Be Fair. Buy a sack or barrel before judging PURITY FLOUR.

SOME people have attempted to judge PURITY FLOUR before knowing the facts about it—before using it. So we ask you to be fair and to buy a sack or barrel of PURITY FLOUR and give it a thorough try-out before attempting to arrive at a judgment.

Look at the beauty and loftiness of the golden-crusted, snowy-crumbed loaves, fit for a king. Count them and see how many more of them PURITY yields to the barrel than ordinary flour does.

Taste the creamy, flaky pie crust, and the deliciously light cakes. PURITY FLOUR rewards you with. My!

How they make your mouth water! Such high-class results can only be obtained when using a flour consisting exclusively of the high-grade portions of the best Western hard wheat berries.

And remember, that, on account of its extra strength and extra purity, PURITY FLOUR requires more water when making bread and more shortening when making pastry, than you are accustomed to use with ordinary flour.

“More bread and better bread” Buy a bag or barrel of PURITY. Test it for a week. Then pass judgment. Add PURITY FLOUR to the grocery list right now.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY WELL CELEBRATE THE DAY

Banquet in Royal Hotel a Successful and Enjoyable Function. The annual dinner of St. George's Society took place last evening in the Royal Hotel. About 125 guests were present and the celebration was regarded as one of the most successful in the history of the society.

The large dining room of the Royal Hotel presented a very fine appearance with its tastefully arranged decorations. Union Jacks and British Ensigns were draped about the walls, while the cross was very prominently displayed. The smaller tables were in use and each one was presided over by an officer of the society or one of the prominent members.

Those present were: The president, James H. Prink; the United States Consul, His Honor Lieut. Governor Woods; the president of St. Patrick's Society, Hon. R. J. Ritchie; the vice-president of St. Andrew's Society, Jas. Mack; the Chaplain, W. H. Thorne; Joseph R. Stone, Commander Myler; Senator J. W. Daniel; Chief Justice Barker, A. H. Hazen, Vice-President, F. E. Hamilton; A. H. Merrill; C. S. Harrington; H. C. Wetmore; E. F. Howard; Lieut. Col. J. L. McAvity.

THE CHANCES AGAINST YOU

"Oh, I will be all right in a few days, says the person who is tired out and has to drag himself to his daily work because the nervous system is exhausted. Unfortunately nervous diseases do not right themselves, and the wasting process which has brought you to this condition keeps right on until there is a complete breakdown. You must get the building-up process started, so that, instead of being a little weaker at the end of each day, you will find the balance on the other side and know that you are gradually getting stronger and well. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will help you wonderfully if you only give it a reasonable chance. As the system is built up, sleeplessness and indigestion leaving you. You will find the old energy coming back. The mind and body will better serve you, and you will see a new pleasure in life.

HOLD-UP OF A. R. GOULD HAS FAILED

Conservative Intimation to Valley Railway Contractor That "He Owed Duty to One Party," But They Could Not Force Him To Contribute

Fredricton, April 24—A. R. Gould, in a telephoned interview today, vigorously denied the Conservative attack upon him which was couched with hints that the Fleming government is going to try to give the Valley contract to friends more "approachable" than Mr. Gould.

Mr. Gould in an interview today over the long distance telephone, vigorously denied the statements couched editorially in last night's Gleaser reflecting on his company. He points out that the contract was signed only a short time before the legislature met, and was subject to the approval of the legislature. The company had gone through the usual routine of their power, and if there had been delay the government was at fault and not his company.

He went on to say that all financial arrangements had been made, the necessary deposit had been made and the company had acted in good faith all the way through. "So far as I am concerned," said Mr. Gould, "it is not a question of politics. It has been intimated to me that I owe a duty to one party, but I don't look upon it in that light. I have no interest in New Brunswick politics, and gave them no consideration, so far as I am concerned there will be nothing doing. I suppose they are trying to get me now, but I care nothing for them. I owe them nothing."

INTEREST IN TITANIC INQUIRY SHIFTS HERE

Mount Temple Officers' Evidence to be Taken Because of Statement That She Was Near Titanic at Sinking

Washington, April 24—Harold G. Lowe, fifth officer of the Titanic, told the senate investigating committee of the struggle of the survivors for life following the catastrophe. His testimony developed that, with a volunteer crew, he rescued four men from the water, saved a sailor from being crushed under the boat, and rescued a woman from the bottom of an open boat.

