Jan. 3rd 1833. Weather mild and temperate, like spring, farmers ploughing summer fallows, roads broken up. 8th. Cold, frost, snow, excellent sleighing commenced.

The following animated burst of patriotism and poetry, the effusion of one of Britain's host of Schillers and Korner's, was contemporary with that dark hour of suspense which followed the infatuated vote of the house of Peers against the Reform Bill, and when there were strong surmises that the King had forfeited his popular character of a reformer. This happily was a mistake. The firm attitude taken by the people, peacefully overmastered the crisis: the poem remains as a warning, which was meant as a call: and a glowing evidence of that noble and free spirit, open to conciliation, but which unwisely irritated by contemptuous denial of justice, still "Bides its time."—From Tail's Edinburgh Magazine for May 1832.

UP, MEN OF ENGLAND!

YE MEN OF ENGLAND, will ye see
The morn of Freedom passing by,
Nor strike your blow for liberty?
Will ye—nor raise your shout on high?

Will only ye thus idly stand,
While Europe struggles for her right!
Arise, arise, with heart and hand—
UP, MEN OF ENGLAND, TO THE FIGHT!

26th 1827, Voters for the Alien bill which Randal afterwards overthrew in England, Attorney-general Robinson, Beasley, Burke, Burnham, Cameron, Clark, Coleman, Cumming, Gordon, Ingersol, C Jones, Jonas Jones, D Jones, M'Donnell, M'Lean, Morris, Atkinson, Wm Thompson of Toronto, and Vankoughnet—Old John Willson was in favour of the bill, but manoeuvred to have the odium cast off himself, he being speaker—He would neither put hand nor thumb to the petitions against it—As a politician, Willson is the most slippery, smooth, silver-tongued courtier in Upper Canada, and he is as yet a successful one

24th 1833, Lord Goderich's despatch throws the Tories of the Assembly into a rage—the crown lawyers affirm that he had not the royal authority for his despatches, and otherwise grossly insult and traduce the government. 29th, The Reformed Parliament met.
