

A PAGE OF GENERAL INTEREST TO WOMEN READERS

Spend 25 Cents! Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out.

Try This! Hair Gets Beautiful, Wavy and Thick in Few Moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glimmers with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is lustrous and shiny, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourge robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and it not only produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots ramble, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourge robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and it not only produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots ramble, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

We sincerely believe, regardless of anything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff, no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Danderine. It eventually—why not now?

Many Are Sad.

Dear Miss Grey—May I peep into your Mail-Box once again? Poor "Aunt Nannie" is just feeling what so many more of our true heroes are. I think it is just terrible for our soldiers who have fought our cause to come home and be used as they are. I do not think there are many homes but what there is a soul gone to their last rest, but we must grieve for those who are being sacrificed each day for the same cause.

I see where someone asked for to-bee coupons and as I have been sending the same, hoping they will help some one.

If the one that is troubled with hives will try this, I know she will get relief. My little boy used to be bothered so much each summer, but has not had it since.

For my "best" trade I know I am safe in recommending Century Salt. Its superior cleanliness, and its gleaming whiteness—all proclaim purity far beyond the ordinary. Let us send you a bag.

Century Salt

"The Salt of the Century" is made by vacuum processes of proven superiority. For Table, Dairy and Farm use—always ask for Century Salt.

DOMINION SALT CO. Limited, Sarnia

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

"Grandma's" Request.

Dear Miss Grey—Would you please reprint the blood-purifying remedy again for my benefit? I saved the clipping, but now I want it. It can't be found. Some of the ingredients were sassafras, burdock, Turkish rhubarb. I am sorry to trouble you, but will try and send a little help if you can make out this dreadful writing.

FIVE YEARS A GRANDMA. Ans.—Dear "Grandma," it would be absolutely no trouble to print the formula—but I cannot find it either. Please, oh please, won't someone having the clipping, send it in to "Grandma"? Your nice recipes are appreciated.

A Wasp Waist.

Dear Miss Grey—As I am not very big I am coming to you for help. I am only 13½ inches around the waist, and 20 years old, weigh 101 pounds. Can any of the Cynthia's help that?

1. What do you think of my writing? 2. What is the Irish picnic at Port Stanley? 3. Has "Twenty-One" left London yet. Will close for now.

JACK-OF-ALL-TRADES. Ans.—I am just average. 2. August 16. 3. Yes, has been in Camp Borden for some weeks now.

He'd Better Run.

Dear Miss Grey—My heart goes out to all those with dear ones at the front. My only brother is over there, besides a cousin and many friends. I think I wonder what he thinks of Camp Borden. It just makes me boil when I think of sending our boys up there, if all reports of the place are true. They are sent up there for a few weeks, but they should not have them in good old Canada. A lot of our boys are home on the harvest furlough now, and I think they are glad of it, too.

I can feel for the girl that said she tired of the boys after going with them for a while. I am just like that. After going with a fellow for a few weeks I begin to wonder what I can do so I won't have to go with him again, even with boys that I think at times are just lovely. Do you think I can help it, or is it just silliness?

I am, AFTER TWENTY-ONE. Look out, T. O. I'm some runner—short and fat.

Ans.—Answering your query (unprinted), I'd advise you to write the secretary of the Woman's Emergency Corps, London, in regard to the position you wish to fill. Do not see there is any other way of getting what you want except by personal application. Stenography would not be demanded, but rapidly at figures, computing interest, etc., would be a necessary qualification. I think.

Several correspondents write me from there. 3. It's not very good. If you used it, it would have a better appearance.

Many Are Sad.

Dear Miss Grey—May I peep into your Mail-Box once again? Poor "Aunt Nannie" is just feeling what so many more of our true heroes are. I think it is just terrible for our soldiers who have fought our cause to come home and be used as they are. I do not think there are many homes but what there is a soul gone to their last rest, but we must grieve for those who are being sacrificed each day for the same cause.

I see where someone asked for to-bee coupons and as I have been sending the same, hoping they will help some one.

If the one that is troubled with hives will try this, I know she will get relief. My little boy used to be bothered so much each summer, but has not had it since.

For my "best" trade I know I am safe in recommending Century Salt. Its superior cleanliness, and its gleaming whiteness—all proclaim purity far beyond the ordinary. Let us send you a bag.

