

On the twenty seventh of March in last year, a Sunday School was opened in the School house in Robinson Village, under the sole management of the Incumbent ; when about twenty four children attended. In the month of June Miss Richardson came to Canada and she at once helped her brother in his Sunday School, by taking the girls under her personal care. The members in this School kept on steadily increasing until they reached nearly fifty ; when Miss O'Connor, a lady residing in the Village, very kindly volunteered to assist in the School, and her assistance has indeed been most valuable.

On the fourth of September in last year, another Sunday School was opened, at St. John's Church, Dudswell Road, under the management of Mr. John Martin : the Incumbent attending whenever it was his turn to officiate at St. John's in the afternoon.

On the eighteenth of January 1865, the children belonging to the Sunday School, to the number of about sixty, met together at the school house at Robinson Village, when they were provided with a good tea, and after tea, some prizes were given away, and the proceedings were closed with Evening Prayer at St. Paul's Church. It was, indeed, a pleasing sight to see the happy faces of so many children, and quite repaid one for any trouble that might have been taken in the matter.

During the month of March last, a Sunday School was opened at the Brookbury school house, about two miles from St. John's Church, under the management of Mr. Joseph Clarke : and on the 28th of last July, all three schools met at the Parsonage glebe, and spent the afternoon in play, after which they had tea, and then short addresses were given by A. G. Bompas, Esq., M.D., the Revs. G. B. Dodwell, M.A., John Kemp, B.D., and A. C. Scarth, M.A. Prizes were given to those who had fairly won them ; and then the children, to the number of one hundred and ten, walked in procession to the village church : when Evening Prayer was said by the Revs. G. B. Dodwell and A. C. Scarth, the lessons being read by the Rev. John Kemp, and a sermon was preached by the Rev. E. C. Parkin, of Cookshire. Altogether the encouragement given to the Incumbent to establish Sunday Schools in his mission has been most satisfactory ; the two chief difficulties, being the want of suitable teachers, and also the impossibility of his being at every school every Sunday.

The incumbent is also able to report an improvement in singing in two of his churches.

A new melodeon was purchased for the village church in the latter part of last year. In this church all the canticles are chanted, and also the responses after the Commandments. Here there is service every
