MAKES DEMAND

It should be removed by the nationalization of the land. Some plan should be devised by which the Dominion should hold the title to the land for the benefit of the whole people.

Physical Culture.

Militarism was a terrible curse in some countries. If the school cadet and boy scout movements were developed with a view to the physical culture of the boys and the implanting in them of a spirit of true patriotism they were all to be heartily commended, but the love of militarism itself should be firmly kept in check.

Another Cause.

At the Christmas season it seemed almost out of place to speak of another cause of poverty—personal extravagance. Some people whatever their incomes, would exceed them.

Rage For Pleasure.

From the five-cent moving picture show to the most costly recreations there was a prevalent public rage for pleasure destructive of many homes.

Poverty had been carried to a lamentable extent by preventable accidents in factories and various industries. They were being diminished by some, but the love of militarism employers paid more attention to the profits of their business than the security of the health of their employees.

Instalment System.

Many were led into debt by the inducements of instalment system purchases. The worst cause of poverty was immorality. The disclosures by the vice commission in Chicago, Minneapolis and Montreal showed that the money dissipated aggregated many millions of dollars annually.

No Sure Cure. There was no sure cure for poverty. Religion itself was not always sufficient. Some of the most godly men and women, even in Canada, had at times been compelled to seek financial assistance for no fault of their own. The single tax system and woman's suffrage were all strongly advocated by some, but Christian Socialism in its most comprehensive application might not suffice for all cases.

One great remedy would be the conservation for the people of all the great national resources of the country, such as the mines. The suppression of the liquor traffic would help in the solution of the problem. A co-operative industrial system in place of the present wage system would be an advantage. The spread of a brotherly spirit in the community would be the most potent factor in driving poverty out of the community.

LIVES LOST IN NEWPORT FIRE.

NEWPORT, R.I., Dec. 28.—(Can. Press.)—Two lives were lost and 18 buildings damaged here early today in a fire which caused a loss of $200,000. Firemen and policemen, searching thru burned dwellings after the fire, discovered the charred bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Heath. Mr. Heath was 70 years of age and an invalid. Appearances indicated that his wife attempted to carry him from their burning home, when both were overcome by smoke.

The entire fire fighting force of Newport was assisted by 200 blue-jackets from the naval training station.

BIG JEWISH PAPER.

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—The publication of a Jewish daily paper to be called "The Canadian Jewish World," will begin here in March. The company to issue it has bought a site in the centre of the city and will erect a ten-story building on it.

The editor of "The Jewish World" will be R. Bratman, at present editor of "The Jewish Eagle."

Be an
"Apple-seed
Johnny"

There are two classes of citizens—just two—who should vote "yes" on the King Edward Memorial Sanitarium Bylaw on Wednesday next—viz, those who have had personal experience in their own families of the ravages of this awful white plague, "Consumption," and—those who have not.

You are included in one of these classes—which?

If in the former, the voting upon this bylaw will call forth memories too sacred to unveil. I know you will vote for it, for "a fellow-feeling makes us wondrous kind."

You will rejoice to hear that within the past ten years the deaths from this disease have been reduced 40 per cent.—nearly one-half of what they formerly were, and that through the efforts of this and kindred associations throughout the world there is assurance that before many years it will become quite as rare in our midst as Smallpox and Leprosy. You could not possibly vote otherwise.

Perhaps, however, you belong to those who, like myself, have had no such personal experience. Strange, isn't it, that, although the deaths in Canada from this disease are about one out of every eight, we and ours have been spared? Personally, I thank God for it, whilst recognizing a special obligation because of this very fact.

Understand that I write now simply as a fellow-citizen. I am not in any way identified with the movement. I have never even attended a meeting in connection with it—not because I have not been in thorough sympathy with the cause, but simply because any little public service I have been able to render has been in other directions.

Now that this question is before us in such concrete shape, however, I feel a strong desire to discharge this obligation in so far as possible, and am now entirely on my own responsibility, and at my own expense, trying to let you into my vote and co-operation in so "Christ-like" a movement.