Century Salt

"The Salt of the Century" is made by vacuum processes of proven superiority. For Table, Dairy and Farm use—always ask for Century Salt.

DOMINION SALT CO. Limited, Sarnia

For my "best" trade I know I am safe in recommending Century Salt. Its superior cleanliness, and its gleaming whiteness—all proclaim purity far beyond the ordinary. Let us send you a bag.

Century Salt

"The Salt of the Century" is made by vacuum processes of proven superiority. For Table, Dairy and Farm use—always ask for Century Salt.

DOMINION SALT CO. Limited, Sarnia

ADVERTISER PATTERNS

Waist, 1700. Skirt, 1699.

This model is evolved from taffeta in a delightful new shade. It is composed of Ladies' Waist Pattern 1700 and Ladies' Skirt Pattern 1699. The waist could be of crepe, linen or batiste, and the skirt of serge, wool, poplin or gabardine. The entire costume would develop nicely in linen or singham. The waist has a square yoke over the back that joins the full portions of the fronts at the closing. The skirt has yoke portions, and plaits at the sides.

The pattern is cut in six sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. The waist pattern is cut in six sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. The entire dress requires 7½ yards of 44-inch material for a medium size. The skirt measures about 3-8 yards at the foot.

This illustration is for two separate patterns, which will be mailed to you on receipt of 10 cents for each pattern in silver or stamps.

ADVERTISER PATTERN DEPT. Please send above-mentioned pattern, as per directions given below, to:

Name Town Province Age (if child's or misses' pattern) Measurement: Bust Waist

Caution: Be careful to inclose the above illustration and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is sent measure you need only mark 22, 24 or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 26 or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. If a dress, give waist, length, bust and skirt measure. Write your name, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "feet" or "pounds." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from date of application.

Hoping I have hurt no one's feelings, and best wishes to your Mail-Box.

Ans.—Every one's opinion is welcome, and I'm glad you brought yours along and didn't stay outside the Mail-Box any longer. You write very legibly.

Going To Goderich. Dear Miss Grey—Once again I must ask for your kind assistance. I want to take a trip to Goderich, and I need a good place to stop at, so I can save myself the trouble of hunting around when I arrive. Preferably, I would like to stop at a private boarding-house, so perhaps some of your Goderich readers will oblige. It is the nearest lake resort on the map that I can find, and I love the lakeside. Perhaps you think this is rather a tall order, but I have done 100 miles a day very often in the old country, and I intend taking the ride in spite of it. Thanking you for past favors, I will close myself.

Ans.—Goderich readers are privileged to reply to this gentleman's request, and any information received I shall forward to him at once.

Wants "Sarah's" Address. Dear Miss Grey—I see where one signing herself "Sarah" has asked to exchange for "the Ontario" and I have plenty of dress goods pieces (wool) and quite a few silk pieces (the silk ones are small). I would be glad to exchange for the flags; pieces are all good. How valued are they? I must have been Monday, when it turned cooler. As B4.

Ans.—"Sarah" didn't send her address, but as soon as she does, I shall forward it. Yes, the slump in the accuracy has made life seem worth living again!

Found the Formula. I have located a formula which is the one requested by (I think) "Five Years a Grandma," and which I told her the other day I had lost: Two ounces dandelion, two ounces of sassafras, two ounces of Turkish rhubarb, one ounce mandrake, two ounces burdock. Boil this in two quarts of water, and take two teaspoonfuls before each meal. This was sent in by a reader some time ago, and recommended very highly.

In Canning Time. Dear Miss Grey—As I saw in your corner that "Unexpected Visitor" had some surplus orange wrappers to spare, I would like to get some four dozen. I will address and stamp an envelope to you. I am sorry I have no cracker-jack coupons or I would gladly exchange, but perhaps I could help her some time again.

I will try and help a little now. I will give you a recipe for crabapple catsup. I have made it for three or four years, and we like it as well as tomato catsup. I can also give some good tomato relishes if you wish for them, tried and good.

Now for one question. Can you give me a good way to can peas and corn?

Ans.—I have never canned peas and corn, but I can give you a recipe for tomato catsup. I have made it for three or four years, and we like it as well as tomato catsup. I can also give some good tomato relishes if you wish for them, tried and good.

Now for one question. Can you give me a good way to can peas and corn?

Ans.—I have never canned peas and corn, but I can give you a recipe for tomato catsup. I have made it for three or four years, and we like it as well as tomato catsup. I can also give some good tomato relishes if you wish for them, tried and good.

