Railway Operations in the Northwest.

Railway matters are notive at present in the far Northwest.

Railway matters are notive at present in the far Northwest and Northern Minnesots. The track is being laid on the Duluth & Winnipeg toward Winnipeg at the rate of a mile a day. Arrangements have been made between the Port Arthur, Duluth and Western Railway Company and the contractors whereby the completion of the line to the Minnesots boundary is assured, and will be finished before the winter. Track laying to Forr william has commenced. Birevel's grading outfit with 200 men left Winnipeg by special train for Calgary to again work on the construction of the first 100 miles to the Calgary & Edmonton Railway. The survey party of this road have reached a point fifteen miles north of Lone Pines. They are entering a region of bush and timber, where their progress will be less rapid than they have been making. Surveyors for the boundary are at Bow River, between Sheep and Plac creeks.

A committee from Guelph Lodge also waited on the Lodge and stated that it was deemed to be in the interest of the Order to have an excursion to some point on the C.P.R. and that it would be well if possible to have it on the civic boliday, and asked that a committee be appointed to work in conjunction with them in the matter. OLOSING UP A SUIT.—The Orangeville Post says: The last has probably been heard of the suit brought by Mrs. Scott against Henry Atkinson, and the Glen Oross tragedy will clease to be of interest except as a thing of the past. At the last spring stell28s Mrs. Scott secured a verdict against Atkinson for $300. The plaintiff's costs have been taxed at $457, making in all $757, which Atkinson will have to pay the plaintiff. Atkinson's own costs will likely be in the neighborhood of $500. Taking the expenses of the trial last fall into account, it is estimated that the unfortunate event at Glen Oross a year ago last May has cost Atkinson about $2.500. Last week he paid the plaintiff the $757 taxed against him.

The attendance from the West promises to be more numerous this than has been the rule in past years when the Grand body met in the eastern portion of the Province, and the "bill of fare" to be presented on the coassion, aside from the election of officers, which invariably esues more or less excitement, warrants the statement that a more than ordinarily interesting meeting may be expected.

RUST IN GRAIN.—The London Advertiser says: Wheat and oats in this locality show decided signs of rust and that material damage has been done to the crop has been reported from several reliable sources. The excessive moisture and corresponding terms of great heat which have been experienced this season have caused unusurily rapid growth. On this account the wheat is weak and recent storms have besten down the grain in large patches to the ground. This hasbeen looked on as a lesser evil, however, and is comparatively lost sight of in the anxiety of farmers and others regarding the rust above referred to. Farmers in the vicinity of Bothwell are also complaining that the wet and hot weather is rusting wheat and cats.
