that your skin trouble is incurable because ordinary treatments have failed? If so, get Zam-Buk and prove, as thousands of others have, that Zam-Buk is capable of healing after everything else has failed! Mrs. Horan, of 182 Manning Ave., Toronto, writes: "For eight months my little son's face was simply covered with eczema. The pain and irritation were so intense that he could not sleep. He refused treatment at a hospital, but I did him no good. Then I heard of Zam-Buk and commenced using it. It really worked wonders. The pain and irritation soon disappeared, and I could notice a decided improvement. I persevered with the treatment until now his face is quite free from sores and his skin is perfectly clear. I cannot be grateful enough for what Zam-Buk has done, and I shall never be without it."

To a half-pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Oriflex Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a grey-haired person look twenty years younger. Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons collect toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart, which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, irascible, sick, feverish and miserable, your mouth sour and almost nauseated. Then you resort to aspirin, acetaminophen or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure your headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and, as most tasteless, except for a sourish tinge which is not unpleasant. If you are feeling your best, if your tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick, and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

Workers Most Optimistic and Expect to Exceed Aims of Association.

Amid cheers, they reported amounts collected on the second forenoon, totaling $3,052.75. With $3,247.15 taken in yesterday, at the end of the first half of the campaign, the fund now stands at $6,299.90.

The goal of ambition of the association is $15,000 and it is expected to be fully realized when all subscriptions are in.

The workers are in a most optimistic mood with which they have met on all sides. "The more people are called upon to give, the more ready they seem to give, the more people are called upon to give, the more ready they seem to give."

NO FURTHER SEARCH FOR MISSING BODY
$100 Reward Apparently No Incentive to Continue Drugging.

The body of James Brandon, who was drowned in the River Thames on Wednesday evening, October 4, has not yet been recovered. No further search has been made for the body since the fishermen abandoned dragging operations on Sunday evening, after 40 hours' fruitless endeavor to locate the body. The $100 reward offered by Mrs. Brandon still remains, but up to the present seems to have been no incentive to anyone to continue the search.

Unless held to the bottom by some obstacle, the body is expected to rise to the surface Friday or Saturday.

The representatives of the insurance company have taken a statement from A. J. Clark, who was in company with Brandon at the time of the accident. They were out from the boat while changing places in the rowboat, the movement caused the craft, throwing both into the river.

Clark swam ashore and Brandon has not been seen since.

Crown Attorney McKillop stated that the circumstances did not, in his opinion, warrant an investigation.

LEGION OF HONOR FOR HEROIC FRENCH DOCTOR
Dr. Menard, X-Ray Specialist, Loses Two Fingers in Work.

[Canadian Press.]
Paris, Oct. 12.—Dr. Menard of the Cochin Hospital, was decorated with the Legion of Honor yesterday as a recompense for his loss of two fingers by exposure to the X-ray in hospital work.

Dr. Menard, who has lost a finger from each hand, has accomplished admirable results in the location of projectiles in the bodies of wounded soldiers. The loss of his fingers did not deter Dr. Menard from following up his research work in the radiographic room. In the loss of his fingers he learned that X-rays are subjected to a localized dose of radiation, and in consequence, harden and rapidly deaden. Through Dr. Menard's experiments at the Cochin Hospital, a surgeon (the doctor) after a few days ago to locate and extract a shrapnel bullet lodged under the heart of a wounded soldier in ten minutes.

LOCAL LIBERAL CLUB COVERS
ITSELF WITH GLORY THROUGH
FINE BANQUET ARRANGEMENTS

Function of Wednesday Night Brings Unqualified Congratulations to Committeemen Whose Efforts Made It Perfect in Order, Arrangement and General Program.

Several prominent members of the Liberal Club Federation of Ontario, are carrying on their feet right arm today as a result of the hearty handshakes accorded with congratulations upon the success of every detail, while the great army of guests filled out the Princess Winter Garden Wednesday night.

There were compliments for the men whose careful planning prevented confusion, notwithstanding the great crowds; for the decorators, for the program builders, for the musicians, and last, but by no means least, for the caterer, C. J. Leach, who provided such a bountiful and delicious repast.

Hon. Charles Murphy, former secretary of state in the Laurier administration, has attended many functions in many parts of Canada, but he gives the palm to the Liberal Club for having staged the most successful banquet, if not the largest, in the history of political gatherings.

"To use a catch phrase, one has to hand it to the London boys," said Mr. Murphy. Those who heard him were greatly delighted.

Wonderful Efficiency.
For five hours before the banquet, yes, for several days, there was nothing but bustle and apparent confusion in the Winter Garden. For five hours after the doors opened there was nothing but order and machine-like precision in the handling of the crowd.

Not a man who misplaced, not a jarring note sounded. Everyone was helping the other fellow to find his way. There were from 1,200 to 1,500 men in the hall, most of them, no doubt, smokers. But not one man in the course of more than a quarter of a day, sent up a puff of smoke, not a cigar or cigarette. (Although an Advertiser man did observe one of London's foremost Liberals taking a quiet draw at his pipe).

It may have been out of consideration for the ladies who filled the galleries or it may have been out of consideration for the smokers, but as a consequence the temperature was never stifling or the air choking. It was a tribute to the efficiency of the Liberal Club.

Church Union Supporters of Presbyterian Church Now Present Their Side of Case

The following statement is issued by the committee on the constitution of the church union appointed at the meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Winnipeg in June, 1915, in answer to statements which are being made by the anti-unionists of the church:

There is an unfortunate and somewhat widespread misapprehension regarding the effect on local congregations, of the proposed union between Congregationalists, Methodists and Presbyterians.