Now for one question. Can you give me a good way to can peas and corn?

Ans.—I have never canned peas and corn, but I can give you a recipe for tomato catsup. I have made it for three or four years, and we like it as well as tomato catsup. I can also give some good tomato relishes if you wish for them, tried and good.

Daily Bible Question Club

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D. (All Rights Reserved.)

The six daily studies for this week constitute the International S. S. Lesson for next Sunday. Read the Bible Story on which this study is based, as you ponder the following questions:

"The Riot at Ephesus," Acts, xix, 23-41. Golden Text—"The Love of Money is a Root of All Kinds of Evils." 1. Tim., vi, 10.

2. Verses 23-27. If the spread of Christianity bursts a class of business men, should we compensate the losers? Why?

3. If Demetrius had become a Christian, would it have been in his business interest in the long run?

4. May a man be true and honorable who protests, for business reasons, against the application of Christian principles to the community? Give your reasons. (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

and oblige. Wishing the page all the success that's going, I will sign myself, A. PRETTY CANARY.

Ans.—"Unexpected Visitor," please send a stamp for "the Ontario" envelope. This will be better than sending the wrappers to me.

That catsup recipe is a fine one! Your tomato relishes would be most welcome, too, with tomato time approaching.

Here are two methods for canning corn, both sent in by readers of our page: Cut corn from cob, pour enough boiling water to nearly cover, add salt enough to make it too salty to eat. Boil ten minutes. Put in jars, making sure there is water above the corn in the jars. Wipe jars, and pour water over. Add hot water for a few minutes, pour this off, and corn is ready to use. Corn put up in this way has never been known to spoil.

The second one is: Have canned mine this way and never lost a jar: Fifteen cups corn cut off cob, one cup granulated sugar, one cup salt, one cup water. Mix sugar and salt in a quart jar. Fill jars full of cold water, screw on lids loosely; place on wooden rack in boiler, with water well up on jars. Keep water boiling for two hours (filling in more as it evaporates; let cool and screw down tops as soon as possible.

Her First Visit. Dear Miss Grey—This is my first visit to the Mail-Box. I am not coming for any help, but will try and give some. I read in The Advertiser where someone was asking for a cure for diarrhoea in young chicks. We have over two hundred young chicks, and have been very successful by using Pratt's white diarrhoea remedy.

I will sign myself, A. E. L. Ans.—Referred to "Sall Ford." Thanks for helping, and may we oblige in return some time.

Daughters of the Empire

A LETTER FROM THE 70TH. To Our London Friends, I. O. D. E. Shorncliffe Camp, July 1, 1915.

Dear Friends: It has been long to me to write to you. We have often spoken of the last night we spent in London with you. I hold forth every day, and you are always mentioned in the tent where we sweep out every day. All paper and rubbish is gathered up every day; the dump carts come for the refuse of the kitchen and the closets every day. There is a place to burn old cloth, and we sweep out every day. All paper and rubbish is gathered up every day; the dump carts come for the refuse of the kitchen and the closets every day.

This whole country for nearly ten miles around is covered with huts and tents. I have seen as many as 1,000 bandmen paraded together as massed bands. From ten to twelve thousand troops every Sunday go to church, or at least to an open air service. There will be as many as from 20 to 30 bands, and we have the church service to play

Three weeks ago Sunday they gave us a hike out near Dover to an estate of Lord Kitchener's. It seemed to me it was all up hill, but every time we would come to a place of straight road we would play a march. Last Sunday our little Pumpkin Centre Band got a pass and spent Saturday night and Sunday in the city. I took the park in the afternoon, where the Royal Grenadiers played a concert from three until six o'clock, and I think our Canadian massed band will give them something to listen to.

As I was going to the city of Folkestone yesterday evening I met our company getting back from the music school, singing the old song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning." They also have a new song something like this:

"What's the use of worrying. It is not worth while; Pack all your troubles in your old kit bag. And smile, boys, smile. What's the use of worrying. For it's better to be alive. Pack all your troubles in your old kit bag. And smile, boys, smile."

