A WORD TO COL. MORRISON. To the Editor of the Times

Sir,—I was surprised to-night while going over my usual hour's pleasure
after my day's labor is finished, viz.,
The Times, to read the sarcastic remarks made by Colonel Morrison in reference to the inefficiency of our imperial forces. But like many of our fads, or would be warriors, I am almost ashamed even to acknowledge his now. To the Editor of the Times or would be warriors, I am almost ashamed, even to acknowledge his superior rank to that of mine, a common private soldier. I would also like to ask the worthy Colonel as to the small amount of military knowledge that he is in possession of, from whom did he obtain such? At the same time I would like to ask the Colonel the reason for such antipathy and sarcasm towards our Imperial soldiers. I fail to see the object that the Colonel has in view, for his ridiculous and absurd remarks. I would like to ask the worthy Colonel his ridiculous and absurd remarks. I would like to ask the worthy Colonel how often he or his colonials which he makes an attempt to gull the people of the Dominion of Canada with, that is that the Colonials and the Colonials alone did the whole business in the late South African war, how often have they heard shots fired in anger, Mr. Editor? Since coming to Canada I have heard nothing else, "but we, the Canadian contingents, accomplished the whole business." I have listened to this hot air for a number of years. While coming from the lips of a ranker, I thought nothing of it, but when I read of those same remarks, and such remarks, to be untrue, coming from the lips of an officer and that officer holding the rank of a colonel, it is about time to make a colonel, it is about time to make true, coming from the lips of an officer and that officer holding the rank of a colonel, it is about time to make a kick as a soldier of over 24 years of a military career, and having taken part in more battles than one and my last campaign was from the beginning to the end of hostilities in South Africa. Therefore I think I will be justified in asking the Colonel if he himself, or any other of his Colonial Volunteers were present when help was most needed. Worthy Colonel, were you present either yourself or your contingent, at the operations of Tugela River, or Colenso, Peters Hill, Moiyo River, Escort, Chivaly, where the remains of the late Lieut. Roberts, V. C., are laid to rest? Were you or any of your contingent at Val Crantz, on that memorable fifth day of February, 1900? Previous to that, on the tenth day of January, were either you or your contingent with us at Spion Kopje, And did you remain with us and ou or your contingent with us at Spion Copje, And did you remain with us and you or your contingent with us at Spion Kopje, And did you remain with us and instruct us how to capture that position on the 24th day of January, 1900? I suppose you will say, and I would not be surprised to hear you say, after what you have already said, in reference to the Imperial forces, that you and your contingent led the column into Ladysmith on the 28th day of February, 1900. But I suppose it was under your superior instructions that we continued our march and that your contingent were in the fighting line to Dundee, Newcastle, Ingogo, Mount Prospect, Laing's Nek and Majuba Hill. Mr. Editor, kindly allow me to state that I, myself, accompanied the troops in all the above mentioned engagements, and I never once saw a Canadian volunteer in any one of them. Therefore I feel that it is only my duty to stand up and defend the rights and title of my fellow comrades, and especially after reading the letter above the name of an old soldier, and also of the letter in a contemporary, above the name of an officer of the Imperial Yomanry.

and I never once saw a Candian rolunteer in any one of them. Therefore I feel that it is only my duty to stand up and defend the rights and title of my fellow comrades, and especially after reading the letter above the name of an old soldier, and also of the letter in a contemporary, above the name of an officer of the Imperial Yomanry. Trusting this will be sufficient for the Colonel, and also his subordinates of hot air shooters, who seem to take a particular interest in gulling the public, with fallacies of their fighting qualities, thanking you for insertion, I am yours obediently, Spain has several very fine dances, such as the bolero, seguidilla, cachuca, jota, fandango, habanera, etc., but for some reason they are seldom seen outside of that country. They deserve to be universally popularized, and doubtless they will become so in the course of time.

South America has some excellent indigenous dances, one of which at least —the zamacueca of Peru and Chile—certainly deserves general adoption. It has a very peculiar rhythm, a three-step and a two-step in alternation, thus producing in combination a five-step measure. The effect is unique and fascinating.

