Ten "Dosanddons't's."

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

"Why are so many of us below par?" I asked a doctor the other day, after vainly trying to think of a thoroughly healthy person of my acquaintance. "Because," he said, "if you will pardon the quotation they have all the things they ought not to have done and left undone."

"For instance," he said, "well, let me see, I'll give you ten for instances."

"The average person," said the doctor—

"Doesn't drink water enough."

"Isn't outdoors enough."

"Isn't careful enough about keeping his bowels regular."

"Doesn't chew his food enough."

"Doesn't eat enough coarse food."

"Doesn't sleep enough."

"Doesn't laugh enough."

"Hurries too much."

"Worries too much."

"Eats too much candy and eats it at the wrong time, that is when the stomach is empty and the appetite for the next meal will be spoiled."

"Are these enough 'for instances'?" finished the doctor.

"Quite," I said, "and yet when you stop to think of it, they are all simple things to do. Nothing hard about them like dieting or taking a cold bath or special exercises."

"Exactly," said the doctor, "and let me ask you something—what makes us commit the food offenses we do against our health? What makes a girl eat a box of chocolates in the middle of the afternoon?"

"Why," said I, "because she likes the taste of them, I suppose."

"Precisely," said the doctor, "a great many of the offenses we commit against our bodies are simply a matter of sensation. But now figure it out, is there any sensation to compare with that of feeling perfectly fit? Think of some morning when you got up feeling perfectly well and strong and ready for anything. Wasn't that a more glorious sensation than you could get out of eating a box of chocolates? Everything you do when you feel like that is a pleasure, isn't it? Then why isn't it worth while to sacrifice some minor pleasures to feel like that?"

And in the light of the doctor's analysis, "worthwhile" seemed all too mild a word.

I consider MINARD'S LINIMENT the BEST Liniment in use.

I got my foot badly jammed lately. I bathed it well with MINARD'S LINIMENT, and it was as well as ever next day.

Yours very truly,

T. G. McMULLEN.

Fads and Fashions.

Many sleeves are in bishop shape. Skirts vary considerably in length. The sweater is still in good fashion. The satin blouse is good for tailored wear.

Neutral colors are trimmed with many buttons.

Bags are made of striped or figured foulard.

Some bodies suggest the tapering of the waist.

Utility coats of soft velour are much in evidence.

Checked taffeta jumper dresses are quite fetching.

Charming summer furs are combined with chiffon.

Very long skirts are sometimes short at the sides.

Fashionable veillings are using the pale color.

Short sleeves just covering the elbow are often seen.

The plain frock almost demands its touch of embroidery.

See of the girdles are only a cord of contrasting color.

Many of the smart blouses are put on over the head.

If skirts are full they conceal their fullness behind pleats.

The most proper motor wrap is a cape of generous fullness.

Many sleeves are now being made of the heavier fabrics.

Coral red embroidery is used on white Jersey frocks and suits.

Wide girdles are seen on frocks showing the Japanese influence.

The tailored dress and coat to match form an ideal combination.

Smoky blue chiffon over pale coral color is a charming mixture.

Are you going to get a New Suit of Clothes for Easter? If so, buy now; as the longer you delay the more you pay. We have a splendid line of Tweeds and Serges of the very finest quality, and our cut and workmanship need no advertising.

THE $12 HOG.

The $12 hog is a successful attempt to discourage people from eating meat three times a day.

The American people, as a class, have paid very little attention to the hog in recent years. They have been too busy protecting margins and leaning how to adjust the needle-valve carburetor so that it would carb in sequence. When a business man received orders to bring up a small section of pig for dinner he did so without taking his checkbook out of the safe. When we look back and see how many lean pork chops one could buy for a quarter and then see how far it will reach in that direction today, we can see why so many people turn vegetarians over night.

The $12 hog is caused by the European war, the same as the price of uncut diamonds and bronze shoes. Before the war started a stout-legged, adult American hog could be bought almost anywhere for less money than it takes to start up in the grocery business. No Sunday dinner was considered complete without a nine-pound pork roast which could be strung along through the week with the utmost success. The recumbent form of the pickled pig's foot was seen both in mansion and cottage and produced the same kind of indigestion in each. Now, however, people who serve any kind of pig do so with an air of pride and comment on the price per pound in an awed tone of voice.

The $12 hog has been a priceless blessing to the farmer, however, as it has enabled him to take nine full-grown pigs and four runts to market and return with enough money to check a safety deposit box. Thousands of automobiles are being bought to-day with the proceeds of a few squint-eyed pigs which a few years ago were as much of a drug on the market as the self-sprouting potato. We should not be envious, but when a business man who is pleased to be able to break even at the end of the year sees a farmer lead a few head of bow-legged pigs to market and return with the price of a twin six, it produces a lump in his throat as big as a foot ball.

No more soot to wipe away; no more ashes to cart away; no more wood to fetch; no more coal dust; no more smoke and no more reason why the kitchen cannot be kept as clean and as orderly as the parlor. The gas range means just this.

Saves 50 Per Cent. of Kitchen Care.

Half of the labor in the house is caused by dust from the coal range. Every time it smokes, no matter how good the draught may be, clouds of ashes rise and settle on the furniture. It eliminates Hard Work.

Use a gas range and you will live better, you will play better, and you will work better because the use of the gas range eliminates the drudgery of carrying coal, ashes and the chopping of kindling, as well as the drudgery of cleaning up a lot of dirt, and, best of all, for the cook it makes it unnecessary for her to stand over a hot stove from two to three hours a day.

There is some suggestion of the short waist in some of the new dresses.

Dark blue satin with an overdress of dark blue chiffon is very chic.

Net-top lace is used for tunic, sleeves and chemise of afternoon frocks.

"The Fifth Word Lost."

The English language contains only five words ending in -o-u-s. Here are four: Tremendous, Hazardous, Stupendous, Hybridous. We will give $5.00 to the 1st person forwarding us the lost word. Can you find it?