Competing in interest with the day testimony was the interchange of telegrams between Senator William Aldrich, acting chairman of the committee and the Smith, chairman of the committee and the acting premier of Canada, Geo. E. Foster. The latter told of the docking of the steamer Mount Temple at St. John, N. B., to have seen the Titanic sink. It was believed that the Mount Temple was on the White Star liner when she took her final plunge.

Senator Smith was requested that the depositions of the officers and crew of the Mount Temple be sent to him. In addition, he accepted the offer of F. C. Quimman, of Toronto, to appear before the committee. Dr. Quimman was one of the passengers who said they saw the Titanic.

Acting Premier Foster's telegram, dated today, gave the version of the officers and crew of the Mount Temple, and added: "Under these circumstances it does not seem necessary to detain the Mount Temple on Friday evening. If considered necessary, a commission will be appointed to examine the evidence. Will you please take the opportunity to bring the Mount Temple to St. John, N. B., on Friday evening, relative to the movements of the ship Sunday evening, April 14, 1912, her relative position and the Titanic and Carpathia, together with a detailed report of all wireless messages sent and received."

The committee also received a telegram signed by J. H. Moore, master of the Mount Temple; A. H. Sargent, chief officer; H. Head, second officer; and J. D. Durant, the Marconi operator, dated at West St. John (N. B.), today, practically repeating the information contained in the message of the Mount Temple and adding that the premier's message was not seen by the Mount Temple and that the Titanic's message, dated at St. John, N. B., was not known.

J. Bruce Imray, the chief official of the steamship line which owned the ill-fated Titanic, was ordered away from the ship's life boats while it was being lowered because in his excitement was interfering with the ship's officers. "I was greatly excited. He was lowering lower away, lower away, lower away, and I was at him to order him back, but he made no reply to him."

The witness said that every one was free to wander wherever they pleased, and that there was no effort made by the officers or crew to restrain or direct the passengers.

"Did you see any women there?" asked Senator Smith. "Certainly, I saw women but I did not have time to go and drag them away. They did not respond to our calls." C. H. Lightoller, second officer of the Titanic, testified that while on board the Carpathia Mr. Imray asked him if it would be advisable to send a wireless to the Cedric to hold her. He thought it would be a good idea and the message was therefore sent. He also stated that Imray at that time seemed to be possessed with the idea that he should have gone down with the Titanic because there were men and women who had gone down.

Mrs. Del Carlo Saved Only Clothing—Husband Had $2,500

New York, April 23—Few of the Titanic's survivors are in as sad plight as Mrs. Argentina Genovese Del Carlo, a second class passenger from Lucce, Italy. Married a little more than three months ago in Tuscany to Sebastiano Del Carlo, she left with her husband to take up her residence in Chicago, where, employed as a carpenter, he had lived for nine years, and had arranged to provide a comfortable abode. He perished after placing her in a lifeboat.

Mrs. Del Carlo saved nothing except the clothing she wore. Her husband carried all their money, $2,500. She is being cared for by the Rev. Father Moretto and the sisters of the San Raffaele Society, No. 10 Charlton street.

Mrs. Del Carlo's parents are in Italy. Her two sisters live in Fresno, Cal. When States ten years ago he promised to return for her when he had made sufficient money to get married. At last Christmas presents were showered upon them as they started for their home in the wonderful America.

Father Moretto has communicated by telegraph with the woman's sisters in Fresno, and whether she will return to her parents in Italy or join her sisters in America.

PILES NOT TAKEN SERIOUSLY

"Annoying, but not dangerous," seems to be the way many think of piles in the early stages. But gradually they become worse, until they prevent sleep, undermine the nervous system and make a wreck of life. The doctor is finally consulted he considers the case so serious that he recommends the surgeon's knife as the only means of cure. It may cure or it may kill. The risk is yours.

But there is an easier and surer way to relieve and cure piles. That is by applying Dr. Chase's Ointment. The earlier you begin the use of this ointment the earlier the cure. But you need not be discouraged because you have suffered for years or fifteen years. It would be difficult to imagine worse cases than have been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Relief comes at once and cure is just as certain if you persist in the use of this great ointment.

