LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL.

The body of Mrs. Malvina W. Watters who died in Malden (Mass.) will be brought here today for burial.

May 24th will be a school holiday as in the past. As it comes on Saturday this year it will be observed on the following Monday in the schools.

As the people of Augusta so much appreciated the visit of Knight Templars last year when accompanied by pipers and drummers several have requested the canton to take this music. The canton contemplates holding a bonnet hop, band and promenade concert at one of the rinks the end of this month or early part of June. The last held by this canton, several years ago, was most pleasing and successful, over 1,500 attending. There have since been many requests for a repetition of that delightful affair.

Some interest has been occasioned by a market case at the police court. The case was one where Frank L. Potts, lesse was one the morning of departure. There is a Arumor that the canton will take papers and drums. As the people of Augusta so much appreciated the visit of Knight

RHYMES OF THE DAY.

The Lover Finds a Way.

I'm on a year's probation;
We're both too young, they say,
She's at her education,
And I must go away.
So here I'm on the briny,
Bound for some horrid spa,
Or burg remote and tiny,
To please Pauline's papa.
If I could drop a line each night—
But no! He said I musn't write,

Said she: "Be diplomatic,
And all will come out right;
My bove won't grow erratic,
Because you're not in sight!"
But, oh, my heart is aching!
And I must ask her aid,
How can I without breaking
The promise I've made?
Why—precious duffer that I am—
I'll send her a Marconigram.
—Town Topics.

Illustrious She. She's a woman with a mission; 'tis her heaven-born ambition to reform the world's condition, you will please to understand.

She's a model of propriety, a leader in society, and has a great variety of remedies at hand.

Each a sovereign specific, with a title scientific, for the cure of morbific things that yex the people sore;

For the swift alleviation of the evils of the nation is her foreordained vocation on this sublunary shore.

She can lecture by the hour, with incomparable power, on the gloomy clouds that lower o'er the country's fair domain.

main.

And you weep for Eve and Adam, for the devil ne'er had had 'em if they'd only known the madam, and we'd all been proud of Cain.

And while thus she's up and coming, always hurrying and humming, and occasionally slumming this reformer of renown.

Her neglected little Dickey, ragged, dirty, tough and tricky, with his fingers solled and stickey, is the terror of the town.

The Laughalot Boy.

The Laughalot boy is a gay little tad
Who lives in a gay little place
Where all the good people who meet him are glad
For just looking into his face.
And the birds that sing there from the dawn
until night
Warble only such songs as give people delight—

Warble only such songs as give people delight—
Sing to add to the joy
Of the Laughalot boy.
Each with all of its glad little might.
O, the Laughalot boy always runs to obey,
And never is rude or unkind,
And only good people go smilling his way,
And woes never darken his mind;
The Laughalot boy is a gay little tad
Who has many more joys than the boys who are bad—
All the winds seem to go
As he wants them to blow,
And his laughing makes everything glad.

Always her step beside me,
Always her hand in mine,
Whatever ill betide me,
Still is my pathway thine;
Whether it winds amid flowers and dew,
Whether in ways that are bordered by rue;
Whether in ways that are bordered by rue;
Whatever the way, she is tender and true,
This winsome, sweet wife o' mine!

Differences.

What is business? Ask the Jew;
Ask the crafty Yankee, too;
Ask the Briton, if you please,
Haughty trader of the seas;
Ask the German and the 'Jap'—
Aye, ask any clever chap:
All will tell, at least they know,
For their trades like pistons go.
What is business? Ask the sage,
And he'll stammer in his rage:
"Business is a thing apart—
Nether sclence, neither art;
For itself and all the time,
Makes no claim to be sublime;
Greedy grab and stingy stint,
Coining gold without a mint.
Religion, learning, love and all
Wither 'neath it's blighting fall.
All thay say is: "Well—um—ah—
Business, sir, is business—bah?"

What is business—the real thing?
Ask an honest business king:
"Business is the thing to do,
And the way to put it through;
Honest as the yard is long—
Honest as the pure is strong;
Honest as a pound in weight;
As a Chesterfield, polite;
Damon's honor binds each deal—
All is for the common weal;
And the vision of a seer
Must all enterprises steer."

Business is a cubic thing;
Square in all it's bargaining;
Square to God and square to man;
Square to self on any plan;
Squares to all the winds that blow—
Squarest thing that mortals know.
Business that is not four-square
Isn't business—see? Now, there!
—Walter F. Longacre.

Presbytery Met There Tuesday-Rev. Mr. Stewart the New Pastor.

The Presbytery of St. John held an ad journed meeting at St. Martin's Presbyerian church Tuesday for the purpose of Donald Stewart, B. A. The members tr, M. A., Ph. D., clerk; Rev.D. J. Fraser, LL. D. Also there were present Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, of Florenceville; Rev. A. B. McLeod, of Hampton, and Rev.

George Mitchell, of Salina. The trials for license having been dul sustained the Presbytery met in the church and an excellent sermon was preached by the clerk, Rev. Mr. Foster. His the.... was "The characteristics of the model

Rev. Dr. Fraser narrated the steps leading up to the events of the evening indidate, which being satisfactorily answered, he was thereupon ordained by prayer and the laying on of the hands of the Presbytery.

He was advised by the moderator of the Presbytery, on the office and duties of the Christian ministry. Dr. Fraser also addressed words of con ratulation to the congregation. He noted the interesting fact that Rev. Prof. Mc-Giffert, of Union Seminary, New York, began his ministerial life in this congregation as a catechist. There was a large attendance at the meeting and a hearty spirit manifested by the people. A resolution of appreciation of the life and work of the late Principal Grant was passed. Rev. Mr. Stewart served thic congrega tion last summer for six months as a echist, winning their affection and evi dences of the same were last night made manifest. The outlook for the future at he St. Martins church is good.

The St. John deputation were driven to and from St. Martins by David Watson. The Presbytery, adjourned to meet at St. Andrew's church on the evening of the 20th inst., at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of dealing with Calvin church matters.

Good Arbor Day Work.

Few districts have more conscientiously and profitably observed Arbor day than Bain's Corner and Fairfield, St. Martins, St. John county, and their example is worthy of imitation by all others. McPartland is the teacher, and by whos efforts enough money had been raised to provide a good fence for nearly two acres of grounds, and to paint the house and outbuildings: the grounds were ploughed seeded and fenced last year. This year more than 60 trees have been planted, with excellent taste and judgment. One side of the grounds has been planted with a cedar hedge and several fine flower beds have been laid out. Almost without exception the people of the district came At Pairfield, where Miss Hannah Floyd is teacher, similar good work has been done, all the people taking an interest as at Bain's Corner.

In both districts, at the suggestion of Inspector Carter, a part of the ground has been ploughed and seeds have been procured from Octawa, with which some During the winter these two districts united to secure the funds to start school libraries in each, More than $60 was raised, with which an excellent selection of books has been made.

The main building will be 46x46 feet, two and a half stories high. In it will be situated the reception room, diet kitchen and other apartments, as well as quarters for the matron, nurses and ser vants. The wings will be one story high and in them will be situated the male and female wards respectively. There will be 20 public beds and 13 private wards. The operating room will be thoroughly up-to-date in every respect. Hot water will be used to heat the building. The front face of the main building will be 58 feet from the sidewalk and the front of the wings 20 feet. The square in the centre will be neatly sodded. The scheme of the building is such that should it become necessary the accommodation can be doubled by the addition of a second story to the wings.

It is expected tenders will be called M. A. McPherson, Little Bras d'Or, has for in two weeks and the hospital be ready for use in the fall.
