Melton Veal-Take one pound of any cold veal, chop it fine and season with one-half saltspoon of salt, one saltspoon of pepper and a teaspoonful lemon juice. Add two or three tableone-third as much finely-chopped ham as of veal, season with mustard and cavenne, add one tablespoonful of cracker crumbs and moisten wth hot stock or water. Butter a mold and line it with slices of hard-boiled egg. Put in the two mixtures irregularly, so that when cut it will have a mottled appearance; press in closely and steam three-quarters of an hour. Set away Remove from the mold and Rice Croquettes-One pint of cold boiled rice warmed in a double boiler with two or three tablespoonfuls of milk. When soft add one egg, well beaten. spoonful of salt, a little pepper and one heaping tablespoonful of fine chopped parsley. Shape, roll in fine dry crumbs, then in beaten eggs and again in crumbs, and fry in smoking-hot fat, the same as for fishballs.

Entire-Wheat Buns-Scald one large cupful of milk. Pour it hot over one-half cup of sugar and one-half teaspoonful salt. Add one-quarter cup of melted butter. When lukewarm add one-half cake compressed yeast disolved in a cup lukewarm water. Stir in about three cups and a half of en--wheat flour, adding a well-beaten egg and one-half cup dried currants. Let it rise until light. If too soft to handle, add a little white flour. Knead a few minutes, roll out, cut into bis-cuits, and let them rise again until very light. Bake about twenty biscuits.

Potato Puff-Prepare one pint of hot mashed potatoes seasoned with one-half teaspoon salt, one-quarter saltspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon celery salt, and butter size of walnut, making it quite moist with hot milk. Beat yolks and whites of two eggs separately, and stir them into the potatoes

Sago Cream-Cook one-half cup of sago in one pint of milk until clear, spoons of sugar. Beat the whites of three eggs, add to it the mixture, and ed here for over 60 years. cook two minutes. Flavor with lemor when a little cool, and fold in lightly one cup of whipped cream. Pour into mold and set on ice
