

DICTIONARY OF WAR
NEEDED BY ALLIES

Man to Grasp Situation as Whole Required to Command.

New York, Nov. 8.—A London cable by Frank Getty to The Tribune dated Nov. 6 says: "The entire world is looking for a leader. The great need of the present moment is for some genius who can grasp the situation as a whole and use every aspect of every front, from its political as well as its military viewpoint. 'See it as a whole,' has become the new watchword of British statesmen.

And the visit of Lloyd George and Clemenceau to Rome, where the military and diplomatic situation will be discussed, is taken here to be the first definite sign of the intention of the entente not only to look for "the complete control of a single front," but also to adopt, in principle and practice, the idea of a single front.

The difficulty not only of finding such a man who would have to combine the most superior qualities of statesmanship and military genius, but of placing the complete control of all the allied fighting forces in his hands, must be recognized as enormous.

Among the central powers, where everything is subservient to Prussian militarism—and its real brains is Ludendorff, not Hindenburg, as is commonly supposed—such complete military dictatorship is easily established.

Among the allies it would be difficult to find such a man and establish him in such a position, as it is not impossible and may be almost a necessity if the fight against Prussian militarism is to be carried to a successful conclusion.

There is only one man more than any other in sight who would fill the bill—General Jan Christian Smuts, unquestionably the most popular statesman in England today, with the widest following abroad among the soldiers whom he has fought with and against. He is the only man in sight today who would have the confidence and backing of a majority of the entire statesmen and soldiers.

General Smuts' presence in Rome today, whether he accompanied Lloyd George, may or may not be a sign of something of this sort, is impending. This is mere speculation. But it seems certain that one of the big lessons the allies will draw from the Italian reverse is the vital need for some such cohesion in allied policy and strategy, which was the enemy's big initial advantage on the Italian front as well as against Rumania and Russia in earlier days of the war.

The English press almost unanimously agrees on this. Liberal papers, such as The Manchester Guardian, The Nation and others, which first advocated such a policy, are being joined by the Conservative organs, notably the Northcliffe press. The Times says today:

"Of the last week's lesson produced such a cohesion, that the Italian misfortune may yet become in the most favorable sense the turning point of the war."

One County Still Remains to Be Heard From in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 8.—At the end of the second day following the prohibition election, the question of whether the state would be wet or dry was still in doubt, the "wets" leading by a majority of 3848 on the face of the returns. This figure, however, included a gain of 1382 votes in Hamilton County officially allowed by the board of elections in that county, which had not been reported to the secretary of state today.

An announcement made by Secretary of State Fulton from figures compiled in his office, gave the wets a majority of 188. These figures included all except one county, and the 1882 gained in the unofficial vote of Hamilton County.

SHE HAD SUFFERED
FOR 20 LONG YEARS

Mrs. Morris Had Rheumatism
So Bad She Couldn't Walk —Finds Relief at Last.

"Words can only partially describe the suffering I endured before I began taking Tanlac. The past three years Morris of 463 St. Johns Road, Toronto, a few days ago."

"For twenty years," continued Mrs. Morris, "I have tried in vain to get relief from stomach trouble, kidney disorders and rheumatism, and when I began taking Tanlac I was a confirmed invalid. During all these years I haven't been able to eat without suffering afterwards. My stomach was all upset, I had no appetite, I simply had to force myself to eat and then my food would sour and bloat me up terribly. I suffered all the time from indigestion and was constantly belching up my food, sour and undigested. My kidneys worried me nearly all the time and during the past three years I developed rheumatism, which started first in my shoulders and arms and then got down into my lower limbs, and for more than two and a half years I have almost been an invalid. I was so crippled up that I couldn't walk. I couldn't even dress myself and the misery was almost unbearable. Sometimes the pain was like a knife cutting in, then again it was a dull, throbbing pain that seemed close to the bone. My legs would puff up and my joints were so stiff and hurt that I could hardly move them. At times I had cramps in my legs until they felt like they would almost draw double and no one, unless they have suffered the same way, knows what I had to endure."

"Well, I have spent lots of money for medicines of different kinds, but was never able to find anything to do me one bit of good. I had almost given up in despair, but Tanlac has already done me a world of good and I believe now I am going to get sound and well. I have just started on my third bottle of Tanlac and I can tell that I am improving every day. The rheumatism doesn't bother me anything like it did and I feel stronger and more vigorous than I have in a long time. While I haven't taken Tanlac long enough to say it has done wonders for me, I can say it is doing me good and that's more than I can say for any other medicine I ever took. I am certainly well pleased with the results. I have gotten from Tanlac so far and I'm going to keep on taking it as I believe my relief will soon be complete."

Tanlac is sold in Toronto by Tamplin's Drug Stores. A special Tanlac representative is at the 232 Yonge Street Store, meeting the public and explaining the merits of the medicine. (Advertisement.)

DESPERADO CAUGHT
IN STORE AT CHAPLIN

Bill Nibianuk, Refugee From Prince Albert Penitentiary, Has to Retain.

