, lamp in hand, Distilling the night's enchantment From her blue garden land;

Where a thousand Junes have perish-To make one perfect rose, thousand beauties taken
The journey no man knows;

Where a thousand perfect lovers Have smiled and gone to sleep, With only a kiss to remember, And only a rose to keep.

O great mysterious Mother, In whose calm face we smile, Swing slow thy paper lantern, Stay not our joys a while!

WILL BE QUITE A JOB

The Grand Trunk Going to Renumber All its Rolling Stock.

The Grand Trunk Railway anthorities are engaged at the present time in work that is considered a very difficult one by railroad men of other roads. It involves the renumbering of every piece of rolling stock, except locomotives, on the entire system, and will cost thousands of dollars. It is said that since the organization of the G. T. R. no definite rule has been followed in the numbering of its equipment. The new man-agement have decided on having this done, the re-numbering being according to class, length and capacity. The following is an explanatory table:— 1 to 2.999

NEW CABLE LINE.

Directly Between Canada and Germany-It is now Open.

Montreal, Sept. 1 .- The new direct cable to Germany, in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway telegraph and commercial cable companies, opened to-day. Messages to be forwarded by the new German cable will be received to-day and will be transmitted in the order filed. This new cable line is laid from New York to Fayal, Azores, and from Fayal to rect cable route to Germany and the only one in direct connection and com-munication with the telegraph lines of Germany. The cables are of the best construction and are duplexed and operated automatically. Cable-grams for Germany should be filed with the Canadian Pacific telegraph, and ordered "via Azores-Emden."

A Well Trained Boy Mr. Goodfather had brought uf his on according to the good old model which teaches that children shall be seen and not heard, say "Yes, sir," and "No, sir," and respect their elders. When Johnnie went to college he arranged with his father that on his arrival there, if he found everything satisfactory, he would telegraph "Yes." When the telegram arrived the busy The Best is the Cheapest | father had forgotten what "Yes" referred to, so he wired back, "Yes, what?" and Johnnie answered, "Yes, sir."

The Athletic Girl.

The athletic girl is apt to be influential, to have power-and most of us like this-and when she expresses an spinion she is generally listened to with respect. A sound mind in a sound body is the superlative of attraction, and this a girl may and should possess. For most girls, as for many older women too, it is well to strive for the rounded life, the life of symmetry, the life which is not unduly developed in one direction at the expense of another.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Phonograph Will.

A wealthy engineer recently talked his last will and testament into a phonograph. Then with a hot copper wire he signed his name on the wax roll of the phonograph, the witnesses doing likewise, and the "document" was thereupon completed.

Don't Give Brandy.

The moral effect of early acquaintance with scientific truth is illustrated by a little story which the Rev. Dr. Plumb tells in The Boston Tran-

A millionaire brewer, a Senator in another State, said to Mrs. Hunt, "I shall vote for your bill. I have sold out my brewery, and am clean from the whole business. Let me tell you what occurred at my table. A guest was taken dangerously ill at dinner-insensible-and there was call for brandy to restore him. My little boy at once exclaimed, that is just what he don't need! It will paralyze the nerves and muscles of the blood-vessels so they will not send back the blood to the heart. When the liquor was poured to give the man, the lad insisted on pushing it back. You will kill him; he has too much blood in his head already " 'How did you know all that?' his father afterward asked.

Why, it is in my physiology at school. It seems the text-books prepared by such men as Prof. Newell Martin, F. R.S., of Johns Hopkins University, had succeeded in giving the lad some definite information which was proving useful. 'Senator,' said Mrs. Hunt, 'are you sorry your boy learned that at school?'

his hand, "I would not take five thousand dollars for the assurance this gives me that my boy will never be a drunkard.

Modest Request.

A strong case of "building better than he knew" is thus narrated by Tit-Bits

It had been the custom in a certain establishment to pay the workers fortnightly. This the workmen found inconvenient, and it was decided to send a delegate to the head of the firm to state their grievance. An Irshman, named Dan D., famed for his sagacity and persuasive powers, was selected for the task. He duly waited on the master, who addressed him thus:
"Well, Daniel, what can we do for you this morning?"

"If ye please, sir, I've bin sint as a diligate by the workers to ask a favor of ye regardin the paymint of our wages." Yes, and what do you desire?"

queried the master Well, sir, it is the desire of mesilf, and it is also the desire of ivery man in the establishment, that we receive our' fortnight's pay every Light at Buffalo Exposition.

Electricity will have a prominent place at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, and the background of the electrical display will be a tower 375 feet high and 80 feet square at the base, which is now beng built after plans by John G. Howard of New York.

The tower will stand near the centre of the exposition grounds, the highly decorated and brilliantly lighted shaft will be plainly visible from all parts of the grounds, and will be the central feature of the gorgeous electrical exhibitions which are to take place in the space be-tween the two pavilions.—Buffalo

The Chipmunk at His Toilet. The chipmunk is industrious in all weathers, except the very rainy, although he is rather shy on a very windy day. The rustling and wav-ing branches make him wary. He eats sitting on his haunches, and holding his food in his forepaws. He drinks by lapping like a dog. He is very neat about his person, comb-ing out his fur and his long tail with paws and teeth. He washes his face by lapping his forepaws and then rubbing them both at the same time over his face with such speed that the eye can hardly follow his motions.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Redeeming Time.

Dean Swift, when he claimed the degree of A.B., was so deficient as to obtain it only by "special favor," a term used to denote lack of merit. Of this disgrace he was so ashamed that he resolved to study eight hours a day, and he continued this indus-try for seven years, with what improvement is sufficiently known. This part of his history deserves to be remembered: it may, says a commenta-tor, afford useful admonition to young men, who having lost one part of life in idleness and pleasure, are tempted to throw away the remainder of it.

Language.

In its beginning a language is pure like spring water. It can be drunk from the well—that is to say, from popular speech. But as the spring trickles into a rivulet and then into a river it has to be filtered, and af-ter long use the language has to be filtered too. The filter is the personal taste of the writer. We call the filter "style."—George Moore in London Times

The British navy has control of no less than sixty-two docks for its ships, of which sixty-one are of stone and one is of wood. All of the wooden docks with which the United States is provided are in need of extensive repairs, and it is only a question of time when these wooden structures must be replaced with stone.

Fancy two plants being so unfriendly that the mere neighborhood of one is death to the other! Yet this is the case with two well-known British plants. These are the thistle and the rape. If a field is infected with thistles, which come up year after year and uin the crops all is to sow it with rape. The thistles
