TRAFALGAR CORPS RECEIVES FLAG

Officially Presented To Cadets by Lt.-Col. G. H. Gillespie.

GIFT TO SCHOOL

Loch Lomond Chapter, I. O. D. E., Shows Interest in Boy Cadets.

An impressive little ceremony took place in the Trafalgar public school yesterday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, when the Loch Lomond chapter, I. O. D. E., formally presented a British standard to the school cadet corps.

The presentation took place in the assembly hall of the school, crowded with children, eager to witness the important ceremony. All of the officers of the Loch Lomond chapter were present at the invitation of L. D. McCamus, principal of the school.

Mrs. James Hendry, regent of the chapter, opened proceedings by briefly sketching the history of the flag, and the significance of its colors and their combinations.

At the close of her little talk, the flag was handed to Lieut.-Col. G. H. Gillespie, district cadet officer, who made the presentation. George Byrne, flag-bearer for the school, received the flag on behalf of the cadet corps.

In a brief talk, Col. Gillespie outlined the glorious history of the British Empire. It was a history of colonization rather than conquest, the story of the development of national independence, rather than the despotic tyranny that was practiced by Spain and France. He impressed on the children the fine spirit of British freedom, respecting the individual rights of citizenship, and with its colonies bound by a tie of sentiment.

At the close of his talk, the cadet corps stood in attention and saluted the flag. Before the gathering broke up, Principal L. D. McCamus, of the school, thanked Mrs. Hendry and her chapter, and Col. Gillespie for their interest in the school.

GUIDES OF ST. PETER'S WILL MARK BIRTHDAY

To Celebrate First Anniversary With Reception On Tuesday.

ERNEST SEITZ RECITAL SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Distinguished Toronto Pianist Will Play Unusual Program.

The piano recital which is to be given in the Central collegiate institute on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 19, by Ernest Seitz, distinguished Toronto musician, will be one of the outstanding events of the month. The recital is being arranged under the auspices of the choir of the Robinson Memorial church.

It is a very difficult and beautiful program which Mr. Seitz is to present, and one which only a musician of high rank could accomplish. It is prophesied for him that he will one day be among the leading musicians of the world. His closing numbers include a group from Rachmaninoff, which has in it the G Minor Prelude, seldom heard on account of the great difficulties which it offers.

Mr. Seitz will also play Scenes of Childhood by Schumann, and will be heard in interesting numbers from Beethoven, Chopin, Spendiarow, Rebikov and Rachmaninoff.

GOLDEN LINK CLUB.

The members of the Golden Link club were entertained at the home of Mrs. E. Shillick, Adelaide street, this week. Progressive eucher was played, and the prize-winners were Mrs. J. Spring, first prize; Mrs. L. Brooks, second prize; and Mrs. S. Arbuckle, special prize. A dainty luncheon was served at the conclusion of the games. Mrs. C. Perrin and Mrs. R. Atkins assisted as hostesses.

Mrs. Brooks invited the members to hold their next meeting at her home on Lovett street.

Uncle Wiggily

PENNY AND SUSIE'S

Uncle Wiggily, with Sammie Little-tail, the rabbit boy, Jingle, who was a little rabbit girl, and a nice old monkey gentleman were standing inside a hollow tree house, wondering what was going to happen next. The hollow tree was the woodshed of Uncle Wiggily's bungalow, and the friends had gone in to be safe from a snow storm. Sammie had tried to blow a tin horn, but, somehow, it wouldn't blow, and then, all of a sudden, the woodshed began to shiver. It seemed to be lifted up off the ground, so hard was it shaken.

"I lost my penny," sobbed Susie.

worried lest his woodshed fall apart.

"It's the Elephant," reported Jingle, looking out through the keyhole in the door, which was closed. "The circus Elephant is rubbing up against this woodshed and he is making it shake and lift up off the ground."

"Poor fellow—I suppose he is cold," said Uncle Wiggily. "Elephants don't like winter, you know," he explained.

"I don't, either," chattered the old monkey gentleman.

"I can't ask the Elephant in," went on Mr. Longears, looking at the small size of the woodshed room.

