AND ACT GOING TRROUGH THE IMPERIAL COMMONS.

Bord Martington and Jesse Collings — The Tie of a Common Faith in the Union—The Eigpte in Distanced Shares—Revival of the "Mikade" in London.

LONDON June 8.—A new Newmaner Libel London, June 8.—A new Newspaper Libel Act is going through the House, designed to relieve the present law. As first drafted, however, it became, in Mr. Justice Stephen's view, something like a bill to authorize free trade in libel. The Journal, which of all morning papers published in London deals most freely in abuse, accuses Mr. Stephen of habitually violating the honorable traditions of the Bench, of grotesque pedantry, of quipbling and nettifegging. The article altogether is violent enough to make the House think twee whether further immunities can really violent enough to make the House think twice whether further immunities can really be necessary. However, the bill in its present amended form gives some needed relief from the penalties for publishing honest reports of public meetings. A portion of the English press, like the paper above quoted, naturally discusses this question with sole reference to press interests. More powerful and independent journals either, like The Times, say nothing, or like The Standard, remember that they have a duty to the public also. The better class of journals have very little to fear in these matters, says The Standard, most in these matters, says The Standard, most truly.

There are not, perhaps in all England, says Mr. Smalley, two men more remote from each other and more unlike in all essential respects but one or two than Lord Hartungton and Mr. Jesse Collings. When, therefore, you see Lord Hartungton presiding at a dinner to Mr. Collings it means something. It means in this case that the great Whig noble recognizes in the plebeian champion of the segrecultural laborer a man of genuine sincerity of character, who has done much useful work without reward. It means also that the tie of a formum faith in the Union and a common dread of Home Rule is as strong in these days as any other political bond whatever. The cocasion of this testimonial to Mr. Collings was his expulsion by the Gladstonians from the presidency of the Allotments Association; one more example of that fercoity which Mr. Godkin admires in English politics and practices in America. Mr. Chambadiain supported his friend Mr. Collins, and made a speech in the course of which he announced that an American statesman's name is William Henry Hurlburt. Sir Lepel Griffin, too, lent to this occasion, the ornament of his elequence, abounding, like Jefferson Brick's, in unconscious humor. He-praised Lord Hartington, but Lord Hartington will survive Sir Lepel's praise.

The zipple in diamond shares does not appraise.

cord fartington will survive Sir Lepel's raise.

The ripple in diamond shares does not apear to be as serious as at first reported. The took opened weak yesterday, but steadily recovered and closed strong at 29. The general-racribed reason for the fall is that the Deleem' report, of which advance information as had, was unfavorable, and that diamonds hich a year ago brought 27s a carat are now ifficult to sell at 17s in consequence of overroduction. The fact is, however, that age, has been a quarrel among the Hatton arden diamond merchants, who are the savies holders in the two leading comanies. The present expectation is that the imberly, the Central and the DeBeers will a malgamated in one general company, and it is possible that a corner in South while it is possible that a corner in South African diamonds may largely increase the market value of the general output.

The revival of "The Mikado" attracted a brilliant addience to the Savoy. The opera, which was conducted by Sullivan, went with all the vim of a first night's performance. The liret act went well, but the audience became attraction.

CLEVELAND'S RENOMINATION. Congratulations of the London Press—Why Bugland is Interested.

London, June 8.—This morning's papers, in referring to President Cleveland's renomination, say that it is all in the direction of Fre Trade and the comments are consequently congratulatory in tone.

The St. James Gazette says: The Democrats are extremely likely to have it all their own way at the next election. The Republicans have neither the man nor the cause, as we pointed out yesterday. The old issues of the war and the bloody shirt are exhausted, and the Republicans are looking about for a new ery which is not easy to find, and their still greater difficulty is to find a candidate who can make a good fight against the present President President.

The Pall Mall Gazette speaks even of a The Pall Mall Gazette speaks even of a third term as a matter of course—a President who, has been a success is almost sure to be nominated a second and third time. And the danger of the proceeding will lie in his enterman, and not in his personal greatness. If he governs well and wisely only machine politicians are likely to oppose him. "The point of the contest about which we feel the most interest in this country is the tariff question."

