Come early.

MR. CROSSLEY WAS ALONE
Mr. Hunter took a Rest From his illast Night's Meeting. The auditorium and gallery of the Central Methodist Church were filled last evening, when Mr. Crossley continued the evangelistic campaign that is being carried on in the city at the present time.

Mr. Hunter, who is visiting his brother near Okotoks, will return tomorrow for the special Sunday services.

Several of the local ministers and Mr. Morpluth, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., Bristol, Eng., were present on the platform.

"It is my privilege tonight to speak to young men and women especially," said the evangelist.

"I would like to speak to you as one of your selves, it is a reasonable request.

"I feel 27, but am a little older than 32."

Mr. Crossley compared those who were Christians and those who were not, to the crab and the butterfly. There were many money grabbers in Calgary.

Mr. Kerby then alluded to the death of Arthur Jarrett, son of Mr. Walter Jarrett, one of Calgary's oldtimers.

He had been an example to every young man in the city, a member of the church league and the Young Men's Club, and had lived an up right, pure and clean life.

The usual invitation was given at the conclusion and many responded.

BUILDERS AT BANQUET TABLE

First Annual Banquet by the Exchange Last Night

The Calgary Builders exchange held its first annual banquet last evening at the Grand Union hotel, where nearly 60 sat down to an excellent repast, which was served in the spacious dining room of the hotel. The room was decorated with flags, bunting, etc., and it added much to the effect of the well laid tables.

President W. A. McKinnon occupied the chair and there were present: P. J. Nolan, W. L. Walsh, A. A. McAuley, J. B. Jaynes, A. Pirio, J. Byers, J. A. McPhail, S. Barnes, H. D. Richardson, C. E. Billings, H. A. Noble, E. J. Young, W. Gillott, E. G. Hall, A. T. Tinton, A. J. Horne, W. S. MacDonald, A. Julian, J. Gordon, L. Chappell, W. P. Richards, J. L. Richards, W. C. Claxton, P. W. J. Brice, J. Lako, E. L. Martin, L. Peers, V. C. Tremaine, J. E. Nelson, J. Brown, J. C. Becker, F. D. Becker, D. J. McLaughlin, R. E. Sobert, A. Woodard, J. C. Porter, J. C. Thomson, E. D. Benson, S. Houlton, E. W. Northcott, F. W. Clay, N. Gaskell, G. H. Webster, A. C. Cushing, I. S. G. Van Wart, E. L. Richardson, S. B. Ramsay and others.

A good musical program had been arranged and Miss Nola and Hilliard Campbell came in during the evening and sang, each time being encored.

The chairman proposed the health of the "King, Queen and Royal Family," which was responded to by W. L. Walsh, who said the last time he had heard from the king he was in excellent health and intending to visit Calgary when there was a population of 100,000. (A voice, "That will be next year.")

P. J. Nolan replied to "The G-u-sts," and said he had attended many a banquet but never one that was so good for the good of the city as the one that was being held tonight. He thought it was a step in the right direction.

J. Young Byers responded to "The Press" and E. Richardson to "The City of Calgary." Mr. Richardson said that one of the best ways to tell the prospect of a city was by its bank clearings, and in his opening remarks set forth a few of the many advantages such an exchange of this kind to the city of Calgary as well as to the builders themselves. A great deal depended upon the builder, in fact the greater the exchange the city's progress was due to them in conjunction with the different trades and labor organizations.

The one great drawback was the lack of apprentices. Apprenticeship was not encouraged as it is in the old countries. A system of good and technical schools should be encouraged by this organization. This should be followed out as well as schools of agriculture.

The lack of such institutions was one of the causes of the lack of skilled labor. Another was modern machinery. In earlier days the carpenter was a kind of lool's man and formed the lumber pile into a dwelling. This took considerable time.

Today the carpenter fitted together the parts as they came from the factory. In addition to the carpenter we now have the factory man, who is rather a specialist than a tradesman. Of course this modernism has not interfered with brick and stone masonry.