"Then please ask him to go away and shiver somewhere else," suggested Jingle. "Ask him to shiver against the side of a hill—it won't hurt if he shakes the hill."

So Uncle Wiggily opened the door a little way, and politely twinkling his pink nose at the Elephant the rabbit boy.

"Would you mind kindly leaning up against a side hill to shiver and shake? Besides, if you don't like it here, now that it is snowing, why don't you go down South where they have no winter? Why don't you?"

"Thanks, I will," spoke the Elephant through his long trunk of a nose. "I never thought of that. I'll go to Palm Beach."

"Right gladly will I do that," said the Elephant. "So he lifted the monkey up on his back, by his trunk, and as they were starting off Sammie again tried to blow the horn."

"But it won't toot!" said the little rabbit boy.

"Let me try," suggested the Elephant. He took the horn in his trunk, and putting one end in his mouth he breathed hard. "Toot! Toot! Toot! Toot!" went the horn. "It was just frozen up a bit," said the Elephant. And truly enough, he blew out a lot of snowflakes. By this time the snow was blowing in the open door of the woodshed, and Uncle Wiggily said they had all better hurry to his bungalow to get warm.

So the Elephant and the Monkey said goodbye to their friends, and the three rabbits jumped across the snow, making funny marks in the white surface. Uncle Wiggily leading Sammie and Jingle.

Just as they reached the bungalow they saw Susie, who was Sammie's sister. She was hopping around in the snow, crying.

"What's the matter?" kindly asked Sammie.

PRESENTATIONS TO MRS. TULLETT

Forest City Chapter Honors District Deputy Grand Matron—Give Banquet.

An enjoyable banquet was arranged last evening at the Smallman & Ingram dining-room by the members of the Forest City chapter, O. E. S., in honor of the district deputy grand matron, Mrs. Annie Tullett. A delicious supper was served, and the arrangements were in charge of Mrs. J. T. May and Mrs. Bristol.

Worthy Patron Charles Westman acted as chairman, and following the dinner he called upon the following after-dinner speeches: The honored guest, Mrs. Ben Noble, J. C. Doidge, past worthy grand patron; E. T. Essery; Sisters Borland, past worthy matron, and Linnell.

The company later went to the lodge rooms in the Alma block, where the regular meeting was held. Mrs. Tullett's visit was official and she inspected the officers, highly commending them on their work. Sister Caroline Connor was in the chair. After the work had been put on, presentations were made to Mrs. Tullett. First was the gift of a beautiful purse from the members. Mrs. J. W. Wallace and Mrs. Bond made the presentation on behalf of the chapter. The other was the presentation of a handsome wrist watch from the Harmony Star club.

A unique feature of the evening was another presentation to Mrs. Tullett. It was of a personal nature and took the form of a gift from her husband, Fred Tullett, of a beautiful harp, arranged with the star emblem and a diamond inset. It was presented by her daughter, who read the accompanying verse:

"I would like to say, that with Dad far away,

He is indeed happy tonight to know That you are visiting the Forest City chapter.

And being welcomed so,

And you will know that distance has

When I present this gift that came straight from his heart."

Sister Cousins, past worthy grand matron and grand representative for the state of Iowa, gave an interesting discourse on her visit to that state. Following delicious refreshments, dancing was enjoyed. The refreshment convener was Mrs. Dawkins, assisted by Mrs. H. Crummer.

Mrs. W. Crisp, Mrs. Cliff Read, Mrs. J. Dunkley, Mrs. B. Dawson and Miss Ada Minnelly.

Allow Women Seat On Vestry

Canadian Press Despatch.

Brandon, Man., Nov. 13.—The meeting of the Anglican synod here yesterday partially lowered the bars against women holding offices in the church and voted to allow women a seat on the vestry of their local church. The synod after some debate, however, voted against a proposal to allow women to be elected as delegates to the general and provincial synods.

"I would like to say, that with Dad far away,

He is indeed happy tonight to know That you are visiting the Forest City chapter.

And being welcomed so,

And you will know that distance has

DEANERY EARNS ABOUT W. A. WORK

Successful Autumn Meeting Is Held in Trinity Church, Lucan.

