

ment of their mind and heart; between the love of human learning and that of Christian virtue. Then I can truly promise them that they shall do honor to their friends and relations; that they shall be the pride and glory of their teachers, and the objects of general esteem and respect like my little Pupil of the Christian Brothers.

THE END.