HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE CONTROVERSY ON THE IMMACULAE CONCEPTION. By
FATHER FELIX, S. J.,	5
DEDICATION,	37
INTRODUCTION,	39
I, II.
Conception is either active or passive,	40
III.
The passive Conception of Mary was Immaculate,	41
IV.
It was most fitting that Mary should be exempt from original sin,	42
V, VI.
This exemption is proved by arguments taken from the Holy Scriptures,	43
VII.
There is nothing contrary to the Immaculate Conception of Mary to be de- duced from the First Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians,	45
VIII.
The Council of Trent inclines to our opinion,	48
IX, X.
The Declaration of the Council of Trent confirms the opinion that Mary was exempt from original sin,	52
XI.
The opponents of the doctrine seek in vain for a renewal of the Constitu- tions of Sixtus IV, attributing to the declaration a meaning contrary to that pious opinion,	54
XII.
Definition of the Council of Basle adopted by the provincial Council of Aragon,	56
XIII.
How the Sovereign Pontiffs favored the opinion of the Immaculate Concep- tion of Mary,	59
