BLACK HAND METHODS

Threatened to Dynamite House of Former Employer if He Did Not Hand Out $500.

PORTLAND, Me., June 17.—Arthur I. Crozier, 18 years of age, was taken into custody tonight on the allegation of being implicated in a plot to export the sum of $500 from a business man by "black hand" methods. A letter was received demanding that the money be paid in a box to be found in a secluded spot in the suburbs of the city, and the threat was made that the home of the gentleman would be dynamited if the money was not forthcoming or if the police were notified.
Officers went to the spot designated and on making a search found Crozier in a clump of bushes. The young man asserts that he had nothing to do with the affair and says that he just happened to be where he was found. Crozier lives with a married sister in the city proper. He was employed last summer by the intended victim of the scheme.

TODAY'S PROCEEDINGS AT THE CHICAGO CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 18.—Whether the Republican National Convention will finish its work and reach the point of final adjournment this afternoon or evening, or whether it will extend over into tomorrow, as seems probable, or even longer, was the subject of much speculation today. Two hours of the morning were gained to begin with over the two preceding days, by fixing the hour of convening at 10 a. m. instead of noon and an agreement was reached yesterday to the effect that the army of nominating speeches planned for should be curtailed materially, so that only two speeches would be made for each nominee. The committee on resolutions by continuing its session practically all night in order to reach as it did just after 2 a. m., a dual vote on the platform, obviated any further recess of the convention on account of unfinished committee work. Still the explosive nature of the matters still to be acted upon by the convention itself, and the delicate political relationship and adjustments involved in the various aspects of the nomination to be made, left it entirely possible that this convention might be one of these well planned gatherings at which, if all is well, it is well, but at which the slipping of a cog in some unexpected place or at some apparently routine moment may precipitate one of those amazing eruptions that mark epochs in political history.

There were three major matters left to be disposed of when the convention began the morning session, the nomination for the presidency, the vice-president, and the adoption of the platform.

In point of general interest and possibly of likely developments, the last in first. Nothing else has so divided sentiment among the delegates as the proposed plank in the platform dealing with the question of court procedure, better known as the "injunction plank" by reason of its special reference to the use of injunctions and restraining orders of courts in connection with controversies between employers and employees.

The plank was finally adopted in the form agreed upon by the sub-committee on resolutions after a meeting which began at 10 a. m., and lasted until gray dawn was creeping up in the east. Some of those who opposed the injunction plank in the committee gave notice that if it was adopted, they would continue their opposition on the floor of the convention.

The remaining uncertainty in the matter lay chiefly in the fact that any mention of the injunction issue in the platform has all along been urgently opposed by many individual delegates.
In view of special conditions in their home districts, not a few have declared that they would in any event vote on the convention against such a plank.

When the convention adopted the report of the committee on credentials, it thereby confirmed the already evident control of the great body by the forces favorable to the nomination of Secretary of War, William H. Taft, for the Presidency. The talk of a "Roosevelt stampede" has steadily diminished during the past forty-eight hours. The most enthusiastic admirers of the President must have been well satisfied with the ecstatic approval of yesterday, following the mention of his name by Senator Lodge in his speech as permanent chairman of the convention. It lasted almost an hour without intermission, and there were moments during the oration when those opposed to the presentation of the President's name for re-nomination may have been a bit apprehensive lest some one would seize that as the "psychological moment" for some such attempt.
But nobody did, and the surface of affairs at the outset of today gave no reason to expect anything but that the well understood programme of the Taft people would be carried through in all respects.

The Vice-Presidential question was still unsettled when activities began

AMUSEMENTS.

Today at the Princess

The Princess Theatre, which has for some time had the reputation of showing the best pictures in the city, have a better bill to offer their patrons today than they have ever had before.
Four brand new pictures, Where is My Prisoner? The Rival's Tragedy, The Inventor's Son, and Little Sammy Sucker. The first named has the distinction of being the best comedy film ever produced. Each of the other pictures is very instructive and interesting. Remember that this pleasure resort has 15 large windows and thus secures a better system of ventilation than any other house in the city. Do not fail to hear A. Munroe Kerr in the latest illustrated songs.