Of course, in one sense, it does not concern you and me just now, alas—but just now we have no distinct need. True, it will add to our taxes. It involves the expenditure of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), but you and I do not have to pay that amount. Your share is exactly 2 3/4c a year for every thousand dollars of your assessment. Just fancy, less than 3c a year—not a day, but 3c a year, on every thousand dollars of your assessment—less than a Street Car ticket—a limited ticket at that—not a whole 10c cigar—just one-third of a smoke, and that only once in a year. Yes, I have it upon unquestionable expert authority that that amount provides not only for the interest, but also a Sinking Fund for the redemption of the debentures as they fall due. Suppose it were dollars instead of cents—do we not owe it to the others?

I wonder if you have ever heard of "Apple-seed Johnny"—quite a quaint character, living back about the year 1855 or '60—people said he was a "crank." Oftentimes shoeless, with a small bag containing all his worldly effects upon his shoulders, he wandered over his native State, Indiana, and the adjacent country, with stick in hand. Coming to a "likely spot" he would lay his bundle down and with his pointed stick "jab" a hole in the ground, and, taking from his pocket an apple-seed, drop it in the hole, then, lovingly patting the earth upon it, pass on to repeat the operation in other "likely spots." They said he was a "crank," and he sure must have been. He had neither "chick nor child" to enjoy the fruit, being a lonely bachelor. His was not the land—it mattered not to him who owned it, and to save his life he could not have eaten one barrel of the fruit in a year had he tried to. He must therefore have been a "crank," as they said.

However, in a few years, when Johnny had gone on the "long journey" and the trees were full grown, the homes which they sheltered, the landscape made beautiful, the blossoms of Spring, the golden fruit of Autumn, and the laughter of the children at play beneath their branches, all bore silent testimony to the fact that "Johnny" was not the "crank" they thought him.

Toronto can stand any number of just such "cranks"—men who are big enough to think of others, who realize that they are under obligation to pass on to others blessings such as they themselves have received from their "forebears," who, when any expenditure for the doing away of congested districts, the beautifying of our city, the brightening of life for the sick and unfortunate is to be faced, do not "sit back" and say: "It won't do me any good."—"I don't need it."—"What has posterity done for me?"

I believe in economy, but I do not believe in parsimony. A million-dollar expenditure added to our debenture debt today, upon an assessment of four hundred and twenty-four millions ($424,000,000), means infinitely less than twenty-five thousand dollars, yes, ten thousand dollars, in our earlier days. At most, it means but a few cents annually to you and me. We owe to others less fortunate, and to posterity at large, the discharge of many of these obligations.

Yes, we want more "Apple-seed Johnny" in this city—men who, regardless of personal interests, are prepared to render unselfish service by planting "apple-seeds" as they journey along their way.

The King Edward Memorial Sanitarium is a most "likely spot" for just such a seed. With your pointed pencil, on Wednesday next, just "jab" a cross opposite the "yes" upon your ballot-paper. Even though you may not need it, others do—they need it sadly, just be an "Apple-seed Johnny."

James Ryrie

P.S.—Don't you think the Sick Children's Hospital should have what they are asking for as well? This, of course, will cost you higher still. It will add the enormous sum of 31.3c more annually to your tax paper upon every thousand dollars of your assessment. "Don't you think the 'kiddies' are worth it?"

FOR ENDING
CONFLICT

Turkish Delegates Are Expected to Submit Modified Terms to Peace Conference Today as Result of Further Communications—Allies Fear European Intervention.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—(Can. Press.)—Notwithstanding apparently insurmountable difficulties attending the successful issue of the peace conference, the prospects tonight look brighter, more because of the changing atmosphere of the conference than on account of any new fact.

