FIGHTERS AND "FIGHTERS"

Now that Jack Dempsey has sent Fulton "to the cleaners," as they at the ring-side, people are claiming as the world's champion; Jess Wil- to the contrary, there is a little fighter in France, the of that country, who is the real champion—Georges Carpentier. He is dy, very handy, with the gloves, but gave up his chance for the fame and one of the acknowledged champions to fight for his country and for civ- ization. He has won a greater honor reb, and when the war is over Car- tier will be hailed as the real fighter. Everybody should be in this war— fighting in the field of battle in ance, fighting to save the crops in e harvest fields. There is the chance for the fighting rit to show itself with honor.

REDEMPTION at the GEM

A Photo-Drama of Life Depicted With Relentless Truth

EVELYN NESBIT
and Her Son
RUSSELL THAW

The central character in the most sensational story New York has ever known, Evelyn Nesbit, in a remarkable drama, drawing much of its inspiration from the events in her own life, yet in no way capitalizing cheaply the notoriety of the murder case. Critics of the film praise it, not because Evelyn Nesbit is featured, but because Evelyn Nesbit has proven her- self an actress of remarkable depth and technique, and be- cause the play is big and convincing and mercilessly true.

GERMANS FORCED TO USE ALSACE-LORRAINE MEN ON WEST FRONT

Keeping Watch on Them as They Know Hearts Are Not With the Hun

Paris, Aug. 21.—The German com- mand is faced by a more or less serious difficulty as a result of the presence on the western front of divisions contain- ing tens of thousands of soldiers from Alsace-Lorraine, who up to this time have never been employed in active fighting against the French. A cap- tured German order declares that the Germans were unable any longer to keep the Alsatians and Lorrainers away from the western front.
Other documents retreating an or- der issued by the German Crown Prince instructing the commanders of the var- ious units to keep the men from Alsace- Lorraine under the closest watch and not to utilize them at critical points in the line, as many desertions had been reported. It is added that any soldier from Alsace-Lorraine that comes under suspicion must be treated with an iron hand.