We have just finished practice, and witnessed quite a sight. There was a sham battle going on about a mile from us, and it is some battle ground. The heavy artillery was on the hill, with the machine guns in the draft and about 1,000 boys in khaki on the flats. They kept advancing in skirmish lines. First thing we knew we went a mine. We could see the earth thrown up and a great smoke. They advanced with fixed bayonets, and it looked as if one line was throwing gas bombs; the smoke seemed to follow close to the ground; then the charge up the hill and rifle firing, also the machine guns were blazing away in good shape, and the big guns still throwing shells. It was quite a sight.

There was war going on the best part of the night from the report of big guns, and in the evening we saw aircraft, and later we saw them using the searchlights. It was quite a sight. We could hear aircraft, but could not see them for the clouds. The evening bulletins down town gave an account of a whole army laying down and being taken prisoners by the French and British. And the poor Germans say they had nothing to eat for four days, and had to surrender or be killed. They told of a big German general being killed, and the troops refused to go to his funeral. There was another big lot of troops left during the night, and this morning we did not have a commissioned officer to attend the morning parades, so the sergeant-major filled the duties. After sending up two or three times for the acting adjutant, there was quite a bunch of soldiers marched into our lines with packed saddles and fixed bayonets. I expect likely the adjutant had to receive them, so that he could not come down the same as usual. I understand the massed troops world in regard to the twilight, but I have seen the boys come in from a hard day's hike or target practice, and after supper go out and play baseball, cricket or football until about ten o'clock. This evening there are not very many left, but I see the sergeant-major and a bunch of the boys throwing a set of ship quoits, more like the way of bomb-throwing, and I am writing sitting on the trunk of the tent at a quarter to ten o'clock. Then we have all kinds of pets, including a pet lamb. I think that it belongs in the officers' row, but rambles all over the camp wherever it can get a nip of the green grass on the camp trenches. This is about the only place a little grass can grow, as the ground is all worn over, and is swept every day the same as we sweep out every day. All paper and rubbish is gathered up every day; the dump carts come for the refuse of the kitchen and the closets every day.

This whole country for nearly ten miles around is covered with huts and tents. I have seen as many as 1,000 bandmen paraded together as massed bands. From ten to twelve thousand troops every Sunday go to church, or at least to an open air service. There will be as many as from 20 to 30 bands, and we have the church service to play

Three weeks ago Sunday they gave us a hike out near Dover to an estate of Lord Kitchener's. It seemed to me it was all up hill, but every time we would come to a place of straight road we would play a march. Last Sunday our little Pumpkin Centre Band got a pass and spent Saturday night and Sunday in the city. I took the park in the afternoon, where the Royal Grenadiers played a concert from three until six o'clock, and I think our Canadian massed band will give them something to listen to.

BIG BARGAINS FOR

A WEDNESDAY MORNING CLEAN-UP

CHILDREN'S WEAR

GIRLS' DRESSES 39c

22 Colored Print Dresses, heavy quality in brown and white, blue and white stripes; yokes trimmed with blue; pleated skirts; sizes 8, 10 and 12 years. Regular $1.00 values, on sale Wednesday morning at 39c

Children's Lawn & Duck Dresses Regular $1.50 and $2.25 For 75c

20 Lawn and Duck Dresses; all white and color trimmed in odd lines, but good styles; sizes ranging from 2 to 12 years; Regular $1.50 and $2.25 values to clear Wednesday morning at 75c

Children's Lawn Dresses Worth $1.00 For 50c

8 only Lawn Dresses; embroidery trimmed; in sizes 2, 4 and 6. Regular $1.00 Wednesday morning price 50c

SPECIAL SALE OF LADIES' HOSE Ladies' fine colored silk-ankle hose (seconds) in pink, sky, champagne, taupe, battle-ship and silver grey. Regular 50c a pair, on sale Wednesday morning for 29c

Children's Cream Lustre Coats Worth $2.25 to $2.75 For $1.75 These coats in sizes 2, 3 and 4 years; lined throughout, and nicely trimmed with silk braid. On sale Wednesday morning.

Children's Light Colored Middies, Regular 50c For 35c These are smart little middies in neat blue stripes, open and navy on a mixed ground of white and blue, with one pocket and laced front. On sale Wednesday morning at, 35c

A Big Silk Bargain For Wednesday Morning Odd and broken lines of plain and fancy silks, including corded Japanese wash silks, fine brocades and colored raw silks, in lengths from 1 to 15 yards; 32 to 36 inches wide; worth 75c to $1.25 per yard. On sale Wednesday morning for 49c

ON DISPLAY IN WINDOW.

