

CONTENTS OF VOL. II.

CHAPTER I.

Page.

The party leave Lake Travers. They fall in with large herds of buffalo. Observations upon the roving of this animal. Meeting with a war party of the Wahkpakotas who manifest hostile dispositions. Arrival at Pembina	5
--	---

CHAPTER II.

Fort Douglas, and Lord Selkirk's colony. Bark canoes. Lake Winnepeek. Fort Alexander. River Winnepeek. Rapids. Portages. Fine falls. Lake of the Woods. North-westernmost point of the boundary line. Rainy Lake river and lake. Fort. Series of rapids and lakes. Dividing ridge. Falls of Kamana-tekwoya. Arrival at Fort William	58
---	----

CHAPTER III.

Account of the Chippewa Indians. Their usages, manners, and customs	151
---	-----

CHAPTER IV.

Departure from Fort William. Trap formations on Lake Superior. Michipicotton house. Arrival at the Sault de St. Marie. Conclusion of the Journey	174
--	-----

CHAPTER V.

General description of the country traversed by the Expedition, designed as a topographical report to the War Department, by S. H. Long, Major United States' Topographical Engineers.
I. Of the country between Philadelphia and the Ohio river	207
II. Of the country between the Ohio river and Lake Michigan	209
III. Of the country and navigable communications between Lake Michigan and the Mississippi river	212
IV. Of the St. Peter river and adjacent country. Also of the Coteau des Prairies	220

VOL. II.

1½