No Further Extension at Grand Falls With Present Tariff.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Nov. 27. The following is a short summary of the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company's results for the past year, just made public. The net profits, after payment of debenture interest, and providing a sinking fund are equal approximately to 2½ per cent on the share capital. No dividend is paid to the shareholders. The directors' report states, further, that the output of the mills has increased during the year, and that the removal of American duties on pulp and paper should affect the Company favourably, ultimately, by opening a new market, but that no further extensions of the Company's operations will be made during the continuance of the present Newfoundland tariff.

Haldane on the United States.

Special Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day. The Thanksgiving dinner of the American Society here was noteworthy because of the pronouncement of the British Government and an endorsement of the Monroe doctrine by Viscount Haldane, Lord High Chancellor. Lord Haldane proposed the President and the United States. I recently made a visit to the United States, he said, and came back not only with vivid recollection of the cordial welcome I received, but with deep sense of high ideals the British and American nations held in common. Referring to the President, he said, before he became President, Mr. Woodrow Wilson was a thinking man and a moralist. In studying his career I cannot fail to be impressed by his detached character and find that he has not ceased to be a thinker and a moralist, because he has become the holder of a great office. We see in him the aspiration and ideals expressed in his nation to the world. It is not only his expressed declaration that the policy of the United States is not one of conquest, a sensation. The world looks to the United States with its enormous position and possession to carry on its traditions without ceasing its possessions. That is our course also, nor is it the cause that when the States intervenes in any matter it is done for its own advantage. It was not so with Cuba with the States restored independence. England itself has the same thing in South Africa, where we gave back liberty to those with whom we fought. Speaking of the Monroe Doctrine, he said the States considered herself responsible for liberties of smaller nations of the hemisphere.

Grave Results Are Feared.

LONDON, To-day. Advice received here from Durban are symptomatic of grave results, likely to follow the embitterment produced in the minds of South African Ministers by the speech of Baron Harding, Viceroy of India, at Madras, on Wednesday, in which he sympathized with the passive resistance of Natal Indians against invidious and unjust laws, and demanded impartial inquiry into these. The Viceroy's speech is variously explained here as an unfortunate indiscretion, and the result of grave feeling in India calling for such outspoken sympathy. Little doubt exists in minds of those who have studied the situation that it will encourage Indians in Africa to violent resistance.

EXPRESS DUE.—The express is due in the city at 3.30 p.m. to-day.

WHALING VOYAGE.—It is said that those interested in the whaling industry this year met with heavy monetary losses this year. Not one of the six steamers engaged at whaling this season, and the outfitting expenses and it is not unlikely that there will be a decrease in the whaling fleet next year.

The S. S. Kyle, Capt. Parsons, arrived in port from the northward at 7 a.m. to-day, and reports the weather very stormy all along the coast. The recent northeast gale was severely felt, and intense frost prevailed during the whole trip. She brought a large quantity of oil, which she is discharging to-day at Shea & Co.'s premises for transshipment by the Allan Line.

McMurdo's Store News.

FRIDAY, Nov. 28, 1913.
The sudden and apparently euphoric coming of winter makes special increased care of the complexion and hands necessary. As usual, a good start is half the battle—if you right to keep face and hands just throughout the coming cold season, begin to attend to them now. A little Cream of Lilies used judiciously every night, and the use of Cream of Lilies Soap at the toilet will go far to solve this problem. Many persons, ladies and gentlemen have been using for several years past this strong combination against frost and winter winds and have by its aid proved invulnerable. Cream of Lilies, 25c. a pot; Cream of Lilies Soap, 20c. a cake; 50c. a box of 3 cakes. At both our stores.

Do not forget that we have Nox Cold now. It is one of the best cold cures. Price 25c. a bottle.

Governor Visits Dock.

His Excellency the Governor and Mrs. Davidson, attended by Major Davenport, visited the Dock premises at noon to-day, and after viewing the Manchester Commerce, from which several of the large plates are now removed, were met by Mr. R. G. Reid, who conducted them to the new "Fuel Economizer and Smoke Consumer" recently invented by Mr. A. G. Shearer, who demonstrated to them the working of the apparatus. His Excellency and Mrs. Davidson manifested great interest in this device, and expressed their appreciation and hearty congratulations to Mr. Shearer on his invention, which he has now brought to perfection. The effect of the compressed air on the flame is almost instantaneous.

Letter to the Agent for the Fraser Engine.

Dear Sir,—Many thanks for your letter in the Herald last night, comparing Fraser and FERRO Engines and in pointing out so many points of advantage that FERRO's have over those of Fraser's. We don't like to put it quite as strongly as you do, but we say, that it has a speed of about half as fast again. We like truth and don't like to boast. You seem to think that your engines are more up to date, but we are willing to leave this to be judged by the user and by the public, when we say, that FERRO Engines are made by a factory which employs over fifteen hundred men, and among these, the most expert staff of men in the world. The FERRO factory is the largest in the world devoted to the manufacture of marine engines and over sixty thousand (60,000) FERRO's are now in use.

You say that you meet with no opposition from FERRO's, and we assure you we don't want to be. We are glad you say that the Fraser engines are not in the same class as FERRO's, and we assure you we don't want to be. We are glad you say that the Fraser engines are not in the same class as FERRO's, and we assure you we don't want to be. We are glad you say that the Fraser engines are not in the same class as FERRO's, and we assure you we don't want to be.

The FERRO is, as you say, a nice light weight motor, this is owing to the best materials being used; Fraser is of course much heavier and slower, so we think it is a light weight speedy motor the fishermen want for his trap skiff, it is light to hoist aboard and launch, and of course does not take up so much room in the boat, while being a simple engine, it is easier to understand and does not get out of repair as often. The fishermen who know the FERRO's best, are the men who uphold them most. Forty thousand (40,000) FERRO's are in use. Three years cost less than an average of Sixty-five cents (65c.) last year for repairs.

We note that you would get no prestige for towing a FERRO in, but "First catch your FERRO" and then tow it in: "If you can't".

Take the advice of FERRO and don't try to find "foemen worthy of your steel."

Many thanks for your kind letter of recommendation.

A. H. MURRAY,
O'Dwyer's Cove,
Agent for FERRO ENGINES.
