Returned Soldier Says Enemy is About Due for a Big Shock.

OPPORTUNITY CALLS

Speakers at Recruiting Meeting Make Earnest Appeal for More Men.

"God help the man who cannot satisfy his own conscience after this war is over," was the first thing that the speaker (Bob) Shaw before a crowded house last evening at the Hippodrome. "Whether a man enlists or not is his own business. There is an opportunity in every man's life, and opportunity only comes once in a man's life. Today an opportunity to place yourself on the side which is making history. Will you miss it?"

Back straight from the firing line, in earnest tones the speaker told the Canadian expeditionary force on the western front today was the finest body of men that ever went to war. "I am going back March 19," continued the speaker amidst cheers, "and I would like to make arrangements to meet some of your young fellows in Berlin. You won't have long to wait, for the end is coming and it is coming quickly."

Another Big Surprise. He said that there are two big surprises in store for the Hun. He said that whatever they were they will be something far greater importance than anything they have done in the past. He said that the word "Duty" was obnoxious to him, but instead of being obnoxious to him, it was the spirit of willingness.

Justice W. R. Riddell, in an impassioned address, said he was fed up with hearing that this, or that division is doing. "We are doing nothing, except to do nothing," he said. "We are only those who have enlisted, who have done anything. He told us that if they go to war let us remember that it is not our war. If they go to war it is in order that they may save their own money, that they may save their own lives, and that they may save their own money, but instead of saving their own money, they get the spirit of willingness."

Lieut.-Col. G. E. Royce made a strong appeal on behalf of the 25th Battalion, saying they were anxious to obtain peace with victory, but that is not our war. He said that they were fed up with hearing that this, or that division is doing. "We are doing nothing, except to do nothing," he said. "We are only those who have enlisted, who have done anything. He told us that if they go to war let us remember that it is not our war. If they go to war it is in order that they may save their own money, that they may save their own lives, and that they may save their own money, but instead of saving their own money, they get the spirit of willingness."

Capt. Macleod also spoke on behalf of the 25th Battalion, and a fine musical program was rendered by the band of the 18th Buffs Battalion, 10th Irish-Canadian Pipe Band, Ruby Long, Velina Victor and Corina M. Shaw.

MILDER DAYS COMING LATER IN THE WEEK

Weather Man Says Extreme Cold May Moderate by Wednesday or So.

"There is a possibility that the cold weather may break on Tuesday," said the weather man yesterday. "It is early yet to say." The citizens of Toronto will, therefore, have to endure the "cold spell" for at least two days more, and the weather man's predictions do not guarantee any real relief even then. This spell started three days ago following two mild days, but one might truly say that the real beginning was in the latter half of the month of January, since which, with the exception of four or five mild days, the level of the nine below hovering around the zero mark.

Sunday the thermometer dipped down to five degrees below the zero mark, and the cold spell was never higher than nine above. This is several points higher than the coldest spell this winter, however. Once during the month of January the mercury reached the nine below mark, so that, although citizens were inclined to grumble about the penetrating powers of yesterday's frost, there is the consolation that it has been worse.

Toronto is not the only place that is feeling the cold. The cold wave, which has swept eastward from the great lakes east of Manitoba, out at Winnipeg 25 below, was registered, Fort Arthur 28 below, Minnesota 32 below, Columbia the same, Pelly Sound 30 below, Ottawa 24 below, and even London had the phenomenal record of 18 below.

The cold era of the Toronto street railway came to its usual conclusion, and the price of coal dropped another lively topic of interest. The downtown streets were deserted, and the churches suffered in their congregations. People who were not forced to go out did not. The kitchen stove and the fire in the hearth were the only comforts in the households. The scarcity of fuel was felt in some quarters.

In his innocence Charlie braves the dangers and triumphs, the rest is easy. The regular feature presents Blanche Sweet in "The End Era."

GREATER SACRIFICE

Urges Canadians to Follow Example Set by British Public.

An appeal for greater sacrifices in men, money and individual service in Canada, together with a greater faith in God, was sounded by Major Rev. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), of Winnetka, in his sermon last night before a congregation of several hundred people in the Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, St. Clair avenue.

"It is not a matter of a few minutes, but of an hour, the speaker called Canada to task for failure to really appreciate the seriousness of the war; he asked that the lives for a cause. Faith is a whole-soul, whole thought effort given to aid the allies in Canada. He lauded the British statesmen who answered the German challenge. The plea was originally produced at Daly's Theatre, London, where it scored a sensational success and ran for a solid year. The home success was repeated when Charles Dillingham brought it to New York early last fall as a successor to "Chin Chin." The "Lady of the Shinnery" and the other musical comedies. "Betty" comes to Toronto with the cast and production intact, which made it a Broadway success.

"Faith is a wonderful thing," declared Major Gordon, "it is reserved only when the eight gates are closed. Our boys at the front have faith. But no matter how bright and cheerful they are, they are more or less under a shadow. Faith is not religious any more than it is a business. It is one of the powers of the soul."

"It is faith which makes men lay down their lives for a cause. Faith is a wonderful thing, it is reserved only when the eight gates are closed. Our boys at the front have faith. But no matter how bright and cheerful they are, they are more or less under a shadow. Faith is not religious any more than it is a business. It is one of the powers of the soul."

The proposal of the German chancellor to sell out the honor of the allies was a solid year. The home success was repeated when Charles Dillingham brought it to New York early last fall as a successor to "Chin Chin." The "Lady of the Shinnery" and the other musical comedies. "Betty" comes to Toronto with the cast and production intact, which made it a Broadway success.

"The British statesmen knowing all the horrors which would result had plunged all Britain into war, Britain's honor and soul was at stake and it is still at stake."

"It is faith which makes men lay down their lives for a cause. Faith is a wonderful thing, it is reserved only when the eight gates are closed. Our boys at the front have faith. But no matter how bright and cheerful they are, they are more or less under a shadow. Faith is not religious any more than it is a business. It is one of the powers of the soul."
