

The grade Alderneys in this Class were well represented, and merited all the commendation bestowed upon them by visitors. For Dairy purposes there is no breed that approaches the Alderney. The imported Cow, first of the breed here, owned by the late Thomas Killam, had a record of nineteen pounds of the very finest butter per week. Some of her descendants, half-blood, through her first calf, (a Bull), have done nearly as well; with good care they come in at two years old. One at the Carlton Club Farm, 15-16th Alderney, came in this season, when six days less than sixteen months old. An offer of $125.00 for her was refused. They attain a full average of size, weighing from nine to thirteen hundred, and, notwithstanding the assertions often seen to the contrary, take on flesh quickly and readily when dry.

REPORT.

"Committee on Class 4 report as follows:—In Sheep there is great improvement, particularly in Fat Wethers, one of which, half South-down, weighed 160 lbs. The Lambs also were large with good wool.

The Pigs were about as good as last year, with one exception; the Sow imported from Pennsylvania, with a litter of nine pigs, was the finest ever on exhibition in Yarmouth.

There was a marked improvement in Poultry, one collection of pure bred Fowls was very fine, six varieties; Geese were good, one lot of four weighing twelve pounds each."