Regina, Nov. 8.—Constable Moore of the provincial police arrested Bill Nibianuk at 140 this morning at Chaplin, as the desperado was entering a general store there. Nibianuk was found crouching behind some boxes by the constable who entered the store with a revolver in one hand and a flashlight in the other. The fugitive tried to escape by the rear and ran thru the door towards the bush with Moore in pursuit. After a chase of 250 yards in which the constable vainly tried to wind Bill he caught up with him and a fierce rough and tumble fight followed, which ended in 10 minutes with Nibianuk being knocked out with a blow on the head from the constable's revolver. When he recovered he again played a fight, but had to give in to superior numbers. He told the police he had been hiding in Moose Jaw for some time and it is said he admitted pulling off a number of jobs since his escape from Prince Albert Penitentiary. He said he had not seen the inside of a house since his escape, except when he entered for food. He appeared before the justice of the peace at Chaplin this morning and was remanded for a week.

ATTACK ON GUARD

Deliberate Attempt Believed to Have Been Made to Shoot Sentry at Kingston.

Kingston, Nov. 8.—What is believed to have been a deliberate attempt to shoot one of the guards at the Cohen building, used by the Ordnance Corps, is being investigated by the military authorities. The shooting occurred just at dusk last night. The sentry was stunned to hear the thud of a bullet strike the wall close to him. He sprang under cover to avoid another shot, but a second bullet struck an alarm. A bullet fired from a 45-caliber revolver was found. As a result of the shooting the guard has been doubled and secret service men are working on the case.

Surplus of Meat in Canada;
No Likelihood of Advance

LORD BROOKE FINDS
PRISONERS HAPPY

Internment Camps in Switzerland Prove to Be Satisfactory.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—The government has received thru Sir George Perley, high commissioner, a report by Brig-General Lord Brooke, who during the month of August made a tour of the internment camps in Switzerland. He was accompanied by Major G. R. Geary, 56th Canadian Battalion and formerly Mayor of Toronto. The camps visited were Gunzha, Interlaken, Murren, Chateau D'Oex, Rosinler, Leysh, Vevy, Lausanne, and Geneva.

Lord Brooke in his report speaks highly of the airman and general comfort of the soldiers interned at Gunzha. "The men, he said, looked well and are happy. Conditions are also good at Interlaken, where the Canadians are looked after by a Miss Simpkins, an Englishwoman. All the men, he says, speak most highly of her devotion. At Murren Lord Brooke saw the Canadians five officers and 20 other ranks. He reports that the "health discipline, and morale of the troops are very good, and there is plenty of outdoor exercise."

Conditions at Chateau D'Oex, where the Canadians number two officers and 45 other ranks, were less satisfactory, because of the lack of places to play games, and also because the men have not received any great help in the way of instruction in trades. Lord Brooke has spoken with this camp with the British minister in Berne, and also to the officer in charge of all the internment. As a result, steps are being taken to provide schools of instruction.

A Square Deal

There are a great many rumors, some of which have been published in the press, regarding the milk situation in Toronto.

Most of these are canards, pure and simple. But they have gained wide circulation by word of mouth and through the press. We believe that the following statement will clear the air.

The Farmers' Dairy at its inception proposed to give the public a square deal—pure milk, rich milk, scientifically pasteurized, at the lowest possible price.

Throughout the history of our business we have adhered to this policy, and we are doing so today.

On every quart of milk we deliver we make only a small fraction of a cent profit.

In the first nine months of this year our profit on our total turnover was a percentage much below that earned by ordinary businesses.

To give the public service such as we wish to give, we have an investment in plant of $366,000.00.

From October 1st, 1916, to October 1st, 1917, our operating costs increased 50%—due to increased cost of labor and of everything that enters into our business.

The producers were not able to reduce the price of milk to us in the summer as heretofore, because of the high cost of mill-feeds. We had to pay the winter price right through the summer.

Despite the above facts, the price of milk to our customers was the same for the entire twelve months. Some of these months represented a large loss.

We are working on a very narrow margin. Any sudden change in conditions would turn our profits into a serious loss.

We have been, and will be, satisfied with a very small profit. But we cannot stay in business without profit.

Milk as delivered by the Farmers' Dairy salesmen is the cheapest food on the market today. All rumors to the contrary, we are continuing our policy of a square deal. And we will continue it.

GERMANY TO COME
UNDER DICTATOR

Threat Made to Progressive Democratic Elements in Country.

Copenhagen, Nov. 8.—The threat that a military dictatorship is inevitable unless assistance upon a radical vice-chancellor is dropped and the government of Count von Hertling as it now stands is accepted, is held out over the progressive democratic elements in Germany.

Count von Hertling, thru a semi-official note to The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, announces that no promises whatever were made to give the radicals the two posts they desire. Representatives of the reds have majority have issued an equally authoritative announcement that they adhere to their old position.

The refusal of Herr Friedberg, leader of the National Liberal party, to accept the vice-presidency of the Prussian ministry and the alleged certainty that Dr. Helfferich is to be retained as vice-chancellor are regarded as matters impossible of settlement. Von Hertling is reported to have succumbed to military and Junker influence.

The Tagblatt and other radical newspapers say that if Chancellor von Hertling bows to the "hidden powers" and the opposition will introduce on Nov. 22, when the reichstag reconvenes in resolution of lack of confidence in the government.