Special to The Advertiser.

Lucan, Nov. 12.—The autumn meeting of the rural deanery and woman's auxiliary of West Middlesex, was held recently in Holy Trinity church, Lucan. It was opened with the celebration of the Holy Communion, the celebrant being the Venerable Archdeacon Doherty, who was assisted by the rector, Rev. K. McDougall. The former also gave the devotional address.

After a short business session, wherein laymen's Sunday in particular was discussed, luncheon was served in the parish hall, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the rector and the ladies of Holy Trinity church for their generous hospitality.

When the company had reassembled in the church, the rector gave an address of welcome which was followed by an address on the diocesan budget, wherein he expressed the hope that 100 per cent of the deanery apportionment would be raised.

Tells of W. A. Work.

Mrs. David Williams, honorary president of the Huron W. A., in an address on woman's auxiliary work, gave an interesting report of the recent meeting of the dominion board of the W. A. at Vancouver, bringing out many encouraging features of the work, and showing that progress is being made in every department.

Mrs. T. A. Hodgins sang in sweet voice a beautiful solo. This was followed by a well-worked-out address on "The Church School," by Rev. Canon Andrew, showing the essentials for success in Sunday school work.

"The rector, whether able to attend the Sunday school or not should be interested and should make selection of the best teachers," he said. "Success depends in a large measure on the superintendent, who should be in sympathy with every department of church work. Much depends on the teacher who should be a loyal member of the church and a true Christian."

Mrs. Brown of St. John's church, Strathroy, sang a much-appreciated solo.

Have Many Members.

The closing address was given by Rev. W. H. Diehl, of Thornhill, on the subject of the "Anglican Young People's Association." It dealt particularly with the work as carried on in his own parish, where they have the largest membership in the diocese, comprising 202, with an average of 156.

Rev. H. R. Diehl, following the discussion on the advantage of a teacher training class. He believed it would be a good thing if one could be organized and continued continuously in every Sunday school.

Rev. A. Shore, during the discussion on the subject of the recent A. Y. P. A. work, gave an interesting summary of the recent A. Y. P. A. convention held at Brantford. Rural Dean Croly, who presided throughout, expressed his appreciation of the work done, and the meeting was brought to a close by Rev. Mr. Morris pronouncing the benediction.

CLUB NEWS

WELLS ACADEMY REHEARSAL.

The Wells Academy Dramatic club held its weekly rehearsal of Poor Father at the residence of C. Wells, 21 Adkin street, recently. At the close of the rehearsal refreshments were served and musical selections rendered.

SACRED HEART UNIT.

At a recent meeting of the Sacred Heart mothers' unit the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. James Welch; vice-president, Mrs. Furanna; secretary, Mrs. Robert Donohue; treasurer, Mrs. Martin Donohue. The members unanimously decided to assist the G. W. V. A. in the sale of poppies on poppy day. Plans were also discussed for a treat for the children of the school at Christmas time.

RYERSON MOTHERS' CLUB.

Mrs. J. F. Calvert was the speaker at this week's meeting of the Ryerson mothers' club. She gave a most interesting talk on Algonquin park, illustrating her talk with many slides. The views were of flowers, birds and the boys' camp in particular.

Mrs. Jack Ferguson, the president, was in the chair. During a short business session plans were discussed for a social time to be held some time in January. The committee in charge of the arrangements includes the members of the executive and program committee.

Mrs. Dorothy Dickerson sang very sweetly. The evening concluded with a social hour and light refreshments were served.

TECUMSEH CLUB TEA.

In spite of the rain, the musicale given at the home of Mrs. Plewes, McClary avenue, under the auspices of the Tecumseh mothers' club, yesterday afternoon, was a decided success. The rooms were gay with yellow and mauve mums. Mrs. Calvert, the president, presided at the door with Mrs. Plewes, and Mrs. J. T. Parkinson and Mrs. F. Galpin assisted in looking after the guests in the drawing-room. Mrs. F. Holland invited to the tea room. The attractive table was lovely with a Battenberg cloth centered with lavender mums and candles in silver candlesticks. Mrs. Brighton, honorary president, and Mrs. C. Boyce, second vice-president, presided over the tea cups. They were assisted by the members of the executive, of which Mrs. Wilson was convener.

