A READY ANSWER

Everyone is malicious enough to enjoy the discomfiture of a cross-examining lawyer by the witness he is badgering. The American Legion Weekly reports such a case.

"Tell the court exactly where you were on the twentieth day of said month at five-thirty in the afternoon," sharply demanded the lawyer of an opposing witness.

"I was on the corner of Second and Main Streets, asking a man a question," replied the witness.

"Ah-ha! But how do you know it was exactly five-thirty?"

"Ah-ha yourself!" said the witness. The question I was asking him was what time it was."

R.S.V.P.

Dr. Madison C. Peters, in one of his lectures, adverted to the manners and customs of that wealthy and proud section of the community that is grouped under the generic name of society. Too often society is struck a telling blow by such an answer as an elderly country squire once made to an inquisitive young man.

Here Dr. Peters turned to the blackboard behind him and scrawled upon it four immense letters—R. S. V. P. "A young man," he resumed, "asked the country squire what those letters meant at the foot of an invitation. The squire, with a little chuckle, answered: 'They mean Rush in, Shake Hands, Vidual up and Put.'"
