

NovAtel's GPSCards all have one thing in common...an unmatched level of performance. NovAtel invented the patented Narrow Correlator™, a unique correlation technique which enables you to determine your position within one meter, instantaneously and in real-time.

Along with our superior performance and industry leading accuracy, all our OEM products can be customized to accommodate your applications needs. We provide a full line of GPS hardware and software including: GPSCards in PC or OEM format, antennas and cables as well as accompanying accessories.

At NovAtel, we believe that the applications for our GPS products are limited only by your imagination.
