

Headaches, Dizzy

Spells and faintness have been my afflictions for 22 years. Often I would fall in a sudden faint and several times narrowly escaped being burnt on the stove. No medicine gave me more than a few days relief, and I laughed when a friend urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. But I took it and in six months I was free from all headache trouble, faintness or dizziness. I am now perfectly well. I cannot say too much in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is worth its weight in gold to me. MRS. R. H. HANES, Paris, Ont.

The Difference

Between Canadian and American Hockey.

A Boston College Team Coming to Canada.

Two Prize-Fighters Ordered Out of Buffalo as "Vags."

HOCKEY.

INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE CONTEST.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 26.—The American College hockey team leave this evening for Montreal, where they begin the first international hockey tour yet undertaken. Mr. Geo. Wright, the veteran cricketer of Boston, will accompany the team. The first match will be at Montreal on Thursday evening, when, under the patronage of the Governor-General of Canada, the new Beaver Rink, will be formally opened. In Toronto two matches, one under American and the other under Canadian rules, will be played. The team will also play in Kingston and Ottawa.

The American players expect to find that the Canadian game is superior to their own, and as a result their visit will probably be the adoption of the Canadian game. The following are the main points on which the American game differs from the Canadian game: 1. The game is played with the rubber ball instead of a puck. The ball is manipulated some time by hopping it on the ice as well as striking. 2. The ball is faced by placing it in the middle of the ice, and when the referee's whistle blows one player from each side charges upon it. 3. No player except the goal keeper is allowed within a radius of three feet in front of the goal line, to be marked out on the ice. If the goal keeper leaves his position, however, another player of the same side may take his place for the time being. 4. Two innings of twenty minutes each are played. 5. A player must not touch the ball with his hands or arms, or kick it with his foot or skate. 6. Offside play is allowed, but any unwarrantable interference by one player with another is forbidden.

ATELICS.

NO FIGHT.
NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The Sun says this morning: The outlook for the proposed fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons being held in Jacksonville is not bright. The recent ordinance prohibiting boxing in Jacksonville has ruined the calculations of the promoters of the contest.

MOVE ON.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Solly Smith and Johnny Van Heest, the prize fighters, were ordered out of town as "vagrants" this afternoon by the police court judge. Solly had been arrested on suspicion of larceny, and Johnny had been arrested on suspicion of being a vagrant.

MAKE THEM WORK.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 26.—Superintendent of Police O'Mara has ordered the arrest of all prize fighters who have no visible means of support, and directs that they be charged as vagrants and treated as such. Today Jerry Marshall, the Australian negro, was arrested, but was released on bail, and will have a hearing tomorrow.

BASEBALL.

THE TORONTO CLUB.
TORONTO, Dec. 26.—Chas. Maddocks, manager of the Toronto Baseball Club, intends to leave for Boston and Philadelphia for the purpose of securing players. He has several first-class men in view.

THE TURF.

ALIX HEARD FROM.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 26.—The track today was about three seconds slow, yet in the free-for-all trot Klum beat her own record, making a mile in 2:12. Azotte won the race, Time, 2:10.

Alix was entered to beat the world's trotting record, 2:03, made by her at Galesburg, Ill. She did not beat it, but made the remarkable time of 2:09.

Newsboys Dine.

Their Inaugural Celebration a Splendid Success.

There Was Enough and to Spare of Edibles.

'Twas a Cold Night, But the Boys Did Not Feel It—An Annual Affair.

The wind whistled shrilly and blew a chilly gale last night around the city streets. It tossed the coats of the city who had to be out, and caused a festive guard of the peace duty at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets to quicken his pace to keep warm as he walked to and fro. The usual companions of the policeman—the little newsboys—were noticeably absent, not only from that corner, but from every other corner where they are wont to meet a stray customer. But a peep into a vacant store at 436 Richmond street explained their absence. Although it was cold as Greenland's icy mountains outside, all was warm and bright and snug within. Here it was that 57 little newsboys were celebrating their first banquet—a pretty blue badge proudly informed the uninitiated—and here the boys set the pace for eating for all future occasions of a like nature. It was a scorching while it lasted, and there was very little said while eating was in order. The boys were an extremely intelligent-looking lot, bright as pennies, their sensibilities sharpened by the keen competition and business rivalry prevailing among themselves. They are undergraduates in a somewhat rough school, which will brighten their wits and give them experience that will stand them in good stead—as it has many of the world's foremost men—in their after battle of life. There were the makings of more than one brilliant man among the little fellows seated around the long table. Some of them were of different colors and nationalities, but the boys held no racial prejudices, and all ate and talked—when they could—and laughed and bantered one another in great style. There were no limitations, and as long as a boy wanted more it was handed out. The menu consisted of turkey, fowl of different kinds, oysters, vegetables, bread and butter, cakes, pies, fruit, candy, tea and coffee. And the cooking was ably attended to by two professional cooks—Nelson Hanley and Sarah Saddick—who were formerly with Mr. Sam Grigg when he was the moving spirit of the enterprise, and he was ably assisted by Messrs. Eddie and Walter Crawford, Andrew Inrie, Rev. T. F. Kingsmill, J. R. Shuttleworth, and the members of the Croyton Hall Bible class—Misses Ryder (2), Miss Knott, Misses Sainsbury (2), Misses Trimble (2), the two Misses Whitton, and Messrs. Wm. and Alf. Partridge, Threapstone, Millman and McMartin. Others who lent valuable aid were Miss Seabrook, and Miss Grace Grigg (organist), Messrs. Jesse Cook, Foster, Hill, Hart and Vick. The ladies waited on the table, and the boys kept them busy. After all had been satisfied and the dishes had been cleared away the coming men sat around to listen to Mr. Grigg. The boys were all numbered and Mr. Grigg then plied them with religious questions. The first to answer his number taken down and each will receive a prize. In their ready replies the boys showed, in many instances, the result of careful religious training. The prizes consist for the most part of useful articles of wearing apparel and will be distributed shortly.

