Is Flim Flam Game to be Worked Again?

GAMA BALKED BY ZYBSKO.

London, Oct. 13.--American sports liminary intended to bring in a match with the Humbolt cyclone, after a money getting tour through the United States. The finale on this side was to be Gama and Zybsko, the man who last year suffered public in Chicago and cities where they fall for the game like a dowerpot from a window ledge. Some of the things perpetrated by the promoters in the United States under the name of "championship" contests have been such jokes that men on the inside laugh every time they see a wrestler "discovered" in Europe. Zybsko was "discovered" for Gotch. The pole thrown the United States, meeting and touring all corners. He beat Mahmout, the Bulgarian, although nine men out of ten will tell you the latter is the best wrestler living today, aside from Gotch. The "wise" ones insist Mahmout lost to Zybsko as per programme, so the Gotch-Zybsko match would draw a big house. As Gotch had beaten Mahmout there would be no interest in the Lajoie's Hits All Right. Official Scorer Gives Details of the Questionable Bunts--Everything on the Square Though Tempting Offer Made.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 13.--E. V. Parish, who officially scored Sunday's double-header between the St. Louis and Cleveland American league teams last night made the following statement of the Lajoie case: "The first game in which I gave Lajoie four hits for as many attempts was without incident, save that there was a continual procession to the press box for information regarding the scoring which was given. Some times the scoring pleased the fans, at other times it did not. The game was scored as I saw it, and had I scored it again, I would credit Lajoie with four hits for his efforts."

"In the second game Lajoie bunted his first time up. It was a clean hit. His second time up, which was in the third inning, he bunted again. Corridon, third baseman of the St. Louis team, fumbled the ball and Lajoie was safe at first. A runner was on first and with none out. He advanced to second. In my opinion Corridon could have gotten Lajoie at first easily by clean handling of the ball. There was one way to score the play, a sacrifice hit and an error for Corridon.

"As to the scoring of the hits, I have this to say: "That in my opinion there is no question as to their legitimacy. They were clean scoring hits, and had they been scored otherwise it would have been an injustice to Lajoie."

Parish claims that during the second game a messenger boy handed him the following unsigned note: "Mr. Parish: If you can see where Lajoie gets A.B.H. instead of a sacrifice, I will give you an order for a $40 suit of clothes--sure. Answer by boy. In behalf -- I ask it of you."

Lajoie Solicitates. St. Louis, Oct. 13.--In a telegram to a local paper, Lajoie admits he telephoned to the home of official scorer Parrish to see if he had received credit for nine hits. Lajoie's message said that umpire Evans and all the Cleveland players thought that he ought to have been credited with nine instead of eight hits.

According to Parrish, after the man at the other end of the telephone said he was Lajoie, and had found out that he had been credited with eight hits, the man asked if there was any chance for Parrish to see nine hits. The answer was "no." After Parrish refused an invitation to go to a hotel the conversation was cut off.

DIFFERENT STYLES IN WORLD SERIES

Battle Between Old and Experienced Team Against Younger Club--Strong and Weak Points of Contestants

Why Athletics Should Win. Better pitching staff. Better team average. Less severe race for pennant. A rest before world's series starts.

Why Cubs Should Win. Better baseball machine. Better catching staff. Greater ability to win against odds. Better infield.

If the American league is going to stop the long winning streak of the National league in the world's series, this is the year to do it.

It isn't a very good chance that the Athletics have, but it is better than the Tigers had two and three years ago. The world's series this year promises to be a close and pretty fight.

It will be a series of battles between an old and experienced team led by a playing manager against a younger team not so experienced, led by a foxy bench manager.

The Cubs are a great baseball machine, experts in inside baseball. They do not use their ability unless they have to. When they are ahead they take things easy; when they are behind they work like sin till they get ahead.

Age of Players. Cubs. Chance23. King24. Brown24. Reulbach28. Overall29. Morgan34. Evers27. Pfeister32. Schulte28. Shekard31. Tinker30. Hoffman28.

Athletics. Davis37. Livingston29. Bender27. Coombs27. Hartzel34. Baker24. Collins23. Plank35. Murphy34. Barry23. Oldring26.

Best Against Hard Positions. The Cubs are not the team they were two years ago, but they are still a great baseball machine. They know every possible angle of baseball and they never know when they are licked.

They have always done better in adversity. This was shown in the Detroit series when they thought they were up against a stiff proposition. Against the White Sox they were over-confident of winning, and they lost. In the vital game of the division they knew they had to win--and they won.

As a combination, the Cubs have the best of it in their infield. They hang together in a chain, and they don't have a weak spot. Tinker, Evers and Chance work together like clockwork. Tinker and Evers split up the work at second and third, while Chance is the big man. Collins does most of the work for the Athletics, and naturally because Barry is the weak link in the infield.

