

REAL SUCCESS

sidering, of weighing one's words and deeds that compels the moments, the days and the years to bring the success that some mistakenly think is only a matter of chance.

It is this habit of careful thinking that is going to make you remember that you owe it not only to yourself to make your life the truest success you can, but you owe it to your family, your friends, your enemies—if such you have—to the whole world with which you are in partnership, and to the stars above you.

But above all others there is one who, either in spirit or in her living presence, must ever and always be near to you, and for whose sake you will—God helping you!—stand up in your boots and be a man!

THE MOTHER'S DREAM

Boy, your mother's dreaming; there's a picture
pure and bright
That gladdens all her gracious tasks at morning,
noon and night;
A picture where is blended all the beauty born of hope,
A view that takes the whole of life within its loving scope.

It is an uncontroverted truth that no man ever made an ill figure who understood his own talents, nor a good one who mistook them.—SWIFT.

The great successes of the world have been affairs of a second, a third, nay, a fiftieth trial.—JOHN MORLEY.

Be what nature intended you for, and you will succeed; be anything else, and you will be ten thousand times worse than nothing.—SYDNEY SMITH.
