BISHOP TAYLOR.

HE TALKS ABOUT HIS MISSIONARY WORK IN AFRICA.

He Is Now in New York Attending the Big Methodist Conference-Picture of the Bishop and His Famous Missionary Steamer, the Henry Leed.

The African mission of Eishop William Taylor, who is now in New York attending the big Methodist conference, has been singularly successful. He was ap pointed a missionary bishop at the last general conference, and is the only man in the Methodist church holding that office. Since the beginning of his work 3,000 ed guests, among natives have embraced Christianity under them Gen. Sher-man. Hon. Theohis ministrations. He has under his supervision some fifty preachers, sixteen of whom are women. Bishop Taylor states that Liberia, with its settled communitie of Christian Africans, with its organized government recognized by the nations. and its social regulations, will be used by him as the base and support of his futur operations. He has arranged for opening a dozen industrial schools, the chiefs of the different tribes visited having agreed to plant and attend to the first crops food required by the mission, to furnish building sites and to erect buildings. Bishop Taylor agrees to provide teachers preachers and all other things necessary o put the mission in a self supporting
