AUSTRALIA IS WELL PLEASED WITH TREATY

Papers Unite in Commending The Anglo-Japanese Alliance

NEWS OVER CABLES

Twelve Killed in Train Wreck in Germany—No Canadians in Death List — Turkey Sends More Moderate Man to Settle Troubles in Albania

(Canadian Press.)

London, July 18—A despatch from Sydney to the Daily Mail on the new Anglo-Japanese treaty, quotes the Sydney Morning Herald, as saying that there can be no doubt that, in expressing approval of the treaty as it now stands, the ministers of the dominions faithfully represented their constituents. The treaty is proof of the pacific tendencies of Japan. It is good that she has resolved for ten years at least to abandon ideas of the extension of her territory.

"In 1921," the paper adds, "we hope that the alliance will be renewed, but we shall also hope to be able to face, with confidence, the possibility of its denunciation."

The Sydney Daily Telegraph says the alliance has ceased to be an entangling alliance, while remaining the efficiency as a peace preserver in the east. The situation for Australia is clearly defined. She may count on a breathing space of ten years during which to develop her defence and encourage the influx of immigrants.

The Melbourne Argus with the Melbourne Age applaud the new treaty for similar reasons.

Mullhein, Germany, July 18—In yesterday's train wreck, it is found that the dead number twelve, of whom nine have not been identified. Most of the injured were from Basel, so far as can be ascertained, there were no Canadians or Americans injured.

Constantinople, July 18—The cabinet has appointed Abdullah Pasha to replace Turgut Shefket Pasha, commander-in-chief of the Turkish forces in Albania. It is expected that the change will facilitate the settlement of the Albanian revolt, as Turgut has been held responsible for severe repressive measures.

The new commander enjoys a reputation for moderation and integrity. It is reported that the government has offered territorial compensation to Montenegro with a view to arriving at a general pacification.

PERPETUAL MOTION KEPT GERNAND FROM MAKING FORTUNES

Baltimore, Md., July 18—(Canadian Press.)—Andrew Gernand, eighty years old, is dead here after spending fifty-five years of his life in a vain effort to solve the problem of perpetual motion.

Gernand was an inventive genius and would have made fortunes on practical inventions if he had been able to dismiss the perpetual motion problem from his mind.

As a wedding present to one of his sons Henry, he gave the young man a suggestion for a labor-saving corn reaper which made $17,000,000 or more in profits.

The fire has been burning for about ten days but only a couple of days ago broke out near the village. It has come down the river on both sides, but up to noon today had not reached a point that would endanger the village.

Ald. Robinson states that it has begun to rain and it is now hoped the fire will be extinguished.

Efforts are being made to have the Chatham team here for a ball game on next Saturday. Moncton promoters made them an offer. For Friday and Saturday 28th and 29th the St. John Marathons will come to Moncton for games.

CURIOUS ABOUT THE NEW PEERS

Eldest Sons of Present Liberal Lords and of Some M. P.'s Said to Be on Asquith's List

(Canadian Press.)

London, July 18—There is much curiosity on the part of politicians over the cabinet's list of potential peers. That a list has been made and is awaiting the possibility of its use in the event that it will be necessary to obtain the passage of the veto bill in the House of Lords, there is no doubt.

The government's spokesmen have said repeatedly within the last week that Premier Asquith was prepared to meet all contingencies of the situation in all details which is taken to mean that he has bidden up his sleeves two leading sources of supply, these being the eldest sons of the present Liberal peers, and members of parliament.

The proposal to ennoble the eldest sons presents an amusing phase of the revolution. Peers of hereditary rank think that the nobles themselves should be promoted to be viscounts when their sons are made barons. Some of the more prominent members of parliament are not averse to joining the nobility but drawing on the honor or commons for new lords presents difficulties. If one hundred members of the lower chamber are taken, a miniature general election will be necessary to fill their places and the country and politicians alike are tired to death of electioneering.

The emperor earnestly exhorted in favor of the creation of factional strife and the establishment of a working agreement between the Czechs and the German element of the Reichsrath.

THE TIMES' NEW REPORTER

WELL MEANT SUGGESTIONS.

Mr. Peter Binks has two suggestions to make concerning the new patrol wagon.

If it is to be kept on exhibition he claims that it should be placed on King Square, with a canopy to protect it from the weather. Mr. Binks, however, is not in favor of keeping it for purely exhibition purposes, and holds that considerable revenue could be derived from it by hiring it out to small driving parties. It might even earn enough in this way to pay for the horse that is needed before it is placed in commission as a patrol wagon. It is now out-railed in a fire station, and

JUVENILE COURTS

International Congress in Paris Deals With Important Matter in Various Phases

Paris, July 18—The international congress held for the purpose of discussing the interesting question of tribunals for children was opened by M. Paul Deschanel, who in his introductory speech which was received with much approval, fully outlined the advantages to be gained in the cause of humanity by the universal adoption of these tribunals for dealing with children in all civilized countries.

M. Deschanel reviewed at length the various problems to be submitted to the congress, including the desirability of having the children's courts closed by the special manner of trying those cases in which minors are jointly concerned with adults; the state provision of competent legal aid for all minors at the discretion of charitable institutions for ameliorating the conditions so frequently met with in this particular class of society.

The speaker paid a warm tribute to the progress in this direction made in France since 1906 and particularly to the fact of the recent passing of the special laws by the senate which was owing greatly, M. Deschanel added, to the devoted efficacy of their friend M. Ferdinand Dreyfus.
