

WOMAN'S WORLD.

THE MAN SHOPPER.

I am a man shopper. I am one of a million souls, and yet I am a million souls in one. I stride hither and thither, looking for something to give to Lizzie, and for the talking doll for my sister's cousin's niece.

I have in my vest pocket the list. Mine is one of a million vest pockets, and mine is a million vest pockets in one. I must find pearl-handled opera glasses for Cousin Jennie (if I can get anything decent for $3.00).

I must get a hundred other things, for this is the season of joy and gladness.

I am the man shopper. I feel that my heart is big within me. I submit my vest to give it room.

I say my heart is big and I submit my vest, and a kind old lady warns me that I am tempting the pneumonia.

I wonder what the world would do without the Kind Old Ladies (Confound it, Madam, you may be kind, but your umbrella's jabbed me in the short ribs).

I am a man shopper.

I hear a hundred girls giggle about what they will get for him. I also hear them giggle about what he will get for them. I am full of the fever joy of being in and among, and up, and thru, and altogether utterly of the great mass of humanity.

I feel Timmy, and all the world may hang up its stocking.

I am the—For the last time, sir, get off my feet!

—W. D. Nesbit, in Chicago Tribune.

The Cat Show.

Such a lot of cats gathered together as there were, little cats and big cats, black cats and white cats and yellow cats and grey cats and striped cats and spotted cats, cats long-haired and cats short-haired. In fact, every sort of cat in the cat world must be registered at the Royal Canadian Cat Show.

Even the one isn't particularly fond of the little four-footed feline one would not fail to be interested in the magnificent specimens at Broadway Hall.

One huge, aristocratic-looking pure white animal had little placard on her cage announcing that she had beaten the thousand dollar cat next to her. Imagine a cat being worth $1000! When you come to figure it out, there are very many of us who are worth that much or who could win that much as a prize in a beauty show.

After all, there are quite a few points of resemblance between cats and human kind.

There's the big dowager duchess type of cat like our friend the white one, who sits aloof from the common herd and gazes at the mortal observer with a supercilious eye, as if to say, "Who is this person?"

There's the little frivolous cat, the very image of the coquette, who is very sure without looking at the card that it was "first time of showing" and how she did strive to make an impression. She is the most native in the most killing manner as she sat up and used her paw most flirtatiously, the most and coquettish in the most native and engaging manner, and we were really sorry when we were compelled to leave her fascinating vicinity and pass on to "Princess Goldie."

None of these blarneyisms did the Princess use. No, indeed. Never was society beauty more bored, more indifferent to homage, more supremely conscious of her own charm than this big, savvy, beautiful animal who looked forth languorously on the admiring throng and "never turned a hair."

In the next cage to the Princess was the most amorous pair. They lay there locked in each other's embrace with truly sublime unconsciousness of the disgruntled old bachelor cat across the way, who watched them with the green eyes of envy.

There was one cat there which was the very image of the successful promoter. A big blue Persian, gorgeously gotten up in orange ribbon, with the most immaculate, well brushed coat you ever saw, and a case complete with medals and ribbons. She was the most ingratiating cat, purred flatteringly over you and "purred" you so well that you quite expected to hear him ask of you, were you buying Cobalt today.

Here a placid mother allowed her two playful kittens to roll and tumble all over her without a word of protest; there a thin, malicious looking old gentleman sat and mewed spiteful remarks about us to her next door neighbor.

Assaulted and Robbed.

Several Men Brutally Beat Barber on Wilton Avenue.

John Thompson, a barber living at 183 West Adelaide-street, was badly beaten up and robbed Sunday night. Shortly after 10 o'clock he was walking east on Wilton-avenue, on his way to visit friends living on Ontario-street. He passed four or five men standing on corner near Parliament-street, and he paid no attention to them. He was jumping on from behind. He is a pretty husky fellow himself and put up a fight, but he was struck a terrific blow between the eyes, which knocked him down and blacked both eyes. One of his assailants got his thumb in his mouth and chewed it badly. Another cut him on the arm from the elbow to the wrist, slashing to the bone. They then kicked him until he became unconscious and left him lying on the street. They went thru his pockets and got about $20. Thompson's wife said in his house.

EUROPE GETS AGITATED OVER AFRICA'S FUTURE

Color Question is Cropping Up and Trouble is Already Sighted.

London, Dec. 12.—The question of the London between the white race and men of other colors is one of the most world-wide agitation at the present moment. It occupies the public mind in England, Germany, Belgium, France and Spain, and its problems are absorbing the attention of the governments of those countries. The Congo question has now passed from the stage of sentimental discussion into a serious international issue.

It seems probable that despite the scathing condemnation of King Leopold in the Belgian parliament, it is doubtful if genuine reforms will be voluntarily adopted, which will lead to the intervention of the League of Nations. Then we shall see the fiercest test of the Anglo-French entente.

Germany, indeed, has a race scandal of her own of the blackest description. The Socialists are determined to rule that continent and the great problem of the Congo or of Russian anticolonial atrocities in Manchuria can compare in horror with that told in the Reichstag this week by Herr Bebel, the Socialist leader. He described the extermination of whole villages in South Africa by German troops, who massacred adults and then drowned the children in the river. The most that the government could say to reply was that there had been abuses, but that the worst reports had been exaggerated.

