The Commissioners Investigate Alleged sell themselves. Slips of Duty.

There was a lengthy and decidedly imporant meeting of the Police Commissioners resterday afternoon, the main matters dis issed being certain alleged breaches of discipline by members of the force. One con-stable was dismissed for indulging to excess in liquor, it being the second offence. Con-trandard of high emplitic metits stable Quinn was again paraded for the alleged assault on Mrs. Lauder on the night of the stable Guinn was again paraded to the alleged assault on Mrs. Lander on the night of the Orange riot in Church-street. Reporters for The Empire and Globe both testified to hav-ing interviewed Quinn when the matter was first made public, and receiving from him an assurance that he was not in the vicinity when the supposed trouble took place. Five witnesses swore to seeing him olub Mrs. Lander, but he is equally positive he did not, and decision was reserved to give him a chance to bring evidence in rebuttal. Then Constable Wallace (76), who did duty at Hanian's Point, and one of the most valuable officers in the force, was called upon to plead to a charge of having struck a citizen without provocation on the exhibi-tion grounds during the fair. Nothing was done in this affair, the Commissioners ad-journing to give both parties an opportunity to prove their allegations. prices remain the lowest. Here's a list from which