The only dances native to the United The only dances native to the United States are sundry jigs, reels, clog dances, breakdowns, etc., mostly originating among the southern plantation hands. While these dances are lively and amusing they cannot be called artistic, like the national dances of Germany, Poland, Spain, Scotland and France.

Dancing teachers have at time introduced and endeavored to popularize certain combinations of some of the favorite dances, such as the two-step waltz already mentioned, the polka mazurka, the polka redown, etc. These hybrids, however, have generally had only a short vogue.

France to be the Fourth Naval Power in the World.

Paris, May 21.—The Superior Council of the Navy has decided upon a programme that includes bringing the number of French battleships up to 38, a total that would ensure France fourth place among the naval powers of the world. It is proposed to lay down in 1910 two 21,000 ton vessels of an enlarged Danton type. The armament has not yet been decided upon, but the council is in favor of twelve 12-inch guns in six turrets, those aft to be superimposed. The naval artillery experts, however, have brought forward arguments in favor of the sixteen 10.8-inch guns in eight turrets. Paris. May 21 .- The Superior Counci present, and the minuet, although one of the most graceful and picturesque of dances, is very seldom essayed except on ceremonious occasions. The dances now in fashion originated in different countries and at different times during the last two centuries, but mostly during the nineteenth.

The queen of all the dances is unquestionably the waltz, says the Circle-France has often laid claim to the honor, but it originated among the German peasants in the seventeenth or eighteenth century. As they danced it it was the slow waltz, ealled the landler, Later the Vienna musicians took it up, quickened the pace, and by their lovely musical settings of this dance rhythm extablished the reign of the waltz froughout the world. It is noteworthy that the composers of the finest dancing waltzes ever written—Schubert, Weber, Becthoven, Strauss, Lanner, Labitzky, and Waldteufel—were all Vienna men. It is properly a three-step dance, whether slow or fast. The two-step waltz is accent innovation and not an improvement.

Besides the waltz, we ove to German, the galop, an impetuous, dashing dance dating from about 1800; the polka, a justly popular four-step dance, where the stately polonaise, a kind of processional much used in European courts and at elaborate social timetions; the varsoloic, all square dances and dances a probably the much admired mazurka in moderate triple time, the stately polonaise, a kind of processional much used in European courts and at elaborate social timetions; the varsolience, a fast two-step.

Taly's chief contribution is the jig, which is danced under different names in all countries—in Italy as the tarantel horizonal manuel used in European courts and at the reel. Scotland has friginated two popular dances, the Highland fling, a lively jig in common time, and about 1820 England invented the lancers, a favorite variation of the French quadrille.

Spain has several very fine dances, such as the bolero, seguidilla. Cachnor

Cords of split wood contain less than cords of round sticks. The finer the wood is split, the more it makes. Hence wood dealers are often willing to sell kindlings of sawed and split for the same price a cord as unsplit wood. They get back the cost of labor in the increased bulk.

A cord (128 cuic feet) of 4 foot hard wood usually contains about 83 cubic feet of solid wood; a cord of 3 foot wood averages 83½ cubic feet, of 2 foot wood 84 feet and of 1 foot wood, 85 feet. The conifers (soft woods) contain 90 to 96

'In some countries wood is bought by weight and the buyer comes more nearly getting what he bargains for, but even then he may miss if he receives green wood when he wants dry. According to timber testing engineers of the United States Forest service wood may lose half or more its green weight may lose half or more its green weight in seasoning.

Transmitting Photographs

Transmitting Photographs.

A new method of transmitting photographs to a distance has recently been devised. A gelatine negative is used, in which the picture is formed in relief. A style travels over the uneven surface of the negative and operates a rheostat in the main line. At the receiving station a luminous ray plays over a sensitized plate, and the intensity of its light is varied by the rheostat. The reliefs and hollows of the original are thus reproduced in light and shadow on the sensitized medium, and form the picture. This method of transmitting pictures was recently tried with success on the line between Paris and Lyons.