An excellent program was rendered, including the following: Solos by Mrs. F. Galpin, accompanied by Mrs. J. T. Parkinson; duets by Mrs. E. Tremere and Mrs. E. Jenkins; violin selections by Jack Baird, and piano numbers by Miss Gladys Lowes, Miss Elsie Currie, Miss Laura Kirkwood and Mrs. F. Holland.

The members of the Primrose Euchre club met at the home of Mrs.

FAMOUS.

(Six-line series)
A painter borrowed me to paint.
Because I looked so queer and quaint.
A jealous little jug, and old,
Of copper lustre, glinting gold—
Returned again to shop antique,
I'm famous now, besides untold.
—Margaret Clarke Russell
The above poem was inspired by the art exhibit at Willow Hall and the thought that some of the beautiful potteries there furnished models for the work of London artists.

Will Fughs, Hamilton road, yesterday.

A radio concert was enjoyed and at the conclusion of the games Mrs. Will Lake drew the lucky number for a pretty luncheon set donated by Mrs. Owen. The proceeds of the draw will be devoted to relief work. After a dainty supper served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. T. Johnson, dancing and music formed a pleasant entertainment. The euchre prizes fell to Mrs. George Easterbrook, 1st; Mrs. Owen, 2nd, and Mrs. James Hodgson, consolation.

W. C. T. U. MOTHERS.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. Mothers' club was held yesterday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. A. F. Warren, in the chair. Rev. B. H. Robinson was the special speaker, giving an inspiring address on "Motherhood and Men." Mr. Robinson pointed out the responsibility of motherhood and told of the wonderful things mothers might accomplish with their sons and daughters. A social half hour was enjoyed by the members at the close of the meeting. Plans are under way by the club for sub-dividing the club into the four city wards, as the membership is increasing, and at the present time it is quite large.

ABERDEEN MOTHERS' CLUB.

Miss McDowell was the special speaker at last night's meeting of the Aberdeen Mothers' club. An interesting talk on "Auxiliary Classes" was given by the speaker, who told of the splendid work being done among backward children.

An excellent program was also given. It included a flute solo by J. H. Alcott, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Alcott. Mrs. Alcott also contributed vocal numbers, accompanied by Miss Kathleen England. Miss England gave readings as well.

It was announced that the next tea would be held at the home of Mrs. F. Bell, 92 Drensey avenue, on Wednesday next. Mrs. J. Addison will assist the hostess.

AUXILIARY CONCERT.

Three members of the women's auxiliary board of Victoria hospital arranged a delightful concert, which was given yesterday afternoon at the hospital. Mrs. Frank White was the convener, assisted by Mrs. Frank McLachlin and Mrs. Lowrey.

The program included delightful solos by Mrs. Beattie, accompanied by Mrs. McTavish, who also contributed several brilliant piano numbers. Miss Pauline Fitzgerald played a number of charming violin selections. At the supper, apples and grapes added a colorful note to the trays.

CHAPTER ENTERTAINS BOYS AT SANATORIUM

Loch Lomond Members Arrange Entertainment—Program of Music Given.

Under the auspices of the Loch Lomond chapter, I. O. D. E., a very delightful concert was given last evening at the Byron sanatorium. Mrs. J. Wilkie and Mrs. T. MacDonald were the conveners, while J. Brown acted as chairman.

Sergeant MacDonald arranged the program, taking to the sanatorium a number of pipers and dancers. The men were well entertained and greatly enjoyed the successful entertainment. The dancers included the Misses Lenore Gilmour, Ella Johnston, Violet Watson, Helen Wilkie, and Evelyn Nicholson. Miss Evelyn Nicholson also gave excellent readings, and Mrs. Geddes sang very sweetly a number of the good old-fashioned songs.

One of the features of the evening's program were songs by Carmen Learn, who shortly leaves London to be associated with Edward Johnston in New York. Mr. Learn's numbers were popular and his appealing songs were particularly appreciated.

There were many in attendance and at the conclusion of the program a dainty lunch was served.