Individually infields Balance. Individually, the infields balance. Baker has a shade the best of Strickland because he is younger and more active. But in the matter of substitutes the Cubs have a big advantage. Hoffman can play the outfield or the infield, and Zimmerman is a live wire at third, where he played in the four games against Brooklyn. Zim flourish- es on applause and when the fans' cheers are ringing in his ears he pulls off stunts like Buck Turner did in his palmy days.

At short Tucker has it over Barry at every stage of the game. He is a star in the field and at bat he is a fence breaker and a base cleaner. Collins. Ever is the brainiest player in baseball. He leads off for the Cubs, and never overlooks a single opportunity. He is little, active and young. He is full of little motions and jumps which rattle the pitchers when he is at bat or on base. In the field his energy is seen at its best, though he covers a lot of territory. But it is doubtful if he is as classy a holder as Collins, nor can he hit like Eddie of the Athletics. At first it is Davis against Chance, with the odds on Chance.

Behind the bat the Cubs have all the best of it. King is a great catcher. Arthur is another star. Ira Thomas, who is likely to do the bulk of the catching for the Athletics, is a good one, but not in King's class. The Cubs are fiends on the bases when they need runs, and it takes a mighty good man to stop them.

The Cub pitchers profit by their long experience, and keep the runners close to the bags. The outfielders of the two teams measure up fairly close, but the advantage is with the Cubs, when Solly Hoffman is in centre. Schulte, Beaumont and Shekard are great players, but Oldring, Murphy and Lord should be able to hold up their end against them.

As to Batting. The Cubs' team batting average is .268, and the Athletics are hitting 29 per cent better. This advantage does not work out well for the Tigers, but still it is an apparent advantage. While the Cubs do not shine as hitters, still they seem able to get hits when they need them. Tinker is batting .257, but he is one of the best cleanup batters in the business. The Athletics will have a big advantage in Plank if the

SIX EVENTS DECIDED AT WOONSOCKET

Woonsocket, R. I., Oct. 13.--Three unfinished races from yesterday, filled a busy afternoon on the Woonsocket half-mile trotting park today.

Charlie Miller was the winner of the unfinished 2:15 pace, four heats of which were raced Wednesday. Fred W. won the fifth heat, and the sixth was taken by Charlie Miller, but the judges, believing that Gillis, the driver of Fred W., had not tried his best, the event was declared no heat, and all bets were called off.

Charlie Miller won the next and deciding heat easily. The unfinished 2:21 pace was won by Arrow, with the favorite, Cecil Bryan, distanced in the final heat. The Saxon, the favorite of the unfinished 2:19 trot, won the deciding event.

Southpaw is going right in October. Half the Cub's lineup bats left-handed. Pitchers Go Bad. The Cub's pitching force is shot to pieces. Cole, the youngest, is the boy with the polish, Modelval Brown, the three-fingered wonder, has gone back. He is not the man he was. Overall has been of little service since his illness. Pfeister, the southpaw, has a broken bone in his pitching wrist. Reulbach shows signs of becoming more real help to his team in the closing seven weeks of the race.

With this to work against, Frank Chance can't rotate his pitchers. He'll have to overwork his best ones. Against this combination Connie Mack has pitchers who are working well and not too often. Toward the end of the race he is likely to have a chance to let them take it easy and do just enough work to keep them right. He will have a full week of loafing after the American league season has closed, and while the Cubs may be involved in a desperate eyelash finish. This will give the Athletics the advantage they've got.

3 RECORDS GO AT LEXINGTON

Joan Lowers 4-Year-Old Mark--The Harvester Beats 2-Mile Record and Aileen Wilson Paed to Wagon.

Lexington, K. Y., Oct. 13.--Joan, the Directum-Spicer mare owned by Capt. David Shaw, of Cleveland, won the Walnut Hall farm cup today, the feature of the Kentucky trotting horse breeders association meeting, in straight heats. She established a new world's record for four year old trotters, going the third heat in 2:04 1/2, a half second better than the record of her grand sire, Directum; which made the mile in 1893 in 2:05 1/2. General C. C. Watts, for the association presented the cup to Capt. Shaw. The owner, Driver McDevitt and Joan, were cheered by the large crowd.

The Harvester broke the world's record for two miles, trotting the distance in 4:15 1/4, 1 1/2 seconds under the mark set by Crescens in 1902. Under a good drive by Geers he went the mile in 2:08 1/2. The last quarter of the second mile was negotiated in 31 1/2 seconds.

Allen Wilson, owned by John W. Coakley, of Boston, paced a mile to a wagon in 2:04 1/2, and beat the world's record made by Edith W. in 1902, by a second. She was driven by Cox.
