Sid Says:

Now That the Kaiser is Here---How Do You Like Him?

(By John M. Siddal, Editor of The American Magazine.)

Take another look at Emperor William. We are beginning to see a great deal of him. It seems to me that I run into him everywhere I go. And whenever I see him, I find that he has a lot of new instructions to give me—orders to hand out—things that I shall or shall not do.

A few weeks ago, I thought I would go up to the golf club and get a little exercise. When I got there, I found that this bird had preceded me and closed up the place. The clubhouse looked like Belgium, cold and desolate. No more coal until further notice,—by order of German Willie.

It's the same way at home—heat turned off, lights turned down, sugar nearly gone. And the Emperor at the bottom of it all. If it weren't for his ambitions, things would be back where they were.

At the restaurant where I eat my lunch, William has taken charge of the kitchen and the dining-room. He tells me what I can have and what I can't have—mostly what I can't have. He has lowered the quality of the food, raised the prices and fixed it so that I have to yell my head off to get anything at all. Aside from that, he's a perfect host.

The old boy follows me to the office. Say, William, have a heart! It would require a couple of hundred thousand words to describe the help he is to me in my business—with all he is doing to upset the mails, the railroads, and the processes of manufacture and delivery. On the whole, it is more fun these days to sit at home and shiver than to go down-to-business and sweat.

Yes, sir, the Emperor is with us every waking moment.
It took quite a long time for him to get over here, but he has arrived, bag and baggage. And he has established personal relations with each one of us. We are having extensive dealings with him, and we are not finding the relationship very satisfactory. He's a domineering, dictatorial nuisance. He's also extravagant. His present schemes have cost about seventy-five billion dollars and four or five million lives. He is the bull-headed promoter type that gets in wrong—and hang the expense! There's nothing to be done but to get rid of him. If we let him have his way now he will go right on rock-ing the boat. He loves authority, likes to boss. Give him the rope and there will be more wars and plenty of them.

John Bull has set out to fire this man. And we agree that the thing must be done. So rake and scrape every penny you can find and put it in toward finishing the job. Buy Victory Bond and take some of the arrogance out of this would-be guardian of the world. You will get all your money back—with interest at 5 1/2 per cent.

All join in the chorus—W-E D-O-N-T W-A-N-T T-H-I-S G-U-Y. We have had a taste of him—and we don't like his work. We have been monkeys once. The scientists tell us we were. But let's not allow this kind of a speci-man to make monkeys of us again.

ning of the war by
