NEILL MADE NO CONFESSION.
THE EXECUTION WILL BE STRICTLY PRIVATE.

He has instructed his solicitor to Draw Up His Will—His Legacy to the World Will Be a Brief Memory of One of the Great Masters of the Nineteenth Century.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—All the preparations for the execution of Thomas Neill, otherwise known as the "Great Master of the Nineteenth Century," are completed.

The execution will be strictly private, the only persons who will be present being the executioner, the coroner, the clerk of the prison, the executioner, and the prison officials.

Neill had two interviews to-day with his solicitor, Mr. Waters. In the first he gave instructions for the drawing up of his will, which was done again to-night with the document.

Neill made no confession.

MEERS WILL COME.
The Succession to Victoria's Throne Again Handed Down.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A new baby was born last night, which makes the great-grandchildren of the Queen now amount up to the unlikely number of 12.

It was a boy the name of the Princess Louise of Battenberg, who is a daughter of the late Princess Alice.

She will be 25 years old to-day. It is expected that she will become Queen of England. There are now 75 possible heirs to the throne, all told, and he comes 32nd on the list.

In spite of reports to the contrary, the Queen's health has been very good this autumn.

THREW HIS WIFE INTO FLAMES.
A Husband's Barbarous Scheme to Marry His Sister-in-Law.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—A trial which has become popular interest is displayed began to-day at Konigsberg.

The accused, Joseph Sura, was assigned to answer a charge of setting fire to his house at night, and throwing his wife into the flames.

It appears that Sura fell in love with his wife's sister, a girl 15, desiring to marry her, and determining to get rid of his wife that he might be free to do so.

He thought that by setting his house on fire and removing his most valuable articles from it and having his wife burn to death he would accomplish his purpose.

Unfortunately for Sura, the fire was not carried, inasmuch as before all hope of escape from the burning building was out Mrs. Sura awoke and ran.

Sura, however, was not to be baffled by this. He seized his wife, and carrying her to the house deliberately threw her into the fire. Neighbors who saw the act went to her rescue and took her out, but not until she was frightfully burned.

Only 21 years old was a pretty woman, only 21 years old was a pretty woman.

Cotton Operators' Treaty.

There are 6,000,000 spindles still at work on full time, 750,000 on short time and 12,000,000 are stopped.

The Manchester Association has asked the owners of the spindles working full time to begin to shorten their working hours.

It is expected that the owners will consent to the suggestion, but the matter is still in the hands of the owners.

LYNCHED ON THE PRAIRIES.
FALLS BEFORE A VOLLEY FROM ALBERTA'S CITIZENS.

The Murderer Confessed His Crime to a Farmer, Who Gave the Alarm and Led in the Capture—He Refused to Surrender and Was Killed by a Volunteer.

WISCONSIN, Nov. 14.—A few days ago Julius Schmidt and Ole Mickelson, two Norwegians, arrived at Edmonton from Minnesota, where Schmidt had sold his farm to settle in the Canadian Northwest.

On the morning after their arrival Schmidt was found dead on the roadside, with a bullet hole through his head.

The proceeds of the sale of the farm, which he was known to have had, had been taken and his companion, Mickelson, had disappeared.

As there appeared no doubt of Mickelson's guilt the authorities of Edmonton offered a reward for his capture.

This morning a farmer living about 20 miles from Edmonton encountered a man answering the murderer's description and attempted to arrest him.

The man admitted the murder and offered the farmer $100 to allow him to escape. The farmer refused and Mickelson then pulled a revolver and opened fire on his captor, who quickly retreated, and the murderer fled.

The farmer gave the alarm and organized a posse of citizens, who overtook the murderer after a long chase.

THE HUNTERS' RETURN
And Their Batch of Stories From the Muskoka District—A Successful Season.

The Rutherford-Roy hunting party arrived home last night after having been following the deer in his haunts in the back country since the season opened on the first. This year's hunt was a successful one as far as the game was concerned.

The party of eight brought back 10 fine bucks. They hunted a broad stretch of country, covering Gold, Gold, Eagle, Copper, Cloudy, Cox's and Little Gold Lake. The weather was the disagreeable part of the camp. It rained almost every day and the ground was very muddy.

Another party, consisting of Mr. Johnston, Louis Spry, Robert Deyell and William Morris, who were hunting the Eagle, Copper and Cloudy lakes country, have also returned with nine deer and a fine pair of lynx. The latter were shot by Mr. Morris. One deer, a credit to Mr. W. Redmond's rifle. This is a monster doe.

LITTLE OLIVE OIL BUT MUCH SODA IN HIS BRAND.

Visited Last Evening In An Attempt to Outlast the Platform of the President of the Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association—The Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association—The Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association.

When President Armstrong of the Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association delivered his now famous inaugural address he lost a bee in the bonnets of some of the members, whose buzz has become a sore to the ears of the Conservative party.

Continuing he said that there had been no constitutional convention of either party for years. The present measures were the work of the Cabinet, and in the framing of some of them "Do you call that representation of the government?" [Applause.]

I do not attack the general policy of the Conservative Government up to the present. I believe that the policy of the Conservative party is sound. [Applause.]

For several days a warrant—has been in the detective's office charging Chisholm with attempting to kill his mother and brother by putting poison in their tea and on some bread that he had expected them to partake of.

Only a short time before Chisholm tried to end his own life by partaking of poison, but was pumped out.

When arrested a revolver was found in his possession. His friends believe he is innocent, and will make an effort to get him into the asylum.

Chisholm, who is 43 years of age, has a large circle of highly respected relatives in Oakville, and until lately showed no signs of insanity.

A CROWDED COURT.
Appeals from Ward 6, Div. 3, Disposed of Yesterday.

"Standing room only," could well have been placed outside the room in which the Revision Court held its sitting yesterday. The incessant hum of the many voices seemed peculiarly annoying to the board, and it was not until 11 o'clock that the court adjourned.

Alexander McDonald had $85 a foot dropped off his assessed property in College-street, but as he would not inform the court as to the amount of his income it was assessed at $80 per annum.

John Maloney had a big budget of assessment slips, and was lucky enough to get $1200 a year. His assessment on property in Dufferin-street.

Alderman Bell had a heavy pack of slips also, and did fairly well, and now because he had cut it up into lots it was raised to $400. The assessment was reduced to $300.

Col. Denison was present all day, but the relations between himself and the court are not so friendly as they were formerly.
