

RED AND BLACK TEAMS HIT THE ROAD

Devils vs Saints Tomorrow

Saint Dunstan's University host the UNB Red Devils tomorrow night in Charlottetown, P.E.I., in the NB-PEI intercollegiate hockey league fixture. The Devils will take over undisputed possession of first place if they win this game while if the Saint's win, there will be a three-way tie for first place.

Saint Dunstan's and Mount Allison clashed two weeks ago on Mount A ice and the Mounties ended up on the long end of a 5-2 count. The Saints had only had five practice sessions before that game and the Red Devils will be meeting a much tougher hockey team tomorrow night. Last year, UNB won their two games with SDU by 5-2 and 6-2 scores.

The Saints have undergone an extensive face lifting this year from goal out. Redmond has taken over from last years net-minder Shepherd. Redmond was injured in the Mount Allison game when he stopped a shot by defenseman Mal Joyce with his head. King then took over the goaltending duties for the duration of the night. Rough and ready Ron Hache, Walen, MacDonald, O'Neil, Murphy and Burns are returnees while newcomers Trainor, Berube, Kane, R. Peters, C. Peters, Rivard, and Keyes provide depth.

Belated congratulations to Mount Allison goaltender Harry Stirling and Red Devils left-winger Pete Mockler on being chosen as the most valuable player to their team during the UNB-Mt A game last Saturday. The players were chosen by the rival coaches, Pete Kelly and Major McCormack. Mockler and Stirling received awards from the UNB Winter Carnival Committee.

WRESTLING CLUB IN FULL SWING

A small group of University of New Brunswick athletics are gradually popularizing a sport which is entirely new to the college campus. Under the direction of Coach Don Nelson, mentor of the Red and Black varsity football and basketball squads and a member of the University Physical Education staff, the UNB Wrestling Club was organized last year and has gained rapid popularity.

Coach Nelson emphasizes the fact that the group is merely a club and has no intentions of expanding to the intercollegiate level of competition, at least not in the near future. Actually UNB is the only Maritime college which includes wrestling in its program of athletic activities. Grunt and groan enthusiasts from "Up the Hill" are looking forward to the day when they will be able to compete with other Universities in the seaside provinces and their group will be recognized as a bona fide varsity sport.

For the present, however, Coach Nelson and his boys are foregoing any competition and are following strictly instructional periods. At present the club has a total of twelve members, meeting each Monday evening at 8:00 P.M. in the Conditioning Room of the gymnasium.

Bloomers Away to Acadia, Dal.

The University of New Brunswick Co-ed basketball squad, the Red Bloomers, are in Wolfville this morning to play Acadia. They will then travel to Halifax to meet the Dalhousie co-eds tomorrow night, Saturday, Feb. 8.

The strong showing made by the Bloomers when they opened their Intercollegiate schedule during the UNB Winter Carnival last weekend by defeating the Acadians 60 - 24, indicates that they will not run into too much opposition in Wolfville this evening. As for tomorrow night's game, a glance at the results thus far shows that Dalhousie just managed to oust Mount A by a two point margin, the score being 37 to 35, whereas our own Co-eds downed the Sackville fairer sex by a nine point spread — that score being 43-34.

Among those on the Bloomer squad this weekend will be Peggy Colpitts, who was the highest scorer in last Friday's tilt, Dede Smith, voted the most valuable UNB co-ed player also in last Friday's game, and Jo-Anne Carr, another high scorer.

It would seem as though the co-eds are going all out this year in their efforts to retain that symbol of supremacy, the Maritime Intercollegiate Ladies Championship, which they won last year. A close race is expected to result for this honour between Dalhousie, Mount Allison and UNB.

APPEAL FROM ATHLETIC PREXY

Bob Wightman, President of the A.A.A., has issued an appeal to all students on the campus who wish to make application for the managership of one of the University teams to do so immediately. Commenting that the present lack of interest is only one other indication of the "procrastination and general apathy" which holds sway on the campus, Mr. Wightman went on to point out that managers should already have been appointed, but an insufficient number of students have applied for the various positions available.

As yet applications have not been received for positions with the following teams: Football, Soccer, Badminton, Tennis, Junior Varsity Hockey, Swimming, Skiing, and several others.

President Wightman emphasized the fact that "for all those who do not know (or have not bothered to find out) managers are well rewarded for their troubles. First, there is the travelling involved with their respective teams, Secondly they receive points toward non-athletic awards, which consist of rings and pins awarded in the senior year. Thirdly, after two years, the manager is presented with a cardigan sweater at the athletic banquet."

Any interested student is requested to contact Bob Wightman, Bob McNutt, Vice-President of the A.A.A., or Norma Wiley, Secretary.

RED RAIDERS FACE CRUCIAL TWIN BILL

This weekend the University of New Brunswick Red Raiders are on the road in an attempt to clinch the NB-PEI Basketball Championship. Their first tilt will be against St. Dunstan's University in Charlottetown, PEI, tonight with the second scheduled to be played in Sackville against Mount Allison tomorrow night.

The Raiders are going into their game against the Saints with a nineteen point lead in a two-game total-point series. However, St. Dunstan's have proved to be very strong on their own territory, and Coach Nelson feels that this gives them an additional ten points. Judging from last year's game in which the Raiders downed the Saints by one point in overtime, tough opposition will probably be put up by the fighting Islanders.

Unfortunately UNB expect to be minus three of their strong men — Ron Manzer and Bob Porter, who are out with injuries, and John Gorman due to academic pressure. John Gorman, who was the strong man in last Friday's game in which the Raiders flattened St. Dunstan's by a score of 57 to 38, being selected as the most valuable player on the Raiders squad and also highest scorer for UNB, will be missed in the tilt against the Saints tonight. However it is expected that Gerald Tingley, who was rated as the Saint's most valuable player, will be ready for his team. The Saint's starting line is expected to also include Lorne McGuigan, Peter McGonnell, Al Morrison, and Bob Fearon.

Due to the fact that the Raiders downed Mt. A in both games played last year by substantial margins, the game against the same Hawks, on Saturday night, whose team has not changed greatly from last year's lineup, is not expected to offer the Big Red too much trouble.
