

where he studied for 2 yrs., winning a 1st scholarship in each yr. In 1878 he won the Can. Gilchrist scholarship of £100 stg. per annum, tenable for 3 yrs. Proceeding to London he studied at Univ. Coll., applying himself to Math. In 1881 he won the Rothschild scholarship, valued at £56, awarded for the greatest proficiency in Math. in Univ. Coll. He graduated at the Univ. of London, Oct., 1881, and was asst. to the Prof. of Math. in Univ. Coll. for 2 yrs. He became lecturer in Math. in the Electrical Engineering Coll., London, 1882, a position he resigned, 1883, on his appt. to the chair of Math. in Mount Allison Coll., N. B. While in Europe, he studied also at the Univ. of Cambridge, and at the Univ. of Heidelberg. A mem. of the Meth. Ch. he m. Dec., 1884, Annie, dau. of Dr. J. R. Inch, Presdt. of the Univ. of N. B.—Sackville, N. B.

HURD, Albert, educationist, was b. at Kemptville, Ont., and for some yrs. worked on his father's farm. Fitting himself for coll., he graduated at Middlebury Coll., Vt., 1850, and served for a year as Principal of the Literary and Scientific Inst., Brandon, Vt. Mr. H. studied for a time with Agassiz, and being called to Knox Coll., Galesburg, Ill., he has held there the Professorship of Chemistry for over 40 yrs. In addition thereto he was for a time Prof. of Latin, and also acting Presdt. of the Coll.—Galesburg, Ill.

HURD, Edward Payson, M.D., was b. at Newport, Compton, P. Q., Aug. 29, 1838. Ed. at St. Francis Coll., Richmond, he graduated M.D. at McGill Univ., 1865. After practising at Danville for 5 yrs., he removed to Newburyport, Mass., where he has since resided and holds various local offices. He is also Prof. of Path. and Dermat. in the Coll. of Phys. and Surg., Boston. Dr. H., in addition to publishing 2 works: "Sleep, Insomnia and Hypnotics," and "Neuralgia," has written largely for the Am. med. press. He has translated from the French 22 different works, and has been on the ed. staff of the Boston Med. and Surg. Journal since 1884. He m. 1865, Miss Sarah Elizabeth Campbell, Newburyport.—Newburyport, Mass.; Fortnightly Club.

HUTCHINSON, Rev. David (Bapt.), is the s. of the late Rev. Hy. Hutchinson (Bapt.), and was b. in Hertfordshire, Eng., 1855. He received his early education at a private sch., afterwards entered the East London Coll., under Dr. Guinness, where he was prepared for the ministry. On completing his studies, he crossed the Atlantic, and for 4 yrs. was engaged in evangel. work in Nfd., N. S., N. B., Ont. and the U. S. His first pastoral charge was Ingersoll, Ont. Thence he was sent to St. Thomas, and subsequently was apptd. to his present pastorate over Park Bapt. Ch., Brantford. At the Convention, 1893, he was unanimously chosen Presdt. of the Bapt. body of Ont. and Quebec, and was elected at the same time a gov. of McMaster Univ. Politically, he is in sympathy with the Lib. party.—Brantford, Ont.

"A clear thinker, an able preacher, and one who can hold his own in argument."—Globe.

HUTCHINSON, Rev. Patrick Hynds (Presb.), was b. in Belfast, Irel., 1852. He received his preliminary education at the Royal Acad. Inst., in that city, proceeding thence to the Univ. of Glasgow, where he held in succession the John Clark, the Lorimer and the Ross scholarships, and graduated with honours in Classics, M. A., 1884. Elected to the Euing Fellowship in Classics, he became Asst. Prof. of Latin in his Alma Mater, a position he held for 4 yrs. Ordained to the ministry, he laboured in a mission ch. during the last few yrs. of his stay in Scot. He came to Can., 1894, and was inducted early in 1895 over St. Andrew's Ch., Huntingdon, as the successor of the Rev. Dr. Muir. He m. 1894, Miss Cecilia M. Wilson, Shotts, Scot.—"The Manse," Huntingdon, P. Q.

HUTCHISON; Alexander Cowper,