accident, which occurred on Tuesday morning. Mr. Ginge was driving near the fair grounds on Dundas street, when his horse took fright at the clanging of a passing street car. The horse bolted and upset the carriage. Mr. Ginge and his coachmen were thrown out, and the former is confined to bed as a result of the severe shaking up he received. After the carriage was overturned the horse dashed madly down the sidewalk, where Mr. Westbrook was walking. Mr. West-brook dropped an armful of stovepipes and ran for a gateway. But even there he was not out of danger. The horse in passing jammed him against a post, and he sustained a cut on the back of his head which required twenty stitches.

Military Enthusiasm the Dominant Note at the Auditorium.

Pleasant Reception by the Y. M. C. A. Club

Last night the members of the Mandolin, Guitar and Banjo Club of the Y. M. C. A. held a reception in their parlors. About 125 of the boys' friends were there, and to say that they thoroughly enjoyed themselves is putting it mildly. The managing committee had arranged a rather intricate programme with such consummate skill that all was harmoniously adjusted and blended in one long evening so pleasurable that every one present wished for its early repeti-

The earlier part of the evening was one of social intercourse, during which a programme was carried out, and afterwards there was a banquet, of which the ladies, as well as the gentlemen partook; and the conversation and music, the feasting and toasting, all combined to make such a reception as will cause its successor to be most eagerly looked forward to. The programme consisted of solos by Miss Eva Roblyn and Miss Agnes Templeton, Mr. F. S. Ashplant and Mr. R. Albert Brown. A piano solo was rendered by Mr. W. H. Hewlett, and recitations were given by Mr. W. C. Ferguson and Rev. Canon Dann.

While the toast list was in progress there were outbursts of such demonstrative patriotism that one could easily imagine himself at a military banquet.

The toast to "The Queen" was introduced by the chairman, Mr. A. B. Cox, and as soon as the National Anthem had been sung, another toast was drunk to "Canada's Transvaal Contingent," and the three rousing cheers with which it was received bore evidence to the warmth of the interest which centers in the Canadian representatives of the empire's loyalty. "Our Association" was replied to by Mr. C. R. Sayer and Mr. J. J. Foote, who told of the work being done by ed over the combination and a heavy ed a clever response from Mr. George The reply to "Our Club" reply to "The Pulpit." Mr. W. C. LONDON AND TORONTO BOYS

Arrived at Quebec Together Early Yesterday Afternoon.

Complimented for the Fine Physique and Martial Appearance-Col. Drury, of Kingston, Ordered to Join the Contingent-Military Notes.

Quebec, Oct. 26 .- The arrival here of B and C companies of the Transvaal contingent this afternoon was made the occasion of a most enthusiastic demonstration on the part of the citizens of the Ancient Capital. The Toronto contingent was expected here at an early hour this morning, but only came in at Levis about 2 o'clock, at the same time as B company, from London. The men formed up in a short time, and were cheered down to the ferryboat by the residents of Levis. After a few minutes' sail on the river both companies were landed in this city, where thousands of citizens had been waiting their arrival. The men "fell in" on the ferry wharf, and, pre-ceded by Lieut.-Col. Wilson, commandant of the R. C. A., Major Ogilvie, R. C. A., and Capt. MacDonnell, of the Winnipeg company, and headed by the R. C. A. band, marched to the emigrant sheds, about half a mile away. This was through the business portion of the city, and consequently employes and employers as a rule turned out and cheering was continued and most enthusiastic all along the line of

Upon arrival at the emigrant sheds, where the men will quarter during their short sojourn here, both companies partook of dinner, and were subsequently marched to the sleeping quarters in the building, where they laid aside their extra baggage and then roamed around the grounds for the balance of the afternoon, singing

Lieut.-Col. Otter, who arrived here about 3 o'clock this afternoon, paid a visit to the emigrant sheds shortly after the arrival of the western con tingent, and appeared to be satisfied with the preparations made there for the comfort of the men.

The physique and martial appearance of B and C companies were highly commented upon by the citizens of the Ancient Capital, who agree that they are the best yet to arrive. A few non-coms, were allowed out this evening, but all will be kept in barracks until they receive their proper

From present appearances the contingent will probably not sail before Wednesday or Thursday next. THE MARITIME COMPANIES.

Quebec, Oct. 26 .- Companies G and from the Maritime Provinces, to the number of 275, reached town at 4:30 p.m., and were marched to the immigrant building, escorted by the R. C. A. band. Major Weeks is in com-Mr. Joseph Farr Passes Away mand of G company, and Capt. Stairs of H company. They are fine bodies of men. At the citadel about 50 volun-teers for the Transvaal are quartered in a large room at the Chain Gate, and the balance in several casements. Guards were placed last night on the Chain as well as the main gate and the citadel entrance, and none of the volunteers were allowed out, and it is not likely that they will be for a couple of days. In the meantime the clothing and equipment is being served with all the dispatch that is possible. Gen. Hutton and the Hon. Dr. Borden. minister of militia, are expected here will be a church parade on Sunday, on account of not being able to fit the men out in time. The minister of militia favors the idea of having a it would not be surprising to hear of the R. C. A. band being ordered to proceed to South Africa. It is reported tonight that the contingent may sail removed to his home in the ambulance, on Monday. It is expected that quite a number from the garrison companies at the citadel will go with the contingent, including Sergts.-Major Raimbault and Fellows, Sergt.-Instructor Sutherland, Sergts. La Fleur, Lyndon and Carrol, and Corps. Brissett and Powers. Col. Otter, the contigent, arrived in town this afternoon. Col. Guy, of the quartermaster-general's office, is purchasing supplies for two months for the Trans-mated to be about $75,000. MANITOBANS EN ROUTE. Ottawa, Oct. 26.-Five hundred peoole cheered the Winnipeg tingent for the Transvaal when they arrived here this forenoon. The contingent was 50 strong. The minister of militia and leading city military men were present. The men were addressed by the minister of militia, Ald. Black and Col. Cotton. The Guards band furnished music.

AT MONTREAL. Montreal, Oct. 26.-The Winnipeg Company of the Canadian contingent, 120 strong, under command of Capt Glanchare, arrived here at 7 o'clock this evening, and left at 11 o'clock by the Intercolonial for Quebec. A committee of Montreal citizens had been appointed to arrange for a presentation to each member of the Montreal contingent of a souvenir. COL. DRURY'S LUCK. Kingston, Ont., Oct. 26.-Lieut.-Col. Drury, of A Battery, this afternoon reword from Ottawa to at once join the Canadian contingent for the Transvaal.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 26 .- The city of Windsor's check for at least $100, and the amount may be more, will be forwarded this evening to Quebec to pro-vide extra comforts for the members of the Twenty-first Fusiliers who have enlisted for service in South Africa. The issuing of the check will be ratified by the council at its meeting next Monday evening. The vote is not strictly legal, but war enthusiasm is running high in Windsor, and there is little danger of anyone offering objection. The Walkerville council will also vote $100, and a grant is expected from Sandwich. It is believed that several hundred dollars more will be netted from private subscriptions.

PERSEVERANCE REWARDED. The Globe of Thursday has the following about the London company of volunteers: There are 30 officers serving as privates in the ranks of B Company, and the enthusiasm of the soldiers was showen by the conduct of Pte.