DeWitt Cairns in the Great Song

"You." DeWitt Cairns, whose singing attracts so many lovers to the Nickel Theatre, has selected a song for the remainder of the week that will certainly make a big hit. It is Alfred Roby's soulful love ballad, "You," a number that is sung by the most noted vocalists in the world with continuous success. It is a favorite encore selection of some of the famous male vocalists. Miss Wren, whose dialect merit is well known, will sing "You" today. He then removes all the valuables from the house, married and forfeited—This picture is something different from anything ever shown here before and has been well spoken of by the press of other cities where it has been shown. Brown's Half Holiday, and Hide and Seek, are both new pictures and are strictly high class.
Hear Wm. Lanyon, St. John's best tenor, sing The Face in the Fireplace.
Nothing to equal it ever heard in St.
John. Robert Hunter will be heard in a new song.

Funny Show at Happy Half Hour

Laughter reigned supreme yesterday at the Happy Half Hour, and large crowds enjoyed themselves immensely.
It was pretty difficult to judge which one of the four comedy pictures, for each one had their favorites, some preferred Riding the Wind, others again said Buying a Cow was the funniest, while those who have read of the English Employers' Liability Act maintain that Accidents Will Happen was the best, one large employer of labor saying that the entire house of assembly should be invited to see it. Children ever insist that their powers to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property, shall be preserved inviolate. We believe, however, that the rule of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the issuance of the writ of injunction should be more accurately defined by statute and that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except irreparable injury, would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted.

and their mothers declared that Thelma First Snowball was the best, probably because the principal actors are two little children. One thing the entire audience agreed upon was that it is the best comedy show seen here in months.
Otter Hunting in England pleased those who like sporting pictures. Same pictures today, and those who want a laugh should see them. New ones tomorrow. New songs today. From Tutus will sing How Would You Like to be My Wife, and Harry LeRoy will sing I Couldn't Make a Hit with Molly.

Bijou Theatre.

Prof. Cardin again pleased a large audience at the Bijou last evening. His power of suggestion was cleverly demonstrated throughout his programme and his thought transmission experiments interested everyone. The entertainment is above the average and abounds with fun and instructive features. Prof. Cardin is a great little man and all should see him.

MARY EMERSON'S TRIUMPH

The reception that has been accorded Miss Emerson and her supporting company in St. John has been a most flattering one. Coming here as an absolute stranger, it is very gratifying to both herself and her manager, Samuel Lewis, that she has been received as it were, with open arms. It has been said, and with great reason, that at audience does its share toward making a play succeed, that unless there is a perfect chain that connects the speaker with the listener there can be no perfect performance. And, then, pursuing the subject further, it resolves itself into a question of magnetism. That we are attracted more to some people than we are to others, equally worthy of our attention, and in many ways equally brilliant or skillful, as the case may be, is a fact of which each of us is positive. After Miss Emerson's performance on Monday night, it was necessary to listen to the comment upon her performance to know that she had pleased her audience. There seems to be no dissenting voice. And the reason of her success? A combination of those things that go to make the successful artist: Familiarity with the subject at hand, experience under the best artists, a willingness to learn, and a gift, without which all of the others are futile, magnetism in the highest degree. Tonight Miss Emerson and her able supporting company, with Sylvester, Mr. Brown and the rest of the company in congenial roles, will be seen in Will O' The Wisp, a romantic drama by Samuel Lewis, author of His Majesty and The Maid.

BOYCOTT STILL EFFECTIVE

HONG KONG, June 18.—The boycott against Japanese is still strongly maintained. The government has prohibited meetings at restaurants called to discuss the question of self government and similar subjects. A missionary arriving from the province of Hainan, states that many are dying of plague.
The scourge is abating in Hong Kong.

THIRD INDICTMENT AGAINST

MORSE AND CURTIS

NEW YORK, June 17.—The federal grand jury returned today the third indictment against Alfred H. Curtis, president, and Charles Morse, vice-president, of the National Bank of North America, charging them with making false entries in reports to the comprisor of the currency and the misapplication of funds for speculative purposes amounting to about $1,250,000. Morse and Curtis appeared before Judge Hough in the U. S. circuit court, and entered tentative pleas of not guilty.
