LOCAL AND SPECIAL

Dr. H. S. Burns, of Clementsport, registered at the St. James on Monday. He is looking over the ground with the idea of locating here.

Charles W. Parker this week handed the Monitor half a dozen delicious peaches of his own growth. They were fully matured even at this early date.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Chute returned from their trip on Saturday and will be at home to their friends at Jarvis Chute's on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 25th and 26th.

J. I. Foster leaves on Friday of this week to attend the Dominion Rifle Association to be held at Ottawa next week. His comrades here wish him much success.

The clergy of the Rural Denominical Association are in session this week at Weymouth. Routine business and special services form the program. Rev. E. Underwood preaches in St. Thomas church this evening.

It is rumored that one of our prominent merchants has a strong desire to take an automobile ride just when he feels like it, and a fine little machine in this county may change hands in the near future.

Captain Lewis, of the excursion steamer George E. claims that he is personally not to blame because the Bridgetown hotel keepers were not notified of the excursion party which he brought up from Digby about two weeks ago. He had requested another party to telephone Bridgetown, but the latter neglected to do so. Hence the captain's mistake. This naturally clears the captain of blame as he supposed the message had been received here alright. It does not, however, clear the Courier, which certainly should have had the common decency to have made enquiries and got the truth of the matter before publishing such a statement that the excursionists could not get dinner here, and advising them in the future to take lunches with them.

Great interest is being manifested in the coming engagement at the Opera House of Miles Bros. Moving Pictures, featuring the San Francisco disaster. These pictures are genuine and should be seen by everyone who has either read or heard of the great disaster that befell the chief metropolis of the golden west. Over 5,000 feet of moving picture film will unfold the story as seen by the unerring eye of the camera in the hands of experienced operators who missed no detail of the cataclysm. One of the pictures that should prove of special interest is the exodus from the shattered city—how the multitudes, or as many as could gain transportation, crossed the bay, and sought refuge in the country and smaller cities. Thousands of people, laden with what few goods and chattels they had saved, are seen streaming away from the home that once was theirs. The picture looks like the retreat of a routed army from some disastrous battlefield, carrying the camp equipment, the remnants of the colors, and the wounded warriors. Leonard J. Mack, an eye witness of the disaster and a former member of a theatrical company permanently located in San Francisco, gives a descriptive lecture which greatly enhances the value of the entertainment. In addition to these pictures an excellent program of comedy and sensational pictures is offered and Myer Cohen, who is directing the tour of the provinces, says that it is the best picture show that has ever been brought to this town. The engagement is for two nights, Friday and Saturday, August 24 and 25. Reserved seats at Beckwith's.

HYMENEAU

CHUTE-CROPLEY.

A very interesting event took place last Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cropley, when their daughter Ethel B. Cropley was united in marriage to Archie Chute, of Bridgetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. E. Daley in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The bride was handsomely gowned in white with bridal veil and orange blossoms and was attended by her sister, who also looked very pretty. The groom was supported by his brother. The presents from the members of the families and friends were many and useful, and bore testimony to the high esteem in which the young couple were held. At the conclusion of the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served. After receiving the congratulations of their friends the newly wedded couple started on a trip by carriage through the Valley. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Chute will reside in Bridgetown, where they are so well known and highly esteemed.

MCGILL-WHEATMAN.

A very interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Wheatman, of Ingleville, on Wednesday, last, when their daughter, Lillian May, was united in marriage to Elmer McGill, of Dalhousie. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. W. Brown. To the strains of Lechong's Wedding March, played by Mrs. (Dr.) W. M. Parker, of East Medford, Mass., the bride entered the lawn leading on the arm of her father, and preceded by her bridesmaid, Miss O. B. Best, took her place under an arch. She was beautifully attired in white organdy trimmed with white satin ribbon and embroidered chiffon. She carried a bouquet of white water lilies. The bridegroom's dress was of white muslin trimmed with white silk ribbon. The groom was supported by Robie McGill, a cousin of the groom. After the young couple received hearty congratulations of their friends a luncheon was served. The presents were numerous and useful. Among the wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wiles, of Liverpool, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhodes of New Hampshire. The bride's going away gown was of blue cloth with hat to match.

COVERT-GENSER.

One of those interesting events that so much phases everybody—a pretty home wedding—was solemnized on Wednesday evening, the 15th inst., when Lottie E. Gensler, of Belleisle, was joined in holy wedlock to Frederick E. Covert, of the Boston Electric Light Corporation, the Rev. W. H. Langille officiating. Precisely at the hour, 7:30, the bride-elect on the arm of her father, entered the parlor, preceded by the groom and groomsmen. The room had been most tastefully decorated. They stood beneath an arch of green and white decoration of potted plants in white silk, all over lace, with veil and carried an elegant bouquet of stormy petrel. She was indeed a "pretty bride." She was attended by her cousin, Miss Louise Roon, who was attired most charmingly in white dotted muslin and carried "sweet peas." The groom was attended by his brother, Kenneth Covert, of Boston. The groom's present to the bride was a gold watch and chain. Miss Jessie Nelly presided at the organ and played the wedding march. The bride is a young lady who is beloved and esteemed by every one who has the pleasure of her acquaintance. She will take to her new home the sincere wishes of a host of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Covert will reside at Somerville, Mass. She was the recipient of a large number of very beautiful presents. Your correspondent joins with their many friends in wishing them a long and happy life.