The Star says of the enthusiastic proceedings at St. Louis; "We may very well re-echo that enthusiasm on this side of the water, for the re-election of President Cleveland means the adoption of his program of tariff revision, and his ideas on that subject go a long way towards Free Trade." N.Y. Papers on the Platform. New Yors, June 8.—Referring to the platform adopted by the Democratic National Convention yesterday. The Herald (Ind. Dem.) says: It is as good a platform as was ever adopted by a convention, clear, straightforward, without quibble or double-dealing. What it declares concerning promises redeemed is true; what it promises the ticket guarantees.

The Sun (anti-Cleveland Dem.) says: In this declaration the whole elaborate reason; of President Cleveland's message against any reduction of the internal revenue is pitched everboard.

The Tribune (Rep.) says: In adopting this platform the convention puts itself in accord with the candidates and with more than ninetenths of the Democratic representatives in The Times (Ind.) says: The platform as it stands, after the additions made to it by the resolutions offered in the convention, is digni-ded, temperate and candid. A Wedding at All Saints'.

The bride was hendsomely attired, and was attended by Miss Lillie Spinks and Miss Nellie Phillips as bridesmads. Rev. A. H. Baldwin performed the ceremony. The wedding breakfast was puraken of at the Queen's after which the happy couple took the train for the east. has again been demonstrated, this time by the Society of Science, Literature and Arts of London, Eng., who on April 10th of this year, after a thorough examination, made the following award. REPORT ACCOMPANYING THE MEDAL.

Excess of praise is hardly possible when speaking of this new and superbly beautiful design, which is intended to meet the demand for a more expensive exterior or cabinet, together with a most superbaction. This organ is of most substantial and pleasing proportions, and of a style of finish suitable for any situation. In pleasing balance of proportions, practical utility of form, richness of ornamentation and delicacy of finish, this instrument will not only compare favorably with the best but surpass all organs of any make; while for strength and purity of tone, variety of expression and freedom of action it is far in advance of anything yet produced.

SIR HENRY V. GOOLD, Hon. Pres. Society Science. Letters and Art, London, Eng. REV. IRWIN COATES, M.A., Hon. Sec.

Referring to Piano Fortes of Messrs. But those remaining fully justified their high reputation. An Upright Grand, which I examined was in every respect a fine instrument; the touch was sympathetic and had a good repetition; the tone was full and rich. The Herald, published in The Michigan Soo. In a recent issue it said:

It is a matter for congrabilation that the beautifully situated fown of Sant So. Marie, Ontario, is building up fast this season. A visitor is at once incressed with the vigor that is being manifested in this direction, in happy contrast to the former stagnation. Probably the first important works that will be completed are the docks. The construction of the upper docks—now well advanced—will have a tendency to further cohance the value of property in the west end of the town, in fact many causes operate to make that part of the city the advance guard of the real estate price list. Straight back from the new dock there are numerous new frame buildings that show how rapidly the city is contaring between the old town and the bridge. The foundation walls of the magnificent International Hotel are nearly completed, and very soon a structure that will six allow these twice will be in plain view. The trip across the river will be maternally shortened wish the boats begin running to the new dock.

A good deal of American capital has been poured into the other side this season. One reason for investment was because real estate could be purchased as reasonable figures as compared with prices on this sale; and another; season where the form of the part of the growth of the place, as with investment was because real estate could be purchased as reasonable figures as compared with prices on this sale; and another reason for his sale; and another reason for his sale; and another season where the place are the sale in the sale of the place, as with investment sent people to enjoy the place. The reluctance with which the Dominion parts with its present Governor-General with parts with its present Governor-General will not lessen the warmth of its welcome to his successor. Both the occasion of the vacancy and the manner in which it is being filled are complimentary to the growth in rank of the colony. It is much that the governor-ship of Canada is a stepping-stone to the Indian Viceroyalty. An equal tribute to the importance of the office is its acceptance by an experienced and popular Cabinet Mine-ter. Canada is fortunate in the appointment

Few countries exist in when the mass of the population possesses more of the compose, and even the haveries, of life. For the most, and even the haveries, of life. For the most, and it is not many way willing to stake it on speculative chances of bethering it. Only stagnation material and mental maures a state against the rise from time to time of heated rivalries and controversies. Canada has had and will continue to have its share of them, and will continue to have its share of them; and and will continue to have its share of them; and and will continue to have its share of them; and and will continue to have its share of them; and independently by training and nature is as capable of using such a panepty as Lord Landdwne.

Canadians desire in a Governor a general connacilor and friend, one who will sel for their anxieties and partake their pleasures, a representative of the social refinement and intellectual oultivation of Europe who does not disclain its colomat reflection.
