The Stanley Douglass Ltd. mill at South Devon is still carrying on operations and from present indications this mill will run until about the middle of October, providing some logs that are held up in the Nashua can be got out.

Miss Taylor, of the Smythe Street School, has received a year's leave of absence, and Mrs. Simpson, of the Morrison's Mill School, will probably take her place, thereby creating a vacancy on the Mill School, and a teacher for this school will also be appointed at the meeting today.

WILLIAM FLETCHER
TO BE DEPORTED TO
THE OLD COUNTRY

Immigrant from Middlemore Home Has Got Into One Scrape After Another

IS AT PRESENT IN THE COUNTY JAIL

Passage to be Paid by Immigration Authorities and Middlemore Home Agents

William Fletcher, the young man who was arrested some time ago charged with stealing a watch from the residence of Benjamin Waugh, of Douglas, where he was employed as a farm hand, will be deported and sent back to the old country as soon as his passage can be arranged for by the immigration authorities and the agents of the Middlemore Home.

Fletcher is an English lad who was brought to this country by the Middlemore Home authorities, but has gotten into trouble so frequently since that the agents of the Home have been requested to look after him, and arrangements entered into between the immigration and Home authorities to have him deported and sent back.

His last escapade happened when he disappeared from the residence of Mr. Waugh at Douglas at the same time that a gold watch was missed. He was located in Fredericton by Chief of Police Finley and on being questioned told where he had hidden the parts of the watch.

The case was brought up and the evidence of Mr. Waugh and Chief Finley heard before Judge Limerick and the prisoner remanded until negotiations had been entered into with authorities of the Home.

Prudent housekeepers should see Edgewood's stock of linoleums, oilcloths, Congooleum squares, carpets and rugs, etc.; also their large stock of lace curtains and window drapery. The prices on these goods are right.
