

SATCHEL OF THE SATELLITE

The ministers are with us. We'll win.

King Dodo is an entertaining monarch.

The usual scrap between the city and county is on.

That $667.84 looks mighty good to the C. C. I. Board.

The C. C. I. Board doesn't give any 20 per cent. discount for cash.

Wonder which of the local organette's "winners" is going to quit next.

John Howat—l'd sooner back out than be thrown out. You fight easier.

He who is nominated and runs away, will live to be nominated another day.

If Irish Jack only would, he could tell me who the new candidate in East Kent will be.

John Lee and John Howat are both good men and wags. They knew what they were up against.

The Banner said that John Howat couldn't possibly stand. He must be a little "weak" kneed.

"Pretty Peggie" is a remarkably fine name for a show. I know several of them—girls, not shows.

If one of the "dauntless three" is not enough for a Ross candidate, we'll link them the whole job lot.

The next Ross-Sullivan nominee in East Kent will probably get Irish Jack's written permission to run.

The local organette said that Howat was a "winner." Now we can tell what all its other "winners" are like.

Perhaps Howat resigned in order to work for Bowyer, too, when he found that all the rest of the good Liberals were doing it.

I suppose the local Ross organette would like to compliment Walter Mills and the Rev. Mr. Hunter but it's afraid to.

If Archie McCoig were only as far sighted as John Howat the West Kent Liberals would be looking for a candidate, too.

The local Ross-Sullivan-Sullivan advocate says The Planet is electing Archie McCoig. They also said the same about this G. H. J. and George Stephens you will remember.

Two weeks ago the Alpena D. I. & Gas Co. struck a flow of gas and oil on the Russell farm, 13th concession, Raleigh. The Banner got onto the fact yesterday. Vide The Planet, Saturday, Dec. 3, 1904.

"What does Y. M. C. A. stand for?" queried an inquisitive one of the Satellite. "Is it Young Men's Christian Association or Young Men's Christian Association?" "Why" was the reply, "it stands for both."

COLLEGIATE BOARD

S. B. Arnold arrived at the meeting of the C. C. I. Board yesterday a little late and somewhat out of breath. The chairs around the table were all taken but Dr. Thornton pointing, remarked, "There's a chair over in the corner, Doc."

"I object," broke in Colonel, quickly, "I object to any member of this board being put in a corner."

Chairman Dr. Battisby, ex-Ald. John Liddy, and Robert Smith, the other members of the Board present, joined in the laugh.

The Board didn't waste any time, but quickly decided to endeavor to collect by process of law the 100 per cent. of cost of maintenance of county pupils from the county.

The secretary, Mr. Harris, reported that as per instructions he had waited upon the county treasurer and presented him with an account for $2,389.65. The county treasurer had tendered him a check for $1,772.11, in full for all amounts due.

S. B. Arnold said there was only one thing to do, place the matter in the hands of the solicitor, and instruct him to take proceedings to secure the whole amount.

It was moved by S. B. Arnold, seconded by Dr. Thornton, that this be done.—Carried.

Dr. Thornton—We'll have to find out where we're at. We've got to secure the whole amount.

S. B. Arnold thought the electors of the county should know something about this matter, when they were voting for members of that body. The election would take place at the first of the year.

Dr. Battisby—The people in Dresden and Wallaceburg aren't going to send their children to Ridgeway, and if they do it will cost the county just as much as at Chatham.

Colonel Rankin said they were keeping them home now on account of the Pere Marquette time-table. S. B. Arnold remarked that something might be done about that, too.

S. B. Arnold said that the county had settled last year rather than go into the courts.

Dr. Battisby said that bad odors emanated from the break.

The matter was referred to the Property Committee.

The following accounts were passed:—

FLESH BUILDER

The liver of the cod fish produces oil that is a wonderful flesh builder. No fat or oil can compare with it in that respect. To get the best out of it, it must be emulsified and made like cream. In Scott's Emulsion it is prepared in the best possible form to produce the best possible results. Thirty years have proven this.

LITTLE ONES

Charming Christmas Closing Exercises by the Kindergarten of McKenough School—Presentation of Awards.

That the kindergarten has won a place deep in the hearts of the people of Chatham was evidenced by the large attendance of friends and parents at the McKenough School Kindergarten Closing Exercises yesterday afternoon. Not only did this testify to public interest in the kindergarten, but it also showed in a gratifying manner the general and wide spread appreciation of the excellent work being done by Miss McKenough and her capable staff of assistants. This testimonial was amply deserved.

It was a gala afternoon. The commodious hall room of McKenough School was tastefully and prettily decorated for the occasion. Evergreen and holly festooned the walls and draped the ceiling, whilst a fine Christmas tree, prettily adorned with flags, bore a multitude of dainty souvenirs, gifts from the little tots, their own handiwork, to their parents. A large number of these had already gathered, when, shortly after 2.30, the little tots, to the number of 38, guided by Miss McKenough and her assistants, Miss Crafts and Miss Stripp, marched in, two and two, keeping correct step to the admirable piano accompaniment of Miss Rose Morrison. The tots, seated on their circle of tiny chairs, the exercises commenced in the singing of a "Greeting" to the parents. This was followed by a pretty Christmas Hymn.

The following were the songs: Christmas Hymn. September. The Sleepy Leaves. Jack Frost. The Wonderful Weaver. The Blacksmith. The Sandman. Santa Claus. The Family.

The prettily touching effect of the lisping voices was enhanced by appropriate gestures. The leaves, rustling and falling, the shiver at the coming of Jack Frost, the snowflakes coming their merrily, the hammer and anvil—these, and a dozen other imitations, could not have been excelled by trained actors.