After the catechising Mr. Grigg addressed the listening public and thanked them for the interest manifested by the boys in the entertainment. He referred to the spontaneous outburst of liberality on the part of the citizens in making the affair a free will offering. They wanted to give more than could be used, and they had had abundance and to spare. He himself had simply managed the affair, realizing that he was his brother's keeper. He wanted to see the newsboys' home, where the boys could go either at 5 o'clock in the morning or 9 o'clock and get warmed up. It would be both a place of instruction and amusement. A gentleman had offered him $200 yesterday in support of such an institution, but as he did not know what turn the first gathering would take, he said he would wait to form a class of the boys and point them to Jesus. "I don't want you to try for 43 years to live without him, as I have," said he. "I have found for four years past that the Lord knows better what to do with me than I did. I have been wonderfully blessed, and I want his blessing to go out to these boys. Concluding Mr. Grigg called for the hearty cheers for the ladies who had so ably helped.

The boys responded lustily and of their own accord proposed and cheered both the cooks, Messrs. Shuttleworth, Crawford, Rev. Mr. Kingsmill and Lieut. Vick, S.A. The boys then sang, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" and dispersed with the benediction, and to go home and others to finish selling their stock of evening papers.

The citizens responded so liberally that the balance of the collection will have to be distributed among deserving families. The donors were: Free Press, $10; John McClary, $5; John Lebar, $5; R. C. Struvers, $3; Geo. Lewis, $1; T. G. Wainwright, $1; M. Masurel, $1; Dr. Sippi, $1; J. M. McKinnon, $1; Geo. Lewis, $1; Col. Gartshore, $1; Albert Smith, $1; D. Sare, $1; J. H. ## LOVE FOUND THE WAY

How a Poor Student's Sweetheart Overcame Parental Opposition.

A kiss once played an important part in the life of the famous Belgian statesman, Erere-Orban, who is now seriously ill at his country place, says the New York Tribune. In his youth the future minister was a poor student, bearing the simple name of Erere. He had great difficulty in earning enough money to keep him at the university till he was ready to pass his examination in the department of law.

The young man fell in love with a Fraulein Orban, the daughter of a wealthy and aristocratic family, who opposed his suit.

"If you pass your examination well tomorrow," said Fraulein Orban on the eve of the trial of her lover, "come to the theater and to the box in which I shall be sitting with my parents."

"Will they allow me?" asked the student.

"I shall see to that," was the determined young woman's answer.

Erere was successful, and entered the box in the evening happy but frightened. The pretty girl, as soon as he had crossed the threshold, stood up, rushed toward him before a word was spoken, and kissed him heartily on the lips. The astonished parents were soon informed of the significance of the kiss by the daughter. As many other people had seen the young girl's action the parents decided to make the best of it, and accepted young Erere as son-in-law on condition that he add Orban to his name. This he did, as a matter of course, and made it famous.

THE WEATHER TO-DAY:
Fine and very cold.

TAKE CARE.

It isn't often that we enlarge on the state of the weather. We don't intend to now, except to draw attention to the necessity of having the right kind of footwear during these changing times—if one wants to keep free from colds, the bane of many an otherwise happy life.

OUR SHOES

Are of the right kind and we recommend our many lady patrons to see what we can do for them. A shoe may look well, but perhaps it won't wear well or keep out the weather satisfactorily. Ours will do both. We buy only from the best Canadian and American manufacturers, who have a reputation to sustain. We also have, and would not buy anything or endeavor to sell anything that would be likely to give dissatisfaction.

THE BEST

We aim to buy. The best we aim to sell. They are none too good for our class of custom, and those who want shoddy, showy goods need not come to us. Our stock of rubbers is on a par with everything else in our big stores. See what we can do for you in this department, which is the most private in the city.