GRAY'S LIMITED. AGENTS FOR THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL. PHONES 115-116. 140 DUNDAS STREET. GRAY'S LIMITED.

Daughters of the Empire

A LETTER FROM THE 70TH. To Our London Friends, I. O. D. E. Shorncliffe Camp, July 1, 1915.

Dear Friends: It has been long to me to write to you. We have often spoken of the last night we spent in London with you. I hold forth every day, and you are always mentioned in the tent where we sweep out every day. All paper and rubbish is gathered up every day; the dump carts come for the refuse of the kitchen and the closets every day.

This whole country for nearly ten miles around is covered with huts and tents. I have seen as many as 1,000 bandmen paraded together as massed bands. From ten to twelve thousand troops every Sunday go to church, or at least to an open air service. There will be as many as from 20 to 30 bands, and we have the church service to play

Three weeks ago Sunday they gave us a hike out near Dover to an estate of Lord Kitchener's. It seemed to me it was all up hill, but every time we would come to a place of straight road we would play a march. Last Sunday our little Pumpkin Centre Band got a pass and spent Saturday night and Sunday in the city. I took the park in the afternoon, where the Royal Grenadiers played a concert from three until six o'clock, and I think our Canadian massed band will give them something to listen to.

As I was going to the city of Folkestone yesterday evening I met our company getting back from the music school, singing the old song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning." They also have a new song something like this:

"What's the use of worrying. It is not worth while; Pack all your troubles in your old kit bag. And smile, boys, smile. What's the use of worrying. For it's better to be alive. Pack all your troubles in your old kit bag. And smile, boys, smile."

We have just finished practice, and witnessed quite a sight. There was a sham battle going on about a mile from us, and it is some battle ground. The heavy artillery was on the hill, with the machine guns in the draft and about 1,000 boys in khaki on the flats. They kept advancing in skirmish lines. First thing we knew we went a mine. We could see the earth thrown up and a great smoke. They advanced with fixed bayonets, and it looked as if one line was throwing gas bombs; the smoke seemed to follow close to the ground; then the charge up the hill and rifle firing, also the machine guns were blazing away in good shape, and the big guns still throwing shells. It was quite a sight.

There was war going on the best part of the night from the report of big guns, and in the evening we saw aircraft, and later we saw them using the searchlights. It was quite a sight. We could hear aircraft, but could not see them for the clouds. The evening bulletins down town gave an account of a whole army laying down and being taken prisoners by the French and British. And the poor Germans say they had nothing to eat for four days, and had to surrender or be killed. They told of a big German general being killed, and the troops refused to go to his funeral. There was another big lot of troops left during the night, and this morning we did not have a commissioned officer to attend the morning parades, so the sergeant-major filled the duties. After sending up two or three times for the acting adjutant, there was quite a bunch of soldiers marched into our lines with packed saddles and fixed bayonets. I expect likely the adjutant had to receive them, so that he could not come down the same as usual. I understand the massed troops world in regard to the twilight, but I have seen the boys come in from a hard day's hike or target practice, and after supper go out and play baseball, cricket or football until about ten o'clock. This evening there are not very many left, but I see the sergeant-major and a bunch of the boys throwing a set of ship quoits, more like the way of bomb-throwing, and I am writing sitting on the trunk of the tent at a quarter to ten o'clock. Then we have all kinds of pets, including a pet lamb. I think that it belongs in the officers' row, but rambles all over the camp wherever it can get a nip of the green grass on the camp trenches. This is about the only place a little grass can grow, as the ground is all worn over, and is swept every day the same as we sweep out every day. All paper and rubbish is gathered up every day; the dump carts come for the refuse of the kitchen and the closets every day.

This whole country for nearly ten miles around is covered with huts and tents. I have seen as many as 1,000 bandmen paraded together as massed bands. From ten to twelve thousand troops every Sunday go to church, or at least to an open air service. There will be as many as from 20 to 30 bands, and we have the church service to play

Three weeks ago Sunday they gave us a hike out near Dover to an estate of Lord Kitchener's. It seemed to me it was all up hill, but every time we would come to a place of straight road we would play a march. Last Sunday our little Pumpkin Centre Band got a pass and spent Saturday night and Sunday in the city. I took the park in the afternoon, where the Royal Grenadiers played a concert from three until six o'clock, and I think our Canadian massed band will give them something to listen to.