In the first place, it is stated on good authority that the Turkish delegates will present tomorrow modified terms better calculated to afford a basis for negotiation, and, in the second place, the allies appear more anxious to come to real business, if it is at all possible. They have occupied the week end in exchanging long other telegrams with their respective governments, in order to be fully informed on all points and in complete agreement. They seem to be nervously apprehensive that they will be deprived of the fruits of their victories by European intervention. One of the delegates said tonight:

Between Two Fires. "It is difficult to say whether our struggle will be harder against Muslim oppression or against European intervention, which already several times has prevented us from shaking off the Ottoman yoke. Although our armies have victoriously reached Tostatalja, Europe might wish to return Adrianople to the Moslems, forgetting or ignoring what that would mean to the Christian population. But we know the value of the so-called European guarantees for Turkish reforms, and this time we will not give in.

"If official Europe likes horrors it shall have them. We will fight to the bitter end. An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth."

The Balkan delegates fear that Austria's attitude is encouraging the Turks to resist.

Reached Pasha Hoped for the head of the Turkish delegates, is in constant touch with Constantinople with respect to the declarations which he will make at the next meeting of the conference tomorrow afternoon. It is reported that he is personally opposed to extreme proposals, but has been forced to accept instructions from the Porte, which were dictated partly by fear of the "Young Turks" and the military party, and partly in hope of favorable European intervention.

The Turks hold the view that they have nothing more to lose, and may secure better terms after the resumption of hostilities. Reached Pasha himself is still sanguine of a successful issue of the conference.

NEW TRADE MARKS
FOR BRITISH GOODS

Recent Legislation Provides For Drawing Distinction Between United Kingdom and Dominion Products.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The text of the merchandise marks bill, which was recently introduced into the commons and which seeks to amend the law as to trade marks descriptions is now published. The measure provides that all goods bearing a description liable to make purchasers believe they had been manufactured within the British Islands shall be marked with the words "British Empire made." If manufactured in any part of the British Empire outside the British Islands or with the words "not British" if manufactured outside British Empire. All goods marked "British Empire made" in accordance with this provision are to be accompanied by a sworn declaration before the commissioner for oaths that the goods were manufactured within the British Empire.

PARCEL POST IS NEW YEAR'S GIFT

Government of United States Makes Big Step in Public Ownership on Wednesday Next.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—At midnight on Tuesday, Dec. 31 (New York time), the new parcel post system, authorized by congress, will be put in operation in the United States. Every-thing is practically ready to start the machinery that will carry into effect this vast addition to the postal business of the country. Many difficulties are still to be overcome, but the postal authorities are satisfied that these will disappear with experience, and they do not doubt their ability to have the system running in apple-pie order within a very short time.

An immense amount of preparation was necessary to lay the foundation for this innovation in the relations between the postoffice department and the people. Postmaster-General Hitchcock, who had been an ardent advocate of the idea, has worked early and late in devising plans for giving the greatest amount of service and in overcoming difficulties that constantly presented themselves. He is now very well satisfied with what has been accomplished, and is looking forward with great interest to the workings of the experiment that will be undertaken under his direction.

In discussing the inauguration of the parcel post system, Postmaster-General Hitchcock said he regarded it as a stepping stone to the acquisition by the government of the entire express-carrying business of the country.

STEAMER WRECKED
IN GALE: FIFTEEN OF CREW DROWNED

Danish Steamer Swamped in English Channel—Captain and Another Survivor Picked Up Exhausted.

PENZANCE, Eng., Dec. 28.—Fifteen of the crew of the Danish steamer Volmer were drowned when she was wrecked on Thursday in the great gale which has been raging in the English Channel.

The captain of the Volmer and another survivor were picked up in a state of collapse in an open boat to-day 50 miles to the southwest of the Lizard and landed at Newlyn by a trawler this afternoon.

The crew abandoned the sinking steamer on Thursday. One of the boats, with nine occupants, was immediately swamped by the heavy seas, and six men were washed out of the second boat, commanded by the captain. All of them were drowned.

The two survivors were dashed about for two days before being sighted by the trawler that rescued them.

