One hundred, eighty-five copyists, copying policy holders lists, for International Policyholders Committee.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 23.—Asking that criminal prosecution be at once begun against the officers of the insurance companies which filed defective inaccurate lists of policy holders with the state insurance department, Samuel Undermyer, representing the international policy holders' committee, wrote to Superintendent Kelsey a letter in which he pointed out the methods used by the companies to hamper the committee in its work of in-
