THE NEWSPAPERS HAVE MADE ROOSEVELT Journalist Says That Great Men in Olden Times Suffered From Lack of Publicity.

NORFOLK, June 13.—"Journalism since Jamestown," was the subject of an address delivered before the National Editorial Association at the Jamestown Exposition today, by Crosby S. Noyes, editor of the Washington, (D. C.) Star. Reviewing the history and struggles of Captain John Smith, Mr. Noyes deplored the fact that Captain Smith did not have an energetic independent press to back him up in his great work. Mr. Noyes compared the achievements of Captain Smith in planting and sustaining the English colony with the deeds of President Roosevelt of this generation, and declared, "have given Mr. Roosevelt their vigorous support in his reform policies, have exploited all his sayings and doings through the 24 hours of the day, glorified the man and his work, and made his name a household word in every home in the land."

"Mr. Roosevelt has seemed somewhat slow in acknowledging his indebtedness to the press," Mr. Noyes said, "but perhaps he will think of it some day when he is not too busy."
Captain John Smith had no such newspaper aid and his great deeds have therefore gone "unhonored and unsung."
Mr. Noyes traced the history of journalism from the publication of the Weekly News started in England in 1622, down to the Metropolitan Journal of the present day.

SIX HUNDRED RUSSIAN SEAMEN UNDER ARREST

LONDON, June 13.—A despatch to a news agency from Sebastopol says that Vice-admiral Wren, who recently was appointed successor to Admiral Skrydlov, in command of the Black Sea fleet, has fitted out and arrested the distressed seamen at that port and placed 600 of them on board a cruiser, under a strong guard of the Frigate. Additional arrests are being made and it probably will be necessary to fit out another penal cruiser. The seamen of the fleet are exasperated because no charges have been preferred against the arrested men and it is said that a mutinous outbreak is likely to occur.

Angus acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Skinner will sail by the Empress of Ireland for the old country where they will spend some time. Owing to mourning in the bride's family, the ceremony and reception held at the summer home of Mr. Forget was attended only by relatives and a few intimate friends. The ceremony was to have been in the private chapel of the Forget residence, but as the groom is a Protestant, the bishop refused to allow it and the ceremony was held in the Presbytery, on unconsecrated ground.