In closing Mr. Cushing remarked that the fault was with the public schools, which have a tendency to professional and business careers rather than industrial and trade. The exchange should endeavor to rectify a reform.

The toast to the "Building Trades Council" was responded to by Mr. Harrison, president of the Amalgamated Carpenters union. He stated that they encouraged apprenticeship and discouraged strikes, which were detrimental to both builders and contractors.

The musical program consisted of selections by Bagley's orchestra, which also played splendid selections during the dinner; song, Miss Nola; song, Hilliard Campbell; guitar solo, E. L. Richardson, all of whom were called upon the second time.

At the Lyric
The Roscan Opera Company sang "The Devil" last night to a good audience who were evidently well pleased with the production despite the fact that "Martha" had been extensively advertised for presentation, at the matinee this afternoon. "Said Pasha" is the bill and the management states "Martha" will positively be given for the concluding performance with Miss Nola in the title role.

Mr. Walters as Ibsen, Mr. Campbell as Plunkett, Miss Crowley, Nancy, Mr. Dewey the Sheriff, and Mr. Flavell, Sir Tristan.

BURNS ANNIVERSARY ROYALLY CELEBRATED
It is a far cry from Bonnie Scotland to the great Northwest, yet some 200 Scotch lads and lassies assembled at the Alexander hall yesterday evening under the auspices of the Caledonia Dance Committee to celebrate the anniversary of their beloved "Bobbie Burns."

The striking pairs and pretty dresses of the bonnie lassies with the tastily decorated and brilliantly lighted hall presented a pleasing and festive scene.

The evening was opened with a short address on the life and works of the prince of poets, by the Rev. Mr. MacFae, who occupied the chair.

The immortal Burns sprung from the peasant class yet his name will be handed down to posterity through all the ages.

He was a great and a true poet always to be remembered and never forgotten by all the Scotch.

Songs were sung by Mrs. McKillop and Messrs W. Kyle, James Ferguson, I. Towill, David, Henderson.

A vote of thanks to the chairman and to those who had so kindly assisted in the arrangements was given.

Messrs I McFarlane and E. Douglas were masters of ceremonies. Minnie's orchestra as usual was in attendance. A most enjoyable and pleasant evening was spent.

BIG ORDER BY PINCHER CREEK FIRM

New Concern Orders $5000 in Groceries and $7000 in Dry Goods

Messrs. Calvin, Hatfield & Co. are opening a first class modern store at Pincher Creek.

This company are the owners of the Pincher Station town site which at the present time is valuable real estate property and rapidly selling.

They are laying in some $5,800 worth of groceries and $7000 worth of dry goods, boots and shoes and are making a specialty in the grocery department.

A first class manager from the east has been engaged.

They have the biggest turnover and largest grocery business west of Toronto which tends to show that they only supply the best quality of goods at the right price.

They put up exclusively their own salmon and fruits and are the largest importers in the west.

Their energetic and business like representative is at present registered at the Alberta.

Trade Throughout America for the Week

New York, Jan. 25.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: More than ordinary activity is shown in Canadian trade. Shipping on spring orders is active and at the same time re-orders for winter goods are noted. A great shortage of mill labor and of men for railroad building is reported. Northwestern Canada reports a good winter and the only drawback is the slow delivery of goods caused by railroad blockades.

Montreal reports all manufacturing industries active with stocks of cotton light and higher prices probable. Groceries are active and canned goods advancing. Fancy spring goods are active at Toronto, neckwear and shirts being heavily ordered. Seasonable weather helps country trade in Ontario and the western provinces. Failures for the week number 18 as against 23 last week and 33 in this week a year ago.

JARRETT—In Calgary, Jan. 25, 1907, Stephen Arthur Jarrett, aged 24. Funeral will take place from father's residence, 412, 13th avenue, east on Monday, 28th at 2 o'clock p.m. Friends and acquaintances kindly accept this intimation.
