A New Summer Resort

Written for The Ontario by "Waytara"

For many years, Coneseon Lake, when there was no accommodation has been considered one of the other than that furnished by the surrounding farmers, summer visitors from Wellington and Coneseon, found their way to Coneseon Lake to enjoy camping and fishing for several days at a time. And when with nicksers. But up to the present time the necessary conveniences prepared it could not properly be designated by the general host, tourists, we are as a "Summer Resort" its distance. It is to be attracted in large numbers to this pleasant spot for a few miles from the Hillier being Colone's reputation as a genial and sufficient to dispense the order of the accommodating host has been well-citizen who cherished a secret desire to launch into the enterprise. But as proprietor of the Hotel Alexandria, Wellington. The Colonel is a military man and though not being able to enlist in active service himself, he has two distinguished sons, and the Colonel sufficiently progressive and far-seeing to purchase a farm and to prepare to erect cottages.

The farm, which the Colonel recently purchased from Mrs. Robert Anderson of Alberta, formerly belonged to Mr. Caldwell, father of Mrs. Ferguson, who, in coming to Coneseon Lake, is returning to the home of her childhood, with his usual energy and ability the Colonel has entered the task and after making much needed repairs to the dwelling, has the village of Coneseon on the west cut down standing timber which is now being sawn into lumber for the building of several summer cottages. The shores of Coneseon Lake afford many desirable locations suitable for this purpose but none more suitable than the Colonel's estate on the north shore. A wooded bank affords a pleasant and attractive location for cottages, and a road, gradually descending to the water, leads the way into a delightful grove at the water's edge its natural beauty and solitude, leading one at first sight to exclaim with the poet:— "There is a pleasure in the pathless woods, There is a rapture on the lonely shore."

The shore here too is sandy affording a fine place for waders and bathers and the lake itself is noted for its fishing. There is no reason to doubt the success of the Colonel's enterprise for during the summer seasons, reproductions of the various secret journals and gives an interesting and informative account of the nature and methods of the secret press. But of course full details will not be available till after the war, when it is to be hoped that someone will reveal the mysteries and let the whole world know something of the personalities of the patriots who conducted these enterprises, and so disclose one of the greatest mysteries of one of the finest feats of journalism in the history of the war.

A "Comeback"

CARRIAGE DEALER SCORED ON YOUNG FARMER

The following story of a pat comeback is verified, not only by the salesman who made the apt retort, but also by witnesses who heard the conversation. About eight years ago a farmer living near here bought a buggy, which served for the whole family until last week. Then his son found a fair Juliet. The laws governing rural romances demanded that the young swain buy either an auto or new buggy. He chose the new buggy, perhaps because while it is possible to throw the lines around the whip and trust to Dobbin, it is not quite safe to tie down the steering wheel and trust to luck.

One day last week this Romeo from the farm marched into a local carriage sales room. "The same man who sold his father the buggy eight years before was there, and remembered the incident." "We have the very same kind of buggy in stock right now," he said to the prospective buyer. "How much is it?" queried the young man. "One hundred and eighty dollars," answered the salesman. "Why, my father paid only eighty dollars for the same buggy eight years ago," indignantly exclaimed the young farmer. "It's a robbery to boost the price like that."

"Well, if you can remember that far back, your father didn't have the cash to pay for his buggy, so I took a hundred bushels of wheat in exchange for it."

"Wets" Get 70 Per Cent

IN NEW YORK STATE

Voting on Local Option Carries By Large Majority in 39 Cities, East Larger Places Go Against It

Albany, N.Y., April 18.—Reapportionment today on Tuesday and Wednesday's local option elections in New York State showed that, although prohibition forces won out in a bare majority in thirty-nine cities voting, the wets secured the larger municipalities, and retained nearly seventy per cent. of the total vote.

The line-up stands: For prohibition, twenty; for retaining licenses, nineteen. Syracuse and Seneca County, the largest cities voting, went wet by large majorities, ranging from approximately 2,000 to 2,500 respectively. Binghamton, the only other second class city affected, went dry.