We have it from the manufacturers, the Midland Vinegar Company of England, the largest malt vinegar brewers in the world, that this most truly welcome addition to our tables is compounded from the choicest Oriental fruits and spices blended with pure malt vinegar by a special process.

We gladly accord the Midland Vinegar Company enthusiastic praise of their "product." It is a sauce so deliciously blended that no favor predominates aggressively over the others, and so skillfully combined that it never separates, there is no sediment, and therefore requires no shaking.

It is imperative, when buying, to look for the letters H. P. and a picture of the British Houses of Parliament on the label. A sauce as good as this will often be imitated, though never in the opinion of the writer, equalled.

PASS THROUGH HERE ON SAD ERRAND TO HALIFAX

A private car and a special Pullman car left St. John last night bearing friends and relatives of the victims of the Titanic disaster on their way to Halifax to identify the bodies of those who have been recovered. Among the party were George Widener, son of George H. Widener, traction magnate, two cousins of Washington Rowing, grand son of the builder of the Brooklyn bridge; E. H. Bull, theatrical man; Dr. E.H. Tomlin and R. T. Moore, son of Henry D. Moore, son of his way to the New York World.

Commander of Colonel Astor's private yacht, S. L. Williams, brother of F. Williams, and Captain Richard Robinson, commander of the ship, and the crew, including the crew of the Carpathia, were on the ship Sunday evening, April 14, 1912, and recovered the wireless for commercial messages to the exclusion of messages regarding the safety of passengers was criticized.

ON OVERDOING IT

"The smoochy of the age," says a modern philosopher, "is to overdo everything." The same thought has occurred to the writer many scores of times, when, after swallowing a very moderate allowance of some sauce, he has been left with a palpitating appetite, greater over to an endless stringing and burning sensation, calculated to make a man forget the use of any sauce whatever.

Have you ever been served that way? Ever suffered that way? Ever vowed eternal abstinence from sauces? Forget that! suffering, break the vow, and try H. P. Sauce, a truly, delightful concoction. Neither too thick nor too thin, too hot nor too cold, too sweet nor too sour. This sauce, which has been christened "H. P." in honor of the Houses of Parliament, is to be procured of all grocers, and it is in every respect a revelation of what a perfect sauce should be.

Company enthusiastic praise of their "product." It is a sauce so deliciously blended that no favor predominates aggressively over the others, and so skillfully combined that it never separates, there is no sediment, and therefore requires no shaking.

WAS TROUBLED WITH Weakness and Palpitation OF THE HEART

Through one cause or another a large majority of people are troubled, more or less, with some form of heart trouble. Little attention is paid to the slight weakness of the heart, but when it starts to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, then it causes great anxiety and alarm.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills can and will give prompt and permanent relief. They do this by their restorative influence on every organ and tissue of the body.

Mrs. John J. Downey, New Glasgow, N.S., writes:—"Just a few lines to let you know what your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I was troubled with weakness and palpitation of the heart, would have severe choking spells, and could scarcely lie down at all. I tried many remedies, but got none to answer my case like your Pills. I can recommend them highly to all having heart or nerve troubles."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE PURPLE WIDOW AT THE OPERA HOUSE GREAT FUN MAKER

"The Purple Widow" was presented last night in the Opera House before a good sized audience by "Billy" Carleton and company. The audience did not expect to see a brilliant musical comedy and to a certain extent their expectations were verified, but they did look for some fun, and they had it. There was plenty of fun and laughter all through the performance, contributed almost entirely by Mr. Carleton and Mr. Berkeley, who are clever comedians along different lines and encores in strong contrast to each other.

There are several song numbers in the piece and if the chorus were strengthened they would take much better than last night, although even with the limited number of youthful faces in the songsters line-up, the songs went with a swing and were repeatedly encored.

Loretta Crawford had the title role, and played it with dash and vim. The requirements of the part were not heavy. Her song numbers were heartily applauded, as did those of Miss Helen Edwards. Joseph Smith had a light role, but his song contributions were among the better ones of the play, as he possesses a tenor voice of exceptional power and sweetness. Ed. Lovette added to the fun making, but the appearance of Messrs. Carleton and Berkeley on the stage was what appealed to the audience and was the signal for more hearty applause. The company is small, but considering their limitations as to numbers, they present a very funny musical satire and it caused roars of merriment during the evening.