Miscellaneous folk songs of many nations will make up the program of the women's musicals this morning at the Conservatory of Music.

Don't Neglect Your Skin!

You have been complaining of a nasty, raw, rough "feel" about your hands, arms, neck or face? It is a common experience just now that the keen, biting winds are upon us. The relief lies in Zam-Buk. Don't neglect your skin. Don't forget that the skin is more than a mere covering for the body. By means of tiny pores it helps to purify the system; and unless cared for, the damp, raw days of winter impair its functions, cause cracking, chaps, and sow the first seeds of skin disease. Don't neglect a cut or a sore, for fear of blood poisoning or inflammation. Zam-Buk is a certain and antiseptic healer. Applied to a cut, a bruise or any skin injury, its antiseptic powers come into operation, and it kills all disease germs which would otherwise cause inflammation and suppuration. Then the herbal essences of which it is composed build up new healthy tissue, cell by cell, till the injury is healed, the disease cured, and all traces of it removed. Write for free box offered below.

Skin Disease for Two Years

Mr. Chas. Hill, of 14 Main Street, Brantford, says:—"For nearly two years I suffered with a skin disease on my legs, which became so irritable at times that I was confined to my bed and unable to apply bandages of any kind or even to let anything touch my legs. I had tried nearly every ointment that was advertised and had taken many medicines internally, but without any good result. Recently I sent for a supply of Zam-Buk, and with the first application I got relief of the irritation. I have used not quite two boxes, and my legs have been completely the same having entirely disappeared from my limbs. Since then I have been able to go about my work with perfect comfort—something I have not done for nearly two years. Zam-Buk has certainly worked wonders for me, and I have no hesitation in giving it my recommendation."

Scalp Sores and Eczema Cured

Mr. T. H. Hurlbut, of Seely's Bay, Ont., writes:—"For the benefit of others I have pleasure in stating that I have proved Zam-Buk a cure for eczema. I had eczema on my hands, and had doctored with different physicians in vain as well as having tried various remedies. A few applications of Zam-Buk gave me great relief, and by the time I had used two boxes my hands were entirely healed up."

Mr. Henry Harvey, of Oshawa, Ont., says:—"Zam-Buk in my case has done all it was recommended to do. I had some sores on the scalp, which at times caused me such acute pain that I could not bear to touch the part. This continued for nearly two years, and defied all remedies I tried. Zam-Buk was recommended to me, and after a fair trial, I am glad to report the sores are quite cured. I can strongly recommend Zam-Buk for scalp diseases."

Zam-Buk is invaluable for eczema, ulcers, scalp diseases, ringworm, psoriasis, bad legs, inflammation, rashes, eruptions, pimples, sores, scabs, scales, bites, swellings, chapped hands, sore chills, chilblains, chills, cold in the head, cuts, burns, scalds, frost-bites, etc. Etc. ## TAKING CARE OF IMMIGRANTS

Changes That Will Be Made to the Local Reception House.

Architect's estimates are about complete for the requisite alterations in the new government immigration lodging house at Peter and Wellington-streets. The most modern plans have been adopted and heating arrangements are being extended to the top floor, which previously lacked this necessity. It has been decided not to permit cooking on the premises, as meals can be arranged for on cheap and satisfactory terms with restaurants in the vicinity.

Porting is a good basement, where conveniences for washing clothes will be installed. When complete there will be sleeping accommodation for families sufficient to lodge from 200 to 250 persons. A record influx of immigrants is expected next season, and the new lodging house will be an admirable stepping stone between the old homes and the new.

The tugs that are engaged on the water tunnel construction work are traveling between the city and the Hanley & Miller construction plant near Hanley's Point, and are constantly breaking up the ice. ## NEW TUBERCULOSIS THEORY

Prof. Von Behring Says Germ is Communicated thru Milk.

Stuttgart, Germany, Dec. 12.—Prof. Von Behring read a paper here last night, before the Society for the Care of the Sick in the Colonies, on his method of treating tuberculosis. According to Prof. Von Behring's view, consumption is the "last verse of the song of which the first verse was sung in the infant's cradle."

In other words, he believes that the bacilli of tuberculosis find their way into the human system thru milk. His theory, says a newspaper, contradicts Dr. Koch's doctrine that tuberculosis is not dangerous, and that consumption in most cases is contracted as a result of breathing. Prof. Von Behring holds that the germs reach the lungs thru the lymphatics and blood vessels. He contradicted Dr. Koch flatly in the matter of tuberculosis milk, which Dr. Koch considers to be the most harmless.

Prof. Von Behring, on the other hand, says that germs on a tuberculous cow are no more dangerous than the germs emanating from another human being.

The professor intended to recommend his remedy called "Tubuziklin" as a preventive of tuberculosis in infants. It was expected that during his talk Prof. Von Behring would communicate the secret of his remedial preparation, but he failed to do so.
