Special Notices.

The Caops in Rieland.—Wheat every-where will be a good crop, and early-sown barley will also be abundant, but late-sown barley is light. Oats are reported to be an average crop in some districts, although short in the straw, but in other parts this description of cercal will scarce-ly come up to the usual average. The lightest crops will be found where the seed is sown late, and where the land is either naturally poor or in bad heart. Reports from County Down state the flax crop has improved beyond expectation, but in some parts of the North it is a short crop. The hay crop, in general, has been light; but it has been observed that where suitable top-dressings were applied at the proper season the yield is, on the whole, satisfactory. Owing to the fine weather during the hay harvest, the quality is good. Potates are reported to be promising in all parts of the cauntry, and the quality of the early kinds are first-rate.—Farmers' Gazette. PAIN - KILLER

Mysters of the Canadian Lakes.—Lake Eric is only 60 to 70 feet deep, but Lake Ontario, which is 592 feet deep, is 230 feet below the tide level with the ocean, or as low as most parts of the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the bottoms of Lake Huron, Michigan and Superior, although, the surface is so much higher, are all, from their vast depths, on a level with the bottom of Ontario. Now, asthe discharge through the River Detroit, after allowing for the probable portion carried off by exporation, does not appear by any means equal to the quantity of water which the three upper lakes receive, it has been conjectured that a subterranean river may run from Lake Superior, by the Huroato Lake Ontario. This conjecture is by no means improbable, and accounts for the singular fact that salmen and herring are caught in all the lakes communicating with the St. Lawrence, but in no others. As the Falls of Niagara must always, have existed, it would puzzle the naturalist to say how these fish got into the upper lakes without some such subterranean river; moreover, any periodical obstruction of the river would furnish a not improbable solution of the mysterious flux and reflux of the lakes.

probable solution of the hyperious and reflux of the lakes.

North-West Expedition.—A telegram was received on Wednesday from the North-west expeditionary force, dated Old Wives' Creek, Aug. 12th, reporting that the force was then encamped there, about 480 miles from Dufferin. The horses were in very poor condition from insufficient pasture, bad water, and hard work, but the health of the men was very good. There had been a fight between some Blackfeet Indians and the buffalo hunters. The Indians had been instigated, so the hunters state that the Indians number 500, and that they had been strengthening their fort at Bow River all the spring.

The Inverhuron people have subscribed $850, and are going to sink the shaft formerly sunk still deeper with the hope of getting salt.

It was reported on good authority that copper ore has been found on a lot in Gooderham, near the Monk Road, and samples have been sent to Toronto for analysis.