These various numbers, received with deserved applause, were followed by marching and other exercises, as follows: The Tournament—with ring and sword. Marches. Song—Christmas is Here. The Bird's Nest. Pigeons. Skip Tag. Skipping. Feeding the Chickens. Snowballs.

The Tournament was cleverly done. The marching exercises were perfect and the various impersonations which followed were delightfully entertaining and amusing. "Feeding the Chickens" especially so; whilst, where only a few of the children were, all displayed a manifest eagerness to take part. "Snowballs" was not only entertaining, but exciting.

At the conclusion of the exercises the Christmas gifts, neat souvenirs of their own dainty handiwork, were presented to the children to be in turn eagerly presented by them to their parents. Presently, after which, once more lining up, they loyally sang "God Save the King."

The kindergarten exercises were followed by the presentation of the Entrance and Graduation certificates, by Miss Brown. A PAINTING WORTH HALF A MILLION DOLLARS.

Titian's portrait of Ariosto, recently acquired for the British National Gallery from Sir George Donaldson for $20,000—the sum for which it was purchased for some years ago from Lord Darnley—is by no means the costliest of the national pictures. That distinction belongs to the "Aniela Madonna" of Raphael, bought in 1885 from the Duke of Marlborough for £70,000—more than three times the highest price ever before paid for a picture, and equal to more than 214 per square inch. Ruskin spoke of it as "quite the loveliest Raphael in the world." It had been valued by the director of the National Gallery at £115,500, and Gladstone was wont to find satisfaction in having saved the taxpayers £45,500 in this purchase.

Other costly acquisitions include Van Dyck's "Charles I." (£17,500), Holbein's "Ambassadors," Velasquez's "Admiral Pantoja," and Morone's "Italian Noblemen" from Lord Darnley, which together cost £55,000—£30,000 of which was derived from private gifts and Rembrandt's "Portrait of a Burgomaster" and "Portrait of an Old Lady" acquired in 1899 from Lord de Saumarez for £15,000. For the Peel collection, comprising 77 pictures and 18 drawings acquired in 1871, £75,000 was paid. An interesting offer of a quarter of a million sterling was made for the Peel pictures in 1884.

Can Eat Anything Now.

How many Dyspeptics can say that? Or perhaps you are dyspeptic and don't know it.

Have you any of these symptoms?

Variable appetite, a faint gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach, unsatisfied hunger, a loathing of food, rising and souring of food, a painful load at the pit of the stomach, constipation, or are you gloomy and miserable? Then you are a dyspeptic. The cure is careful diet; avoid stimulants and narcotics, do not drink at meals, keep regular habits, and regulate the stomach and bowels with BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

Nature's specific for Dyspepsia. Miss Laura Chabois, Belle Anne, Que., says of its wonderful curative powers:—"Last winter I was very thin, and was fast losing flesh owing to the run-down state of my system. I suffered from Dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get, but to no purpose; then finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters. From the first day I felt the good effect of the medicine, and am now feeling strong and well again. I can eat anything now without any ill after-effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

A. H. WILSON.

A feature of more than special interest, especially to music lovers, in the performance of A. H. Wilson, the celebrated comedian, and "golden voiced singer," are the beautiful, melodious and catchy melodies introduced by this clever singer.

His "The Watch on the Rhine," Sidney R. Ellis' charming romantic comedy, which received its premiere last season under the management of Chas. H. Fisher, and Sidney R. Ellis, Mr. Wilson staged six new songs during the play, the success of each song being so strongly marked that the question as to which one is the best is purely a matter of personal opinion. There is the charming love ballad, "My German Rose," the beautiful heart song, "The Tea Kettle Song," the irresistible waltz song "My Little Deutscher," "The Song of Home," which as its title indicates appeals to every heart, "In Tyrol," a yodel especially fitted to Mr. Wilson's marvelous voice, and "When Parading," a bright and snappy march song of unusual attractiveness.

The words of these successful melodies were written by Sidney R. Ellis and the music by A. H. Wilson, and once heard are never forgotten. This fact has been the attraction at the Grand Opera House on Tuesday, Dec. 20th.

SWEET-VOICED ACTOR HERE.

A. H. Wilson in "The Watch on the Rhine."

A. H. Wilson, the "golden-voiced," began a two-night and matinee engagement at the Grand Opera House last night, appearing in "The Watch on the Rhine," a very pretty comedy-drama.

Mr. Wilson has a good comedy supporting him, and the performance was a pleasing one. He sang several songs, including "Love is All in All" and "My Little Tea Kettle," which appeared to be the favorites. "The Watch on the Rhine" is similar in some respects to "The Prince of Tatters," in which Mr. Wilson last appeared here. There is a sweet love story running through and about the whole and the climaxes are reached naturally and without undue drawing of swords or flashing of firearms, though these are not wanting. The stage pictures include a scene on the Rhine that is very handsome. The company includes a wee tot who is very clever, and among the support are Ross O'Neill, George A. Wright, Harry H. Fisher, Fanny Bloodgood, Rolinda Bainbridge, Florence Stover, and Amanda Terry. There will be a matinee to-day and a performance again to-night.—London Free Press, Dec. 17.

KING DODO.

At the Grand T-night.

Some comic operas are forgotten in a season and some go on making stage history until they are accepted as standard operas. Such an opera is "King Dodo" now in its fourth year. It is certainly one of the most successful works of its kind that has ever been produced, and the book is as clever and amusing as anything which the stage has seen in many years. Since "King Dodo" was first produced it has played nearly all of the important cities in the country and some of them twice. But in every instance the story is the same—success. "King Dodo" is better than ever this year, and one of the bright spots in the season will be the advent of this merry monarch locally. The production is exceptionally handsome and the company as good as it is possible to get together.
