

"A more vital, helpful, inspiring form of religious truth it would be difficult to find, even in these days when the pulpit is a power, and the pew has become a living, independent, thinking personality."—DOVER (N.H.) MORNING STAR.

The English Pulpit of To-Day.

LIGHT FROM ACROSS THE WATER!

OCCUPYING A NEW FIELD COVERED BY NO OTHER PERIODICAL IN THIS COUNTRY.

PARTIAL LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS.

Bradley, Dean.
Brooke, Stafford.
Brown, Hugh Stowell.
Canterbury, Archb'p of.
Carpenter-Boyd, Bishop.
Dale, R. W.
Dykes, J. Oswald.
Farrar, Archdeacon.
Garrett, Chas.
Hall, Newman.
Hubbard, Wm.
Johnson, E., Prof.
Jones, J. C.
Leathes, Stanley.
Liddon, Canon.
MacDonald, F. W.
MacDonald, George.
MacLaren, Alex.
MacMillan, Hugh.
Magee, Bishop.
Manning, Cardinal.
Mursell, Arthur.
Newman, Cardinal.
Parker, Joseph.
Spurgeon, C. H.
Statham, W. M.
Tulloch, Principal.
Vaughan, C. J.

"It occupies the same relation to the Sermonic World that Little's and the Eclectic hold to the field of General Literature."

Every Number Contains

Five Sermons in full, preached during the month by leading English ministers.

Every Number Contains

An Expository Lecture by one of the ablest English Theologians.

Every Number Contains

Prayer Meeting Talks and Sermonic Outlines of special suggestiveness to the minister.

Every Number Contains

A Children's Sermon.

Every Number Contains

A Review of the latest Theological publications at home and abroad.

Every Number Contains

Valuable original articles by the leading thinkers of all denominations.

The PULPIT is published on the 10th of each month at $1.50 a year; Clergymen, $1.00; single numbers, 15c. Remittances should be by money order, draft or registered letter to

ALFRED E. ROSE, Publisher, Westfield, N.Y.