

REASON NO 17 WHY YOU SHOULD USE Red Rose Tea

Because it is composed of both Indian and Ceylon teas.

The tea bush is indigenous to Assam in Northern India, and botanists are of the opinion that it is the parent species of all the cultivated varieties in India, Ceylon, China and elsewhere. In a wild state, it grows to a height of fifteen to twenty feet, but the cultivated shrub is only three to four feet high.

Assam being the natural home of the tea bush, it is not surprising that this and other districts in Northern India produce the richest, most pungent teas grown in the world—teas that command higher prices than even the finest Ceylons; but Ceylon teas are very flavory and fragrant, and seem to be specially made to blend with the richer, more syrupy tea of India. When combined, the Ceylons give point and piquancy to the liquor; the Indians, richness and strength.

The distinctive characteristic of Red Rose Tea, that rich, fruity flavor, is obtained by blending these fine Indians and Ceylons; and another very important feature of Red Rose Tea, viz., its uniformity of flavor all the year round, is secured the same way, something not possible to obtain where Ceylon or Indian teas are used alone.

The Blue Label is recommended, and unless you like very strong tea, use only three-quarters as much for a drawing as you use of other teas.

Hon. Mr. Tweedie and Hon. Mr. Pugsley Interview G. T. P. Commission

Hon. L. J. Tweedie and Hon. William Pugsley returned to day after a trip to Ottawa. When asked by a Globe reporter whether or not the report was true that stated that he and the Attorney General had gone to Ottawa to discuss the provincial subsidies question with the premier of Nova Scotia, Mr. Tweedie replied in the negative. He said, however, that the real object of the trip was that he and Dr. Pugsley might meet the members of the Grand Trunk railway commission. This object was accomplished, and an exhaustive discussion of the question of the best method of protecting the New Brunswick forests along the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific under the act recently passed took place. It was decided that a number of men shall be placed along the route of the railroad throughout the province to see that no damage is done to the forests by fire, etc. As yet it is, of course, impossible to say how many men will be employed in this way or just where their work will commence.

HARD ON THE CAT.

Have you ever seen a cat get mixed up with a sheet of sticky fly paper? If not you have missed one of the real sights of this life. The terrified, jumping, spitting, mewling, creature presents a most ludicrous spectacle to all onlookers and causes an immense amount of laughter and fun, but when the frantic and maddened pet becomes almost smothered by the sticky stuff and the and the damage to carpets, curtains, etc., etc., begin to be realized, the housewife fails to appreciate the funny side of the episode, and then and there decides that in future she will use only Wilson's Fly Pads, which are three hundred times more effectual and cannot damage carpets or furniture. All druggists and storekeepers sell Wilson's Fly Pads. Avoid worthless imitations.

Local and Personal

A pair of horses belonging to Mr. P. Wilbur took fright in the village on Thursday and dashed across the bridge. Through the bravery of Mr. Henry White a child's life was saved. Seeing the horses coming, he made a desperate effort and caught the young child from beneath the horse's feet. Only a year ago Mr. White's son, Harold, seeing a child fall over the railing of the bridge, jumped after her and saved her life.

I think most of our people are through with what they call house cleaning. Now down the shades must come and the shutters closed tight, for fear a gleam of sunshine will come through. What a mistake that is! If I had a motto to give to the world I would say "keep in the sunshine" let it flood your rooms with its brightness. What difference about the carpet fading, one can buy a new one with the money paid to a doctor to restore the health lost through the dampness of the house that the sun is excluded from.

THE FARMER'S REALM. Practical Suggestions For The Improvement of The Farm.

A great deal of misunderstanding having arisen concerning the objects of the Imperial Government in sending officers to this country to purchase horses, or rather to see if horses suitable for the British Army can be purchased, the following short summary of the position should prove of value. This statement may be regarded as absolutely correct and authoritative.

First and foremost, the demands of the British Army in peace time can be easily met within the four corners of the United Kingdom. That demand is not large, and may be taken as a normal one of 2,500 horses annually, rising in certain years to possibly 3,500 of all kinds and classes.

There is an idea abroad, and certain Ministers and statesmen in this country have brought it forward and may be considered responsible for it, that if the Imperial Government will purchase annually a fixed number of horses, say from 300 to 500, in Canada, a great stimulus will be given to horse breeding generally, and to breeding of the military type of horse in particular. Falling in with this idea, the Imperial authorities are anxious to put it to the test and, for reasons of their own, they fully recognize the advantage that will accrue to the Empire from the opening up of a large and limitless market that can be drawn upon to meet the immense demand that will be created in time of war. The real question that has now to be answered by the practical experiment of purchase during the next few months, is, can suitable horses be procured, and at an average price that will, when the horses are landed in England, favorably compare with that paid for remounts throughout Great Britain and Ireland?

The average price paid in England is an open secret: it is £40, or say $200. The cost of freight and insurance will certainly not exceed another $50, leaving $150, or possibly slightly more, to be paid for the animals selected on the spot. A higher price can be paid for horses of special colour and type such as horses suitable for officer's chargers and household cavalry. It is therefore obvious that Canada is on its trial as to its ability to supply a suitable horse for army purposes.

It is, further, of more importance to Canada than to any else that, as the horses purchased will be regarded in England as well as in this country, as typical, it will be in every way a great misfortune if those sent home are of a class and quality that will engender a belief that the Canadian horse is of an inferior type. Such a belief will probably do more harm to Canadian horse breeding and the reputation of Canadian horses than anything else.

Two classes of horses are to be sought.

1st. Riding horses, fit for heavy and light cavalry from say 15 to 15½ hands.

2nd. Draught horses, fit for being driven postilion, with horse and field artillery. The latter must be less than 1250 lbs. 15.2 to 15.3½ hands in height, strong, active, and with good shoulders to enable them to move fast, and even to gallop, when required: the age should be from 4 to 6 years. In all cases the British Government require horses with short backs, good shoulders, plenty of bone and distinct evidence of quality.

In the case of riding horses, those with an near cross of the thoroughbred are most likely to take the eye of the inspecting officers.

The British Remount Officers are in possession of detailed specifications, showing the exact type and qualifications of the horses required.

Poor Editor.

Editing a newspaper is a nice thing. If we publish jokes, people say we are rattle-brained. If we don't, we are fossils. If we publish original matter, they say we don't give them enough selections. If we give them selections, they say we are too lazy to write. If we don't go to church we are heathens. If we do, we are hypocrites. If we remain at the office we ought to be out looking for news items. If we do go out, then we are not attending to our business. If we wear old clothes, they laugh at us. If we wear good clothes, they say we have a pull. Now, what are we to do? Just as likely as not someone will say that we stole this from an exchange. So we did.