The following paragraphs, taken in large part from the basis of union should remove all doubts:

The section on polity in the basis of union begins with the statement that the union is to be a union of churches, not of individuals. It is possible to provide for substantial local freedom and the same time secure the benefits of a strong connection with the larger church.

"Co-operative efficiency and local freedom" was the watchword of the joint committee on union in outlining the organization of the United Church.

First: For charges formed subsequent to union there will be no increase in the number of elders, ministers and group of elders, and no increase in the full church membership. The rights and duties of the session are in general those of the session in any Presbyterian church at the present time.

2. The committee of stewards, corresponding exactly to the board of managers, will consist of elders, ministers and group of elders, and no increase in the full church membership. The rights and duties of the session are in general those of the session in any Presbyterian church at the present time.

3. The official board, corresponding to the quarterly board in Methodist congregations, and consisting of the session and committee of stewards, will have representatives in full church membership of such other departments of church work as may be agreed on by the General Council, the body corporate of the Presbyterian General Assembly or the Methodist General Conference.

The duties of the official board are: 1. To secure contributions to the missionary and other general objects of the church. 2. To select representatives, in full church membership, of the pastoral charge to the Presbytery. 3. To submit to the pastoral charge or local church for its consideration reports on life and work, including a statement of receipts and expenditures, and of indebtedness and of estimates for the ensuing year.

4. To transmit from the pastoral charge to the Presbytery, for the settlement committee representations concerning the pastoral charge.

Second: This threefold organization of the local congregation was considered by the joint committee on union to be more effective than that existing in any of the uniting churches at the present time, and will be the form of organization for charges to be constituted subsequent to the union, but it is expressly declared that charges existing previous to union shall be left to continue the organization and practices enjoyed by them at the time of the union, subject in general affairs to the legislation, principles and decisions of the United Church.

representatives in the next higher governing body or court shall be chosen as at present, charges existing at the time of the union may, however, if they desire, elect at any time the form of organization prescribed for pastoral charges to be formed subsequent to the union. There is thus absolute local freedom to change or to continue the organization as they see fit.

So carefully does the basis of union safeguard local freedom, that a paragraph is added which states that churches, charges, circuits or congregations received subsequent to the union into the United Church, with the approval of Presbyteries, shall be entitled, if they so desire, to the privileges of the preceding section.

Surely in the light of these quotations, it is utterly aside from the facts to speak or think of this union as involving the coercion of congregations.

ANOTHER WHO AIDED IN MAKING DINNER
SUCH GREAT SUCCESS

And a singing! An orchestra that lifted the swelling notes of the great national airs that are old or the new-born song of the war, was assisted by a splendid choir at the southwest corner of the building. The song leaflets bore the treasured marching songs of the Empire, and when the music crashed on, every man in the auditorium seemed to put back his head and sing in spite of himself. It was thrilling.

There were men who worked behind the scenes to achieve this general, un-studied effect or harmony in every detail of the affairs. There was a feeling of unity, of Liberal friendship and of the unity which did the heart good, the chiefs of all the tribes were there, and they were all one tribe under the great banner of Liberalism.

Liberalism does not mean without its difficulties, but last night was an occasion for the expression of loyalty and good-will among those who have fought and suffered in the cause. Those who were responsible.

The following are the members of the various committees to whom credit was due for the making of the machinery of the mammoth banquet: was operated with the precision of a well-regulated, properly-wound-up clock:

GALT LIKELY PLACE FOR WINTER ABODE OF KITCHENER UNIT

153rd Wellingtons Will Stay in London.

BATTERIES FOR GUELPH

Chatham Is Assured of Unit—Possibly the Kents.

GUELPH, Oct. 11.—Major Bishop from the headquarters staff at London was in Guelph today and made an inspection of several buildings available for the housing of troops for the winter. As a result it is almost certain that Guelph will not have any infantry battalion wintered here.

The armories, however, will be used to a greater extent than before and artillery will be stationed here. The people of Guelph and the country were anxious to have the 153rd stationed in this city until they went overseas, but the winter fair dates came right in the time when the military wants them and it was not considered advisable to move the troops.

According to word received here today the 153rd will not go to Galt, as was announced, but will remain in London until they go overseas, while the 138th, which recruited at Kitchener, will go to Galt for the winter.

Work is being started to put the armories in shape for the 138th and 64th Batteries, and probably another battery, which will likely be recruited here.

WOODSTOCK SOLDIERS TO GET $5 GOLD PIECES
[Special to The Advertiser.]
WOODSTOCK, Oct. 11.—The city council has decided to present each of the local members of the 16th Battalion with $5 gold pieces. The council will go to Camp Borden early next week to make the presentation. There are about 300 local men in the battalion.

Leaves Splendid Farm.
Thomas B. Hart of East Oxford, has shown the true Canadian spirit by the fact that he has just given up a splendid 100-acre farm in East Oxford and offered his services to his King and country. He was born near this city and has lived here all his life. Last night about 60 of his friends presented him with a gold wrist watch. He will leave for Camp Borden in a couple of days. He is going to the front with the 16th.

PRINCETON SOLDIERS HOME ON LAST LEAVE
[Special to The Advertiser.]
PRINCETON, Oct. 11.—Charles Dunn, 152nd Battalion Signalling Corps; John Strode, 110th Battalion; Carter Wilson, pay office Niagara Camp, and Dirby any, Carling Heights Indian Hospital, have all been home on what they expect will be their last furlough before leaving for overseas.

Mrs. Moore has heard from her son, Charlie, that he is quite interested in the presentation to the clergymen of an ultimatum insisting on a return to the old scale of prices or the closing down and re-opening of their factories on the open shop basis.