CHARLES OSBORNE

Charles Osborne, formerly a member of the C.E.F., died this morning early in Belleville Hospital where he had been for several months. His home is 14 Murray St. He was in the 59th battalion, was transferred to the 80th, later to the 158th and finally to the Special Service Company. Since his discharge he has been working at the Wilson Manufacturing works. He was a native of England and had lived nine years at Point Anne and three years in Belleville. He was over 50 years of age. Mourning his loss are his widow, four daughters, Mrs. John Cobb, of Wainpeter, Mrs. J. McAnley, Belleville, Miss Minnie and Miss Lillie of this city and two sons, Harry and Charles.

After reaching a ripe old age some men have nothing to do but sit around and nurse their frost-bitten appetites.

ACUTE NERVOUS EXHAUSTION

All Treatments Proved Useless Until He Tried "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

MR. JAS. S. DELGATY.

R.R. No. 4, Gilbert Plains, Man. "In the year 1910, I had Nervous Prostration in its worst form: was reduced in weight from 170 pounds to 115 pounds."

The doctors had no hope of my recovery, and every medicine I tried proved useless until a friend induced me to take "Fruit-a-lives". I began to mend almost at once; and after using this fruit medicine for 3 or 4 months, I was back to my normal state of health.

I never had such good health for twenty years as I have enjoyed the past six years. We are never without a box of "Fruit-a-lives" in the house."

Celebration of St. Julien

First Church, Parade of Great War Veterans' Association.

The third anniversary of the second battle of Ypres fought on Sunday morning by the members of the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, who took part in their first church parade. Lt. Col. O'Flynn, president of the association and the veterans of Ypres and the other great battles attended the Salvation Army chimes where Commandant McElliethy, of Peterborough, conducted services, assisted by Adjutant Ritchie, of the local corps and Captain T. D. Ruxton. The 15th Regimental Band with the Salvation Army musicians took part in the service. The order was as follows: The National Anthem; hymn, "O'wrad Christian Soldiers"; Prayer—Captain Kuston; Hymn—"O God Our Help in Ages Past"; Scripture Reading, third Chapter of Daniel by Commandant McElliethy; read selection and trio, Mrs. Parks, Mrs. Healy and Mrs. Collins.

Adjutant Ritchie welcomed the veterans and the Commandant paid tribute to the great work of the G. W. V. A. Commandant McElliethy preached the sermon, which was a fine effort. He said: Anniversary days in some respects are very joyous. But to those of you who were there, this anniversary day brings very pleasant memories. There maybe recollection of God's providence to you or how some boys went valiantly over. These may be green spots. "I don't wait to stir up any of the unpleasant memories, you have had enough. There are under the sad over those, your claims, which we revere, and whose memory we pay tribute to this morning. The issue in which you went to fight was the cause of righteousness. It is surprising that our enemies have not recognized this. All social and moral reforms have cost a great deal, the open Bible, the free press, and our religious liberties have cost gallons upon gallons of blood. Ask the kiddie whose father lies over in Flanders field and he will reply "It cost my daddy's life." Some have paid the supreme sacrifice and some have been permitted to return. Somehow friends were shot down all around you and you escaped by providence.

God's providence has not always been easily understood. Abraham passed through a testing time. Why was Joseph suffered to go through his hard experiences? Although it was meant for ill that Joseph was left to die, yet it worked out for his good. The three young men had faith in God to deliver them from the fiery furnace. Daniel was thrown into the den of lions. But God's providence was worked out. Christ's choosing of disciples, mainly from the lower strata of society seems strange but there was a marvellous, reckless consecration to their master so that they all died violent death. A strange thing yet with vastly important results for the early church. God has his own way of working out His plans although it may seem unreasonable to man. Did it not seem strange that His Son should be born in a manger, that He should be forced to live a life, subject to undeserved shame, that He should be strung up on the cross. God did not use His son any better than He used men. He used Him worse than any historian has recorded of any individual. They tell some awful stories of German atrocities, but no soldier ever suffered as He suffered. When sacrifices were to be made, I think Canadians were honored to be there three years ago. I am contented that when the time comes, our soldiers will repeat the achievements of the past. The Commandant read General Currie's noble words to the Canadians. The soldiers are carrying out in the providence of God His plans and specification for a better world, although the battle will make widows and orphans.

