REPEATS CHARGES RE KAPUSKASING

Carmichael Challenges Government to Hold Searching Investigation.

W. J. Carmichael, general organizer of the Grand Army of Canada, declared to The World last night that nothing but a judicial investigation, before an impartial board, could bring the facts to light in connection with conditions at the Kapuskasing soldiers' colony.

Mr. Carmichael took strong exception to the reports issued by the G. W. V. A. and provincial government in regard to this matter and stated that he was prepared to stand by his charges and to go into the witness box if need be.

"I want to state that Herbert Lewis, of the G. W. V. A., is double-crossing the returned men," said Mr. Carmichael, "and I challenge the provincial government and the department of lands to bring the soldier settlers before an impartial board to state their case."

Reiterating that conditions in the colony were deplorable, Mr. Carmichael related his recent trip there in company with Herbert Lewis, the G. W. V. A., and Deputy Minister Grier, of the department of lands.

"When the settlers realized that Mr. Lewis was from the G. W. V. A. they refused to recognize him, he declared, adding that the G. W. V. A. representative did not get a chance to investigate conditions fully during the short time he was there."

Signed Statements. Mr. Carmichael stated that his recent trip to the colony was the third time he had been there. He said that the time previous he was accompanied by Fred Uffler, secretary to Herby Dewart, who took down the men's statements, which were signed by them. These were laid before the prime minister of Ontario who promised to send a representative to the colony with full authority to act.

"There are only two men satisfied with conditions in the colony and they have been got at by the government officials," stated Mr. Carmichael. In regard to the statement by Herbert Lewis that his attack on conditions was inspired by political motives, Mr. Carmichael stated emphatically that he had no political aspirations whatever, and that he would never see him in the political field. He declared that his agitation in connection with Kapuskasing was prompted by his desire to better the conditions of the settlers there and for no other motive.

Mr. Carmichael concluded by saying that if he was unable to prove his charges in the witness box, before an impartial board of investigation, then it was up to the government to put him in jail.

A full report on the matter is to be prepared by Mr. Carmichael to be submitted to the government.

WITH MILITARY HONORS.

Pte. Samuel Snow, 32 years old, 30 Nassau street, who died in the Western Hospital on Saturday morning, will be buried in Prospect Cemetery with full military honors. He enlisted in 1914 with the 19th Battalion, and was gassed at Ypres and shell-shocked at Courtrai. He was returned home in May last and discharged. His death is said to have been from the effects of the gas inhaled. His widow, a four-year-old daughter, and a sister, Mrs. H. Pike, St. John's, Nfld., survive him.

E. F. C. SURPLUS FUNDS

Y.M.C.A. Official Compares Methods of That Organization and Army Canteens.

Much comment has been excited by the information from General Byng that Canada would receive $2,000,000 from the expeditionary force canteen profits, and the veterans regard it as another means toward providing for the war service bonus asked for.

These funds in no way involve the Y.M.C.A., according to Mr. Booth, who is now governing by the expeditionary force canteen board, so that both sold at a profit. But while the profits of the E.F.C. were kept intact, the Y.M.C.A. profits were turned back into the organization for running expenses, which ran about three times as much as the profits. The E.F.C. had no other expense, but that for operation. They carried out no large programs of entertainment.

WHO IS SELINDA?

Ah, Selinda—There are things to be said of Selinda Swan such as would awaken interest in the duldest imagination—and we would say them all—only space is short. She is going to speak for herself next week—and, my word! how she can talk.

WHAT IS SHE-E?

Better make sure of seeing her Monday night—you are going to be quite a friend of hers.

NOT AMALGAMATION BUT CO-OPERATION

Veterans' League Does Not Involve Surrender of Constitution, Says President.

President George Sweeney of the Veterans' League of Toronto, made it clear yesterday that the proposed scheme of co-operation of the five veterans' associations in Toronto is not an amalgamation, and does not involve the surrender of constitutions on the part of the individual components.

The Veterans' League of Toronto has been in existence for many months, and consists of representatives from each of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, His Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans, the Grand Army of Canada, and the Naval Veterans' Association.

President Sweeney stated that the United Veterans' League would be admitted to representation on the Veterans' League of Toronto if and when they receive a charter as it is the object of the league to embrace all possible veteran associations.

N. Y. LONGSHOREMEN AND TUG MEN OUT

Over Fifteen Hundred Shipyard Workers Also Quit Yesterday.

New York, Oct. 1.—The port of New York was hit today by a simultaneous strike of longshoremen and tugboat men, the situation being further aggravated by a partial walkout of shipyard employees.

The situation in the shipyards was very confused owing to the fact that the shipping board officials denied a strike was in progress, although at different yards it was admitted that numbers of men had not reported for work.

Penrod and Sam

MANY Toronto people are making the acquaintance of these two clever boys at the Princess Theatre this week. Grow-ups are living over again with them all the adventures of those far-off golden days with all the eager intensity of youth, and youngsters are finding real fun in seeing the things done on the stage which they do themselves.

Just plain, healthy boys, of the variety which flourishes on many a Toronto street, but, nevertheless, they are beings of intense interest to any one with vision enough to see in them men of the future.

This snapshot was taken just after these two fine boys had been fitted with suits in our Boys' Clothing Department. While every boy enjoys a new smart suit, what he wants above everything is that it will be a real boy's suit—one that won't interfere too much with the many important things that demand immediate doing in a boy's life.

This store handles just the sort of clothing that appeals to a real boy and his mother, too—the smartest in appearance, the best in quality and the right kind of clothes.