GOVERNMENT HOLDS UP LAND PATENTS

International Power Company Said to Have Got Land Under Guise of Mining Claims.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—By the joint action today of the war, interior and agricultural departments, extensive land patents of the International Power and Manufacturing Company of the State of Washington were held up, because of the belief of Secretary Fisher, as expressed in a statement, that the company was trying to "free itself from all control by the government by securing patents to lands under the guise of mining claims or by railroad scrip filings in combination with a special dam license."

BAR CATHOLIC BOOK.

ST. CATHARINES, Dec. 28.—The public library board last night definitely decided the long-drawn-out struggle over the proposed purchase of a Catholic encyclopedia. It was decided to be in the controversial class and was barred from a place in the building.

HEARD SCREAM ON NIGHT OF THE MURDER

Testimony of Woman Neighbor Will Be Important Feature of Preliminary Trial of Henry Love Today—Startling Evidence Is Promised by Crown.

FLESHERTON, Dec. 28.—(Special.)—Sensational facts will be brought out at preliminary trial of Henry Love, the alleged wife murderer, at Ceylon tomorrow afternoon, according to Inspector Reburn who declines to disclose the nature of his new evidence, beyond that it will be of a startling nature. The investigation will be held in the Orange Hall, the building which nearly collapsed during the funeral services of the late Mrs. Love, two weeks ago.

Additional testimony of an incriminating nature is expected from the young son, Arnold Love, in regard to events immediately prior and subsequent to the disappearance of his mother. A woman has been found who heard a scream in the Love house at about 10 o'clock on the night the murder must have been committed. Much importance is attached by the crown to this testimony.

It is learned that another woman neighbor of the Love's, will testify that she saw Love early on the morning after Mrs. Love disappeared, and his actions were so strange that she spoke to her husband about it. This occurred a couple of hours before the time Love says he left his home on that morning.

Another Knife Found. The police have in their possession another knife with which it was possible to inflict the wounds that caused the woman's death. It is alleged by the crown that on the night of the crime, Arnold saw this knife on a window sill near the door to the cellar, where the murdered woman was hidden. Thru the boy and other witnesses an attempt will be made to prove that the clothing worn by Love on the day the woman disappeared is not to be found among Love's effects, particularly a pair of patched trousers and a black smock, which were the man's working clothes.

Those who were with Love while his wife was missing will testify as to his actions. Altogether, fifteen witnesses have been summoned. They are nearly all former neighbors of the Loves.

No Motive Found. The efforts of the police to find a motive for the crime have been entirely in vain, tho the officers have made searching enquiries during the past couple of weeks in every direction.

Crown Attorney Armstrong of Owen Sound has not sufficiently recovered from his illness to conduct the prosecution, and Hon. I. B. Lucas will again take the crown's case. Love will be defended by W. H. Wright of Owen Sound.

It is said that there is additional evidence to the effect that Love did not sleep in his own bed which was over the cellar where the body was concealed on the night of the tragedy, but that he lay upon a bed in a spare room.

EUROPEAN WAR
FEARED IN ITALY

ROME, Dec. 28.—(Can. Press.)—The attitude of Austria is being freely discussed in political circles, and the opinion is gaining that the situation cannot continue without endangering the peace of Europe.

Leonid Bissolati-Boragamschi, the Socialist member of the chamber of deputies, who opposed the annexation of Tripolitana and Cyrenaica to Italy, writing to The Messenger, says that a rupture of the negotiations, if it takes place, will multiply the probability of a European war, since it is Austria upon whom all depends, and it is to Austria that a request for an explanation should be addressed. He urged that it was Italy's duty as the ally of Austria to ask for that explanation.

DECIDES AGAINST
KING'S LIBELLER

Edward Mylius Must Be Deported, Says Board—Will Appeal to U. S. Secretary of Commerce.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Eduard Mylius, the English journalist who served a year in jail for libelling King George, will not be permitted to land on American shores. The special board of enquiry, hearing his appeal from an order of deportation, so decided today in upholding the order.

Mylius announced thru his attorney that he would at once appeal directly to the United States secretary of commerce and labor to reverse the finding of the special board.