The reforms that have come to our land since the war began, have been splendid. Statistics show that up to the beginning of 1917, the liquor traffic took every year a bigger toll in men's lives in Canada than the war has. While it is costing much to hold the line, it will, we pray, purify the home life, and politics so that a greater and more glorious dawn may arise for the coming generation. Then those who here lost friends will feel that they have not died in vain. I only hope God will keep us steady in the coming days of great strain. The value of the sacrifice cannot be seen on the face of it, but it will ultimately appear here on hereafter. Right is right, for God is God.

At the close of the service while all stood, the band played the "Dead March in Saul" in memory of the fallen.

Commemorate Anniversary

Officers of 2nd Battalion, C. E. F. Regathered at Quinte Hotel.

The third annual dinner of the returned officers of the second battalion held in commemoration of the Second Battle of Ypres, was held at the Hotel Quinte on Saturday night. Those present were: Brig. General Hemming, C. M. G. guest of honor, Lt. Col. C. H. Ackerman, Lt. Col. F. E. Birdsall, Lt. Col. E. D. O'Flynn, Major T. Ashmore Kidd, D. A. & D. M. G., Military District No. 3 Major R. D. Ponton, Major L. F. Goodwin, Capt. Clyde Scott, Lt. R. W. Birdseye, D. C. M. and Lt. A. B. Millik.

Telegrams of regret at inability to attend were received from Lt. Gen. Sir Sam Hughes, Major Hugh G. C. Lobb, Woodlomb, Whelan, Abell and Lt. McGarg. The officers arrived on the International Limited and were met by the Belleville officers and meted about the city and after a pleasant motor trip went to Major Ponton's residence and were served with afternoon tea there.

The dinner took place at 8 p.m. and was admirably served by Mr. Jenkin's staff. Addresses were made by Brig. General Hemming, Major Goodwin, Capt. Scott, Lt. Birdseye and Lt. Col. E. D. O'Flynn who acted as toastmaster.

Brig. General Hemming in his address spoke of the work of the Second Battalion which was composed of men from this district. He commended the officers on the honor which they had won upon the field of battle, and the name of the battalion, as this battalion and the fifth were the only Canadian battalions who had been given that honour on account of the exceptional services which they had performed.

Capt. Scott, whose hip was broken at the battle of Ypres and who spent over two years in Germany gave some idea of the experience there. Lt. Birdseye, who is a New Yorker and who volunteered at the outbreak of war and who is one of the most recent officers who has returned, gave an idea of the present situation and the apparent plans of the German general staff in their present attack. He was very optimistic as to the eventual outcome.

After the dinner and speeches were over the guests adjourned to the Belleville club where the remainder of the evening was spent and many old stories were revived by the members of the battalion. It was decided that the dinner next year would be held at Peterboro, Ontario, and hope was expressed that we would have all the officers back by that time.

The guests left on the noon train yesterday for their various destinations.

Fame For Point Anne Artist

Manly E. MacDonald Exhibits Fine Fine Study of Horses.

In the last issue of the Toronto Saturday Night the following reference appears to Point Anne artist who has won a travelling scholarship awarded by the trustees of the National Gallery of Canada. "Eight young painters competed for the Travelling Scholarship instituted a few years ago by the Trustees of the National Gallery of Canada. No one will quarrel with the decision which awarded it to Manly E. MacDonald of Point Anne. His study of horses, 'In the Shack' is capital in drawing; his apprehension of sunlight is true in vision as well expressed; and he has made a real study of horse coloration, a point in which many celebrated pictures are faulty."

"My Rheumatism is All Gone" She Says

MRS. MILLEY'S TRIBUTE TO DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Newfoundland Lady Tells How She Suffered for Years, and How She Found Relief.

Exploit's Harbor, Notre Dame Bay, Nfld.—April 23.—That Dodd's Kidney Pills are upholding their enviable reputation in every corner of Canada is evidenced by the statement of Mrs. Samuel Milley, a well-known resident of this place. "For several years I suffered from rheumatism and heart failure, two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and my rheumatism is all gone. I know Dodd's Kidney Pills are a wonderful medicine. I recommend them to all my friends who are not feeling well, and they like myself speak highly of them."

"I used Dodd's Kidney Pills and got relief." Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. If the kidneys are weak and sick they cannot do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. The result is bound to be sickness and disease. To keep the kidneys sound is to lay the foundation of good health. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not cure sick kidneys.